QUEST

nineteen hundred and

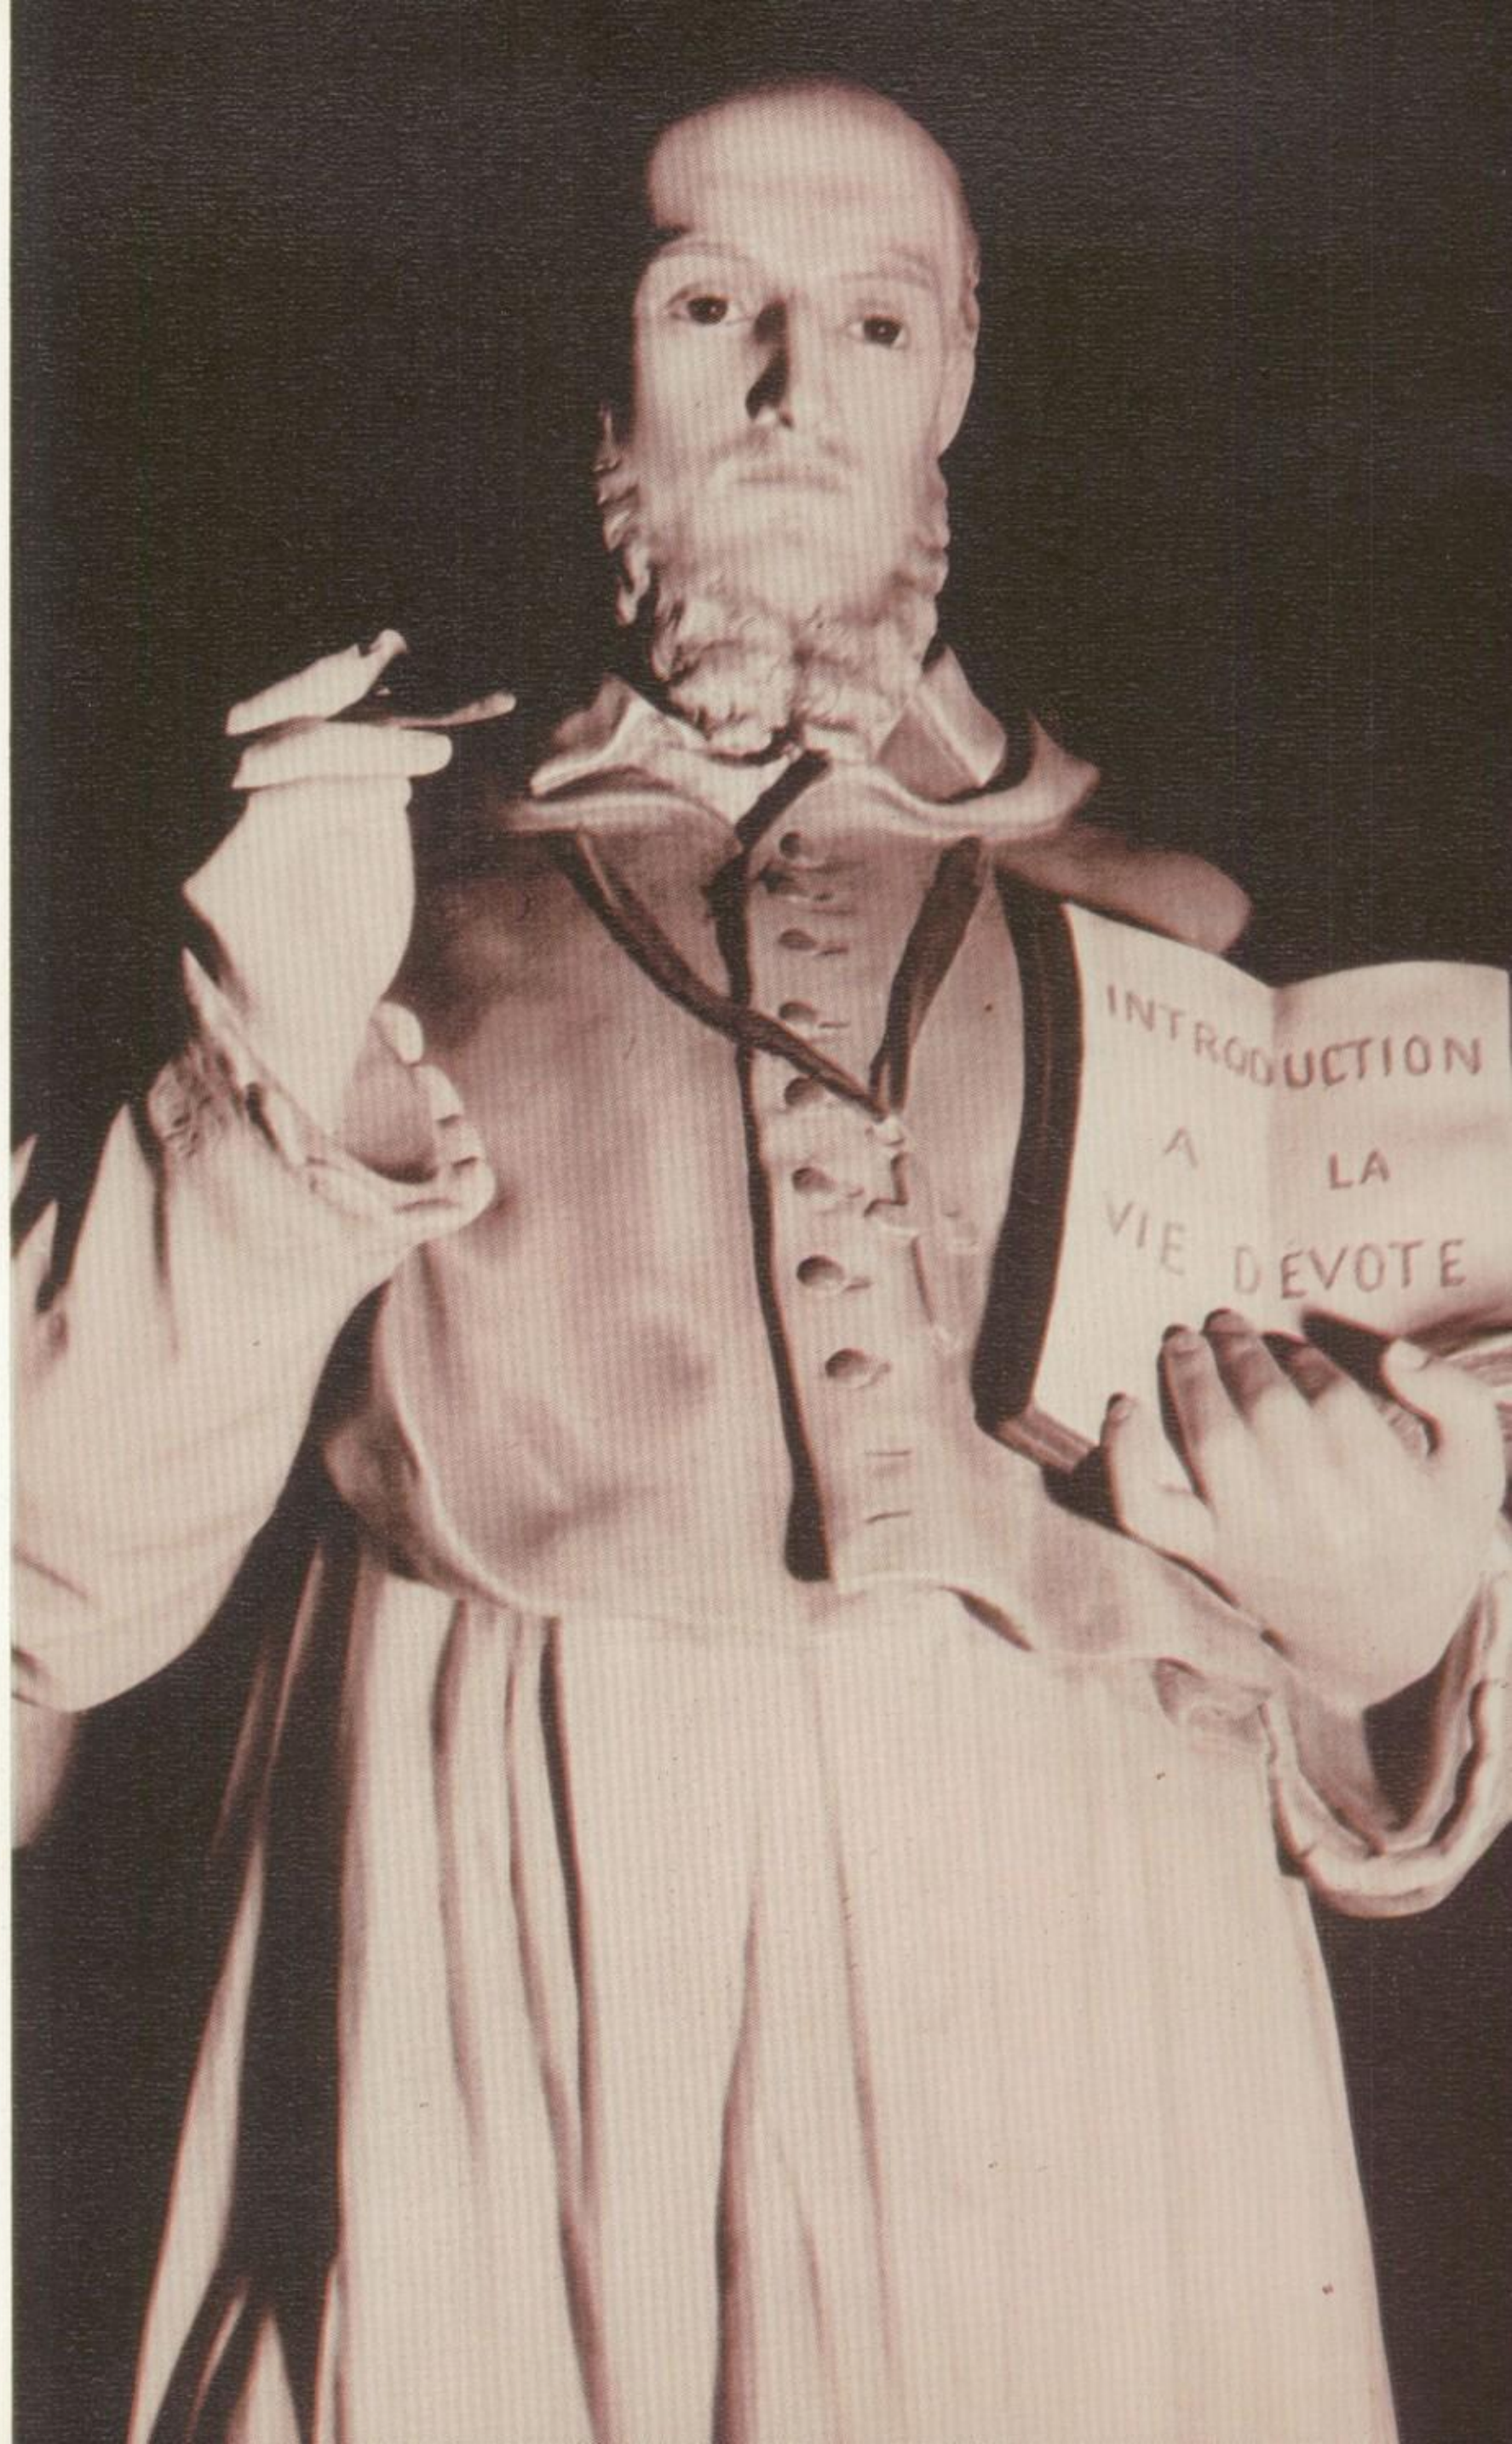

... we prepare for tomorrow's

During the Middle Ages, a perilous journey to the Holy Land was undertaken by a courageous group of Christian Crusaders. This dauntless endeavor sought to stamp out religious oppression. With a burning desire instilled within their fervent hearts, they initiated their quest.

As known from history, the Crusades were an ideal never fully realized. Today, however, we, the Modern Crusaders, attempt to fulfill our school motto, "He shall not falter" in our dutiful quest. During our formative years of learning, we have embarked on a similar journey, our personal Crusade to attain our goal in life as ideal Christian men in the eyes of God.

Our coveted goal is the attainment of virtue, wisdom, courage . . . Christian Manhood. It is the fulfillment of Man's duty in life. Our years here serve as stepping stones toward this ideal. With the benign guidance of our Oblate Fathers, we grow in spiritual maturity and intellectual knowledge. In this way, we can then confidently meet what lies ahead.

As men of Christ, we shall conquer the foes of Christianity not with harshness and punitive action, but rather with kindness and good example. A gentlemanly act and a confident world shall be our keynote. This crusading adventure toward Christian manhood is seen pictorially in the achievements of the modern crusader in this, our yearbook—The Quest of 1961.

QUEST

As Freshmen, we set our course upon the paths of learning. As Sophomores, we accumulated experience to deal with our many tribulations. As Juniors, we grew in wisdom and were soon ready to enter the realm of personal accomplishment. Finally, as Seniors, we have completed an integral part of our state in life as students.

As 8:30 approaches, a group of sleepy-eyed travelers trudge wearily toward the portals of this scholastic institution. With a quickened pace they walk the crowded corridors in search of their various classes. In these interesting classes, the characters of Christian men are molded by the guiding hand of the friendly Oblates.

During the day, our faults are amiably corrected by our disciplinary office. A friendly conversation during lunch and a game of basketball during gym diversify the activities of a sometimes laborious day. A visit to the school chapel and attendance at Mass add a touch of solemnity to our daily program.

At day's end, a group of cheerful bright-eyed students depart from school, hurrying to the waiting buses that take them to their homes and families in Mayfair, Bridesburg, Holmesburg, Tacony, and surrounding areas. Another day of learning has been etched upon "life's diary" for the boys of Father Judge.

LADY

Guided by the hands of Mary, we of Father Judge earnestly aspire to that which is our end, our Quest.

We are enrolled under the protection of Mary, who helped crush the head and power of Satan by bringing our Saviour into the world; we attempt to pay for this blessed protection with the only gift we possess which is worthy enough to give her . . . ourselves.

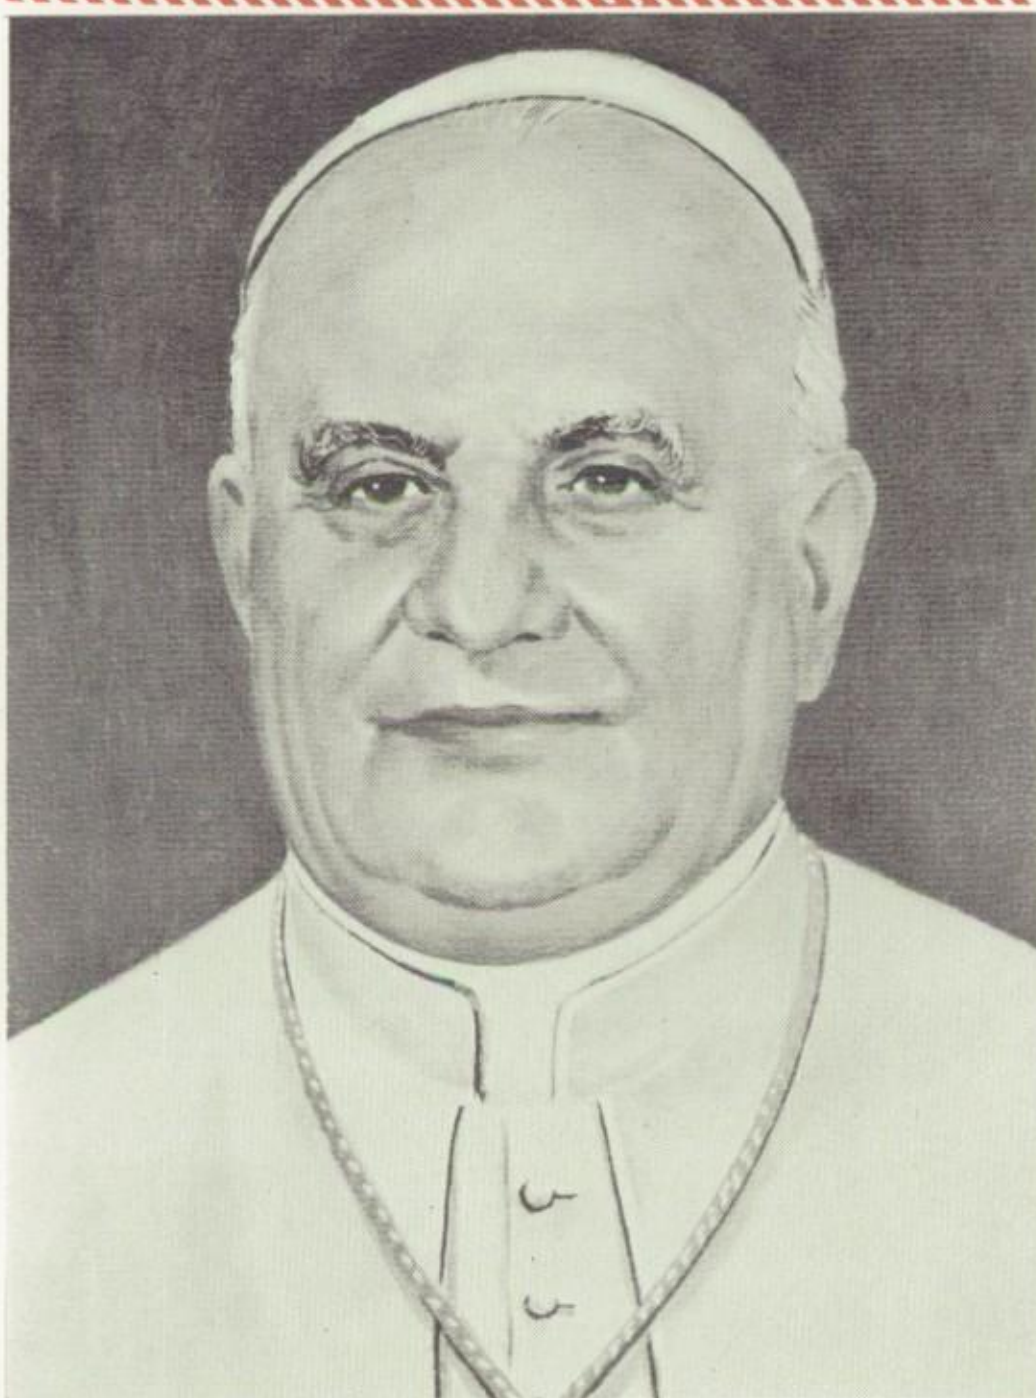

Our school, classes, and activities have been dedicated to her, so that they may be sanctified, and having been sanctified, may aid us in our search for Christian Manhood.

We humbly ask our Mother to aid us in our attempt to consummate our Quest; we know that with her aid we "shall not falter."

under religious leadership

His Holiness, Pope John XXIII, is the present, earthly shepherd of Christ's flock. Fulfilling Christ's command to "Feed my lambs . . . "Feed my sheep" is difficult, even for this saintly and brilliant man. All the forces of evil are arrayed against Holy Mother Church since they realize that she is their most powerful adversary. Primarily he must look after the spiritual welfare of the faithful and the hierarchy. Elimination of Communism, relief of the world's poverty, removal of race prejudices from the hearts of men, and conversion of millions of souls are several of the moral, economic, and social problems with which Pope John is faced.

We are honored to have received this Holy Father's Apostolic Blessing on our school this past year, through the kindness of our beloved former principal, Father O'Connell; in gratefulness we offer special prayers for God's loving guidance of our Supreme Pontiff.

News was made in Philadelphia on February 15, 1961, when Bishop John J. Krol of Cleveland was named the Archbishop of Philadelphia by Pope John XXIII. A comparative stranger to this area, Bishop Krol succeeds the late John Cardinal O'Hara, the beloved former prelate of the Archdiocese.

Bishop Krol was born and educated in Cleveland, where he was ordained on February 20, 1937. Consecrated a bishop in 1953, Bishop Krol becomes the tenth shepherd of the archdiocese.

Philadelphia's new religious leader is the only American bishop serving on the Preparatory Committee of Bishops and Diocesan Governments that is engaged in working for the proposed ecumenical council. He is intensely interested in Philadelphia's excellent parochial school system and has been involved in similar work in Cleveland.

Bishop Krol is reputed to be a man of great energy, but of relaxed and pleasant temperament. The motto of his coat of arms expresses his outlook: "God Is My King." We look forward to welcoming him to our midst.

pointing the way toward . . . TRUTH

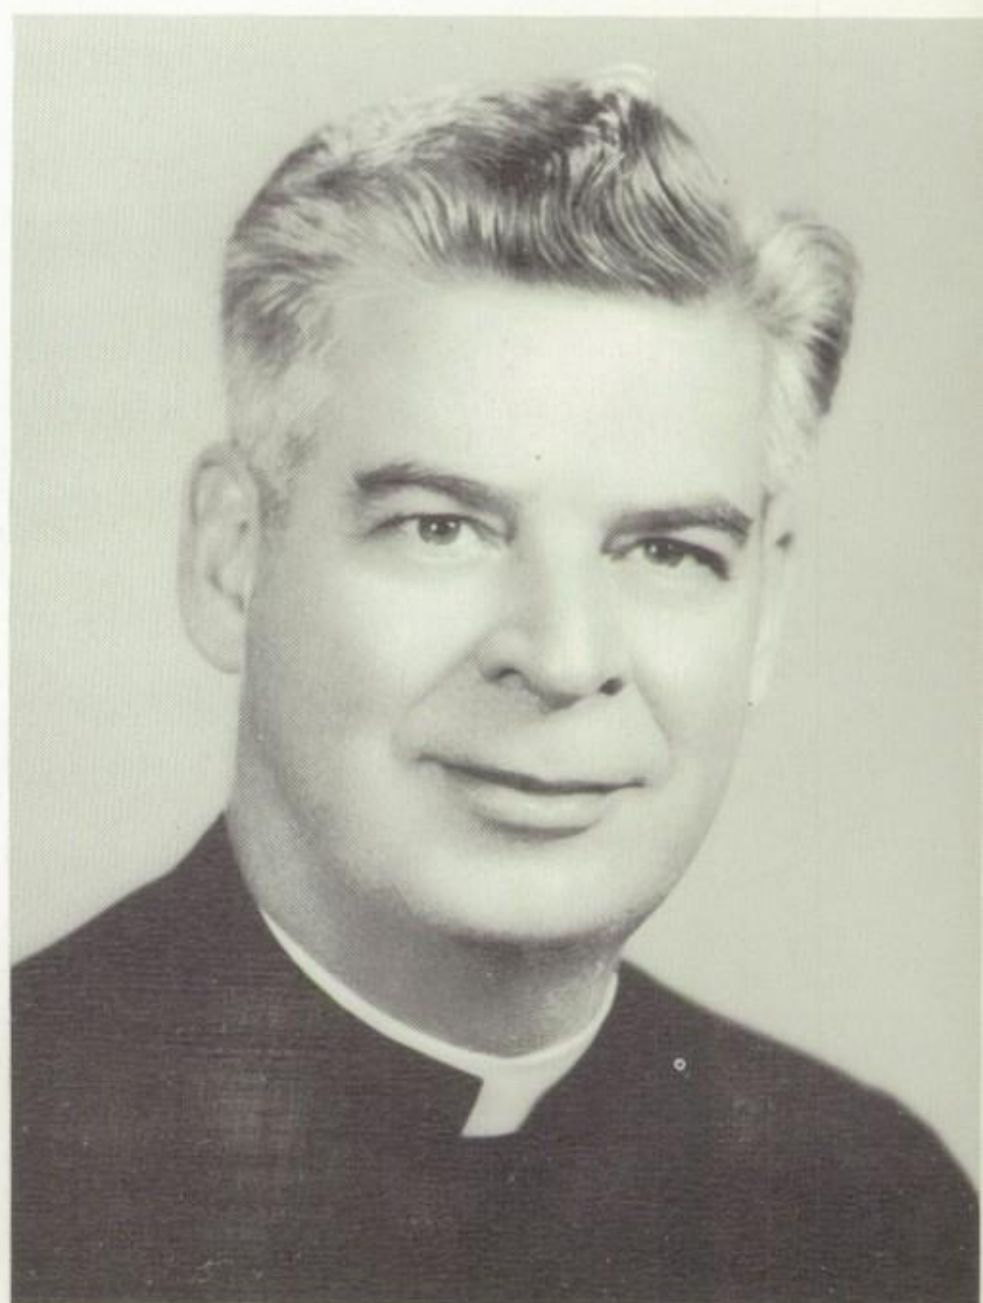

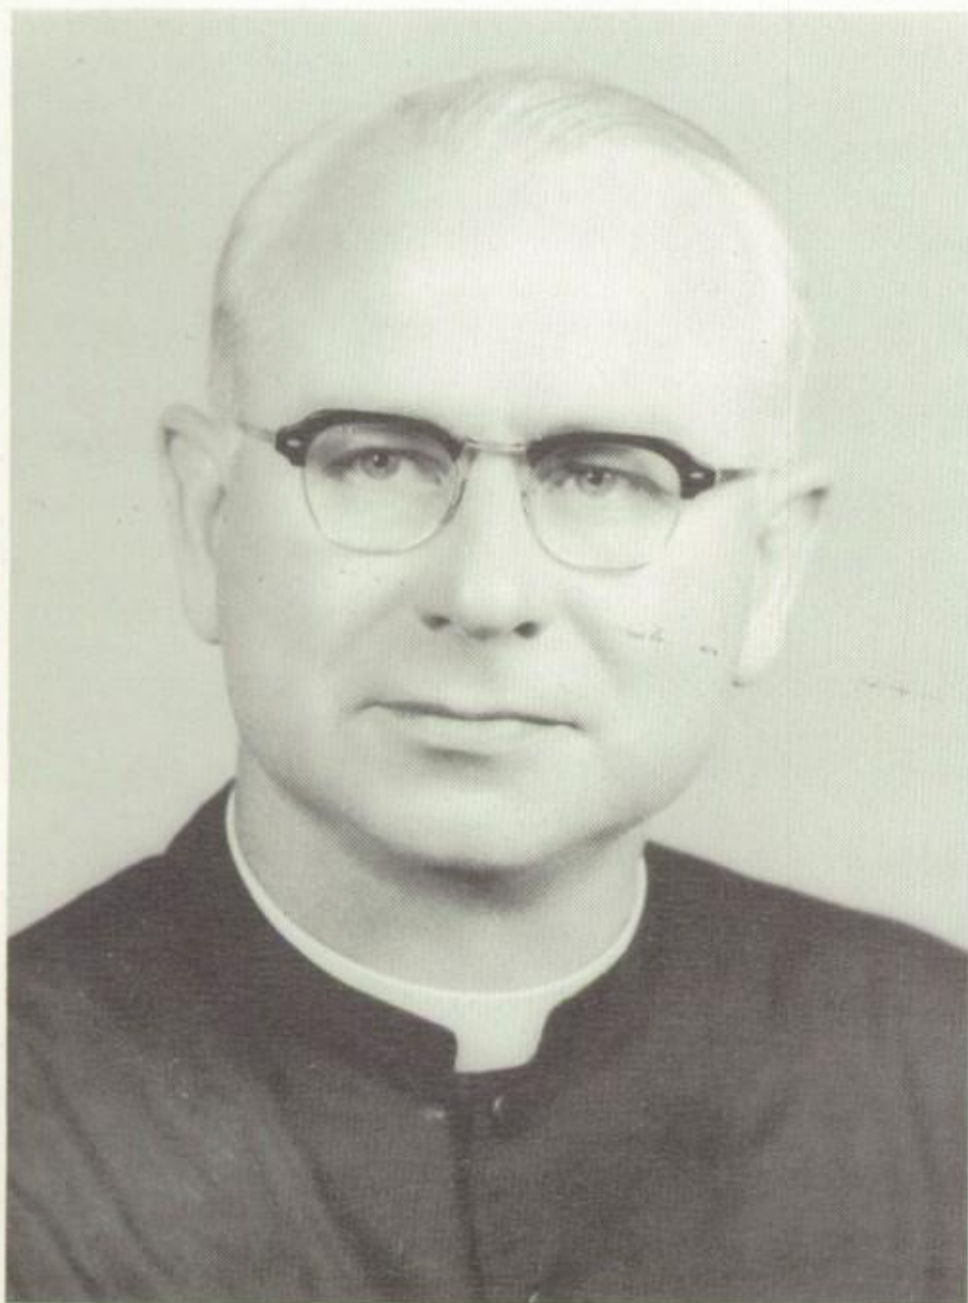

CATHOLIC PHILOSOPHY . . . Education of the whole man. Under the direction of The Right Reverend Monsignor Edward M. Reilly, J.C.D., our Superintendent of Schools, the archdiocesan educational system has flourished. The Monsignor's gift for organization and his ceaseless devotion to his work are evidenced by the high calibre of our schools.

GUIDED BY PRUDENCE and pressured by his great zeal for Christian principles of education is the Right Reverend John J. Graham. As assistant superintendent of the schools of our Archdiocese, he has excelled in organization and supervision.

THE VERY REVEREND JOHN J. CONMY, O.S.F.S., has been appointed provincial of the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales. We wish Father Conmy every success in his many endeavors.

RELIGIOUS SUPERIOR of our Oblate faculty, Religion and French teacher, School Chaplain . . . undertaking all these responsibilities during his first year here, Father Thomas A. Carlin has proven himself more than equal to the task.

concerned with our education

PRINCIPAL

FATHER EDWARD O'NEILL, in his first year, has proven himself a competent administrator. Father's sound advice and understanding of our problems have quickly won him the respect and admiration of the student body. We depart, grateful in the knowledge that our Alma Mater is left in good hands.

dedicated men

AS EVERYONE CAN PLAINLY SEE, Fr. Gaffney is a very busy Vice-Principal. Father, a native Philadelphian, attended our arch-rival, North Catholic, and distinguished himself in both track and football. A priest since 1940, Father first came here as a teacher and has been lately advanced to his present post. Father, however, is not the only newcomer to our school's administration. Our school's staff has been revised, but this has not changed its high standards of immediate, efficient practicality and gentle, patient consideration.

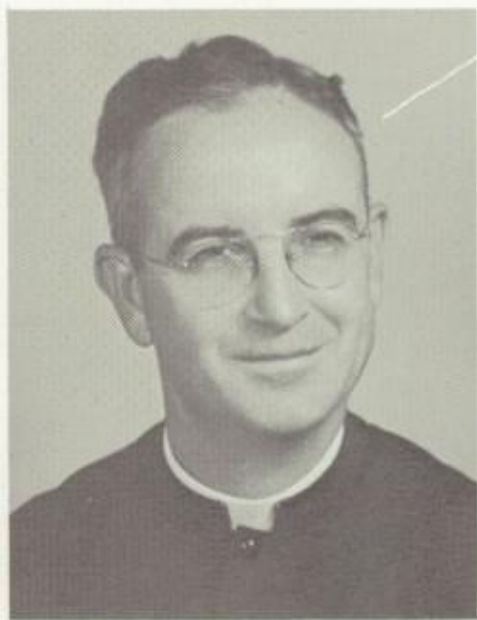

FATHERS BRAND AND FRIEL are known to all Judgemen. Many times a day, we come in contact with our disciplinarians. Law and order are enforced with true Christian charity and ideal Salesian patience. These priests insure us that justice tempered by mercy always prevails. Through perseverance and determination they teach us to act like Christian gentlemen. Our discipline department is a standing reminder that discipline is a necessary part of education.

In the memories of Father Judge the bookstore will surely be remembered.

THE CLERICAL WORK of the school is efficiently handled by four lovely young ladies. Mrs. Helen Tofini, office manager, is assisted by Miss Carol Cooke, Miss Mary Lou Costello, and Mrs. Alberta Loeffler in the many duties of a busy day.

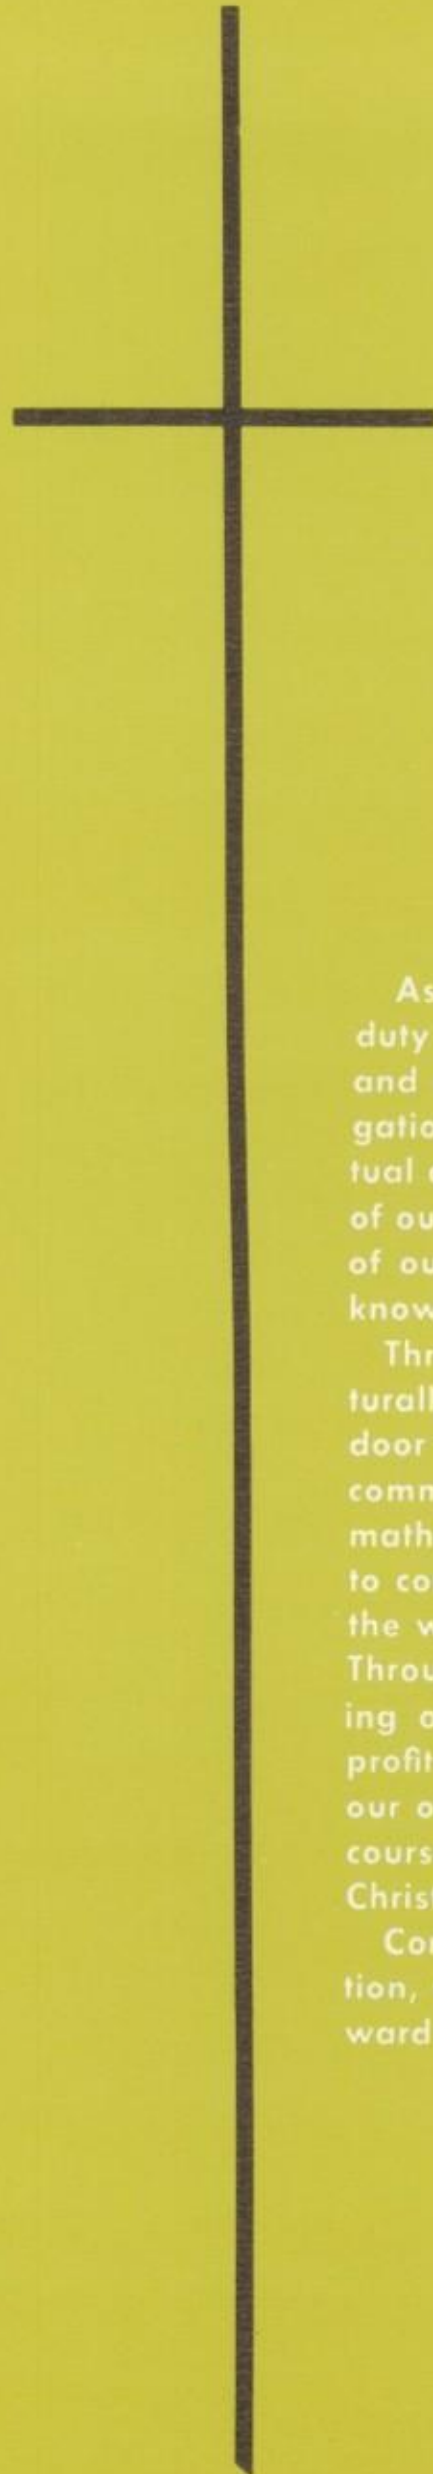

Our Lord said to His apostles, "Come, follow Me," thereby calling them to the priesthood. This call came to Henry Lemon, and he responded by dedicating his life to the guidance of Catholic young men in the classroom as an Oblate. Father was not merely a good instructor interested in the material progress of his pupils; he was a fine priest and friend of his students, interested in their spiritual and personal problems. May he rest in peace.

As young Crusaders we have the threefold duty of service to our community, our country, and our God. In order to fulfill this moral obligation, we must acquire the necessary intellectual and spiritual formation. The understanding of our studies serves as a firm foundation. Each of our subjects bears certain beneficial fruits of knowledge that we must reap.

Through our study of languages we are culturally enriched with the key that opens the door to better relations within our multilingual community of nations. Through our intensive mathematics and science courses, we learn how to conquer the world about us as we delve into the wonderful realm of God's precious creation. Through our classes in social science, we, standing on the shoulders of former ages, learn to profit from their experience and to apply this to our own needs. Through our instructive religion course, we learn to become what we are . . . Christians.

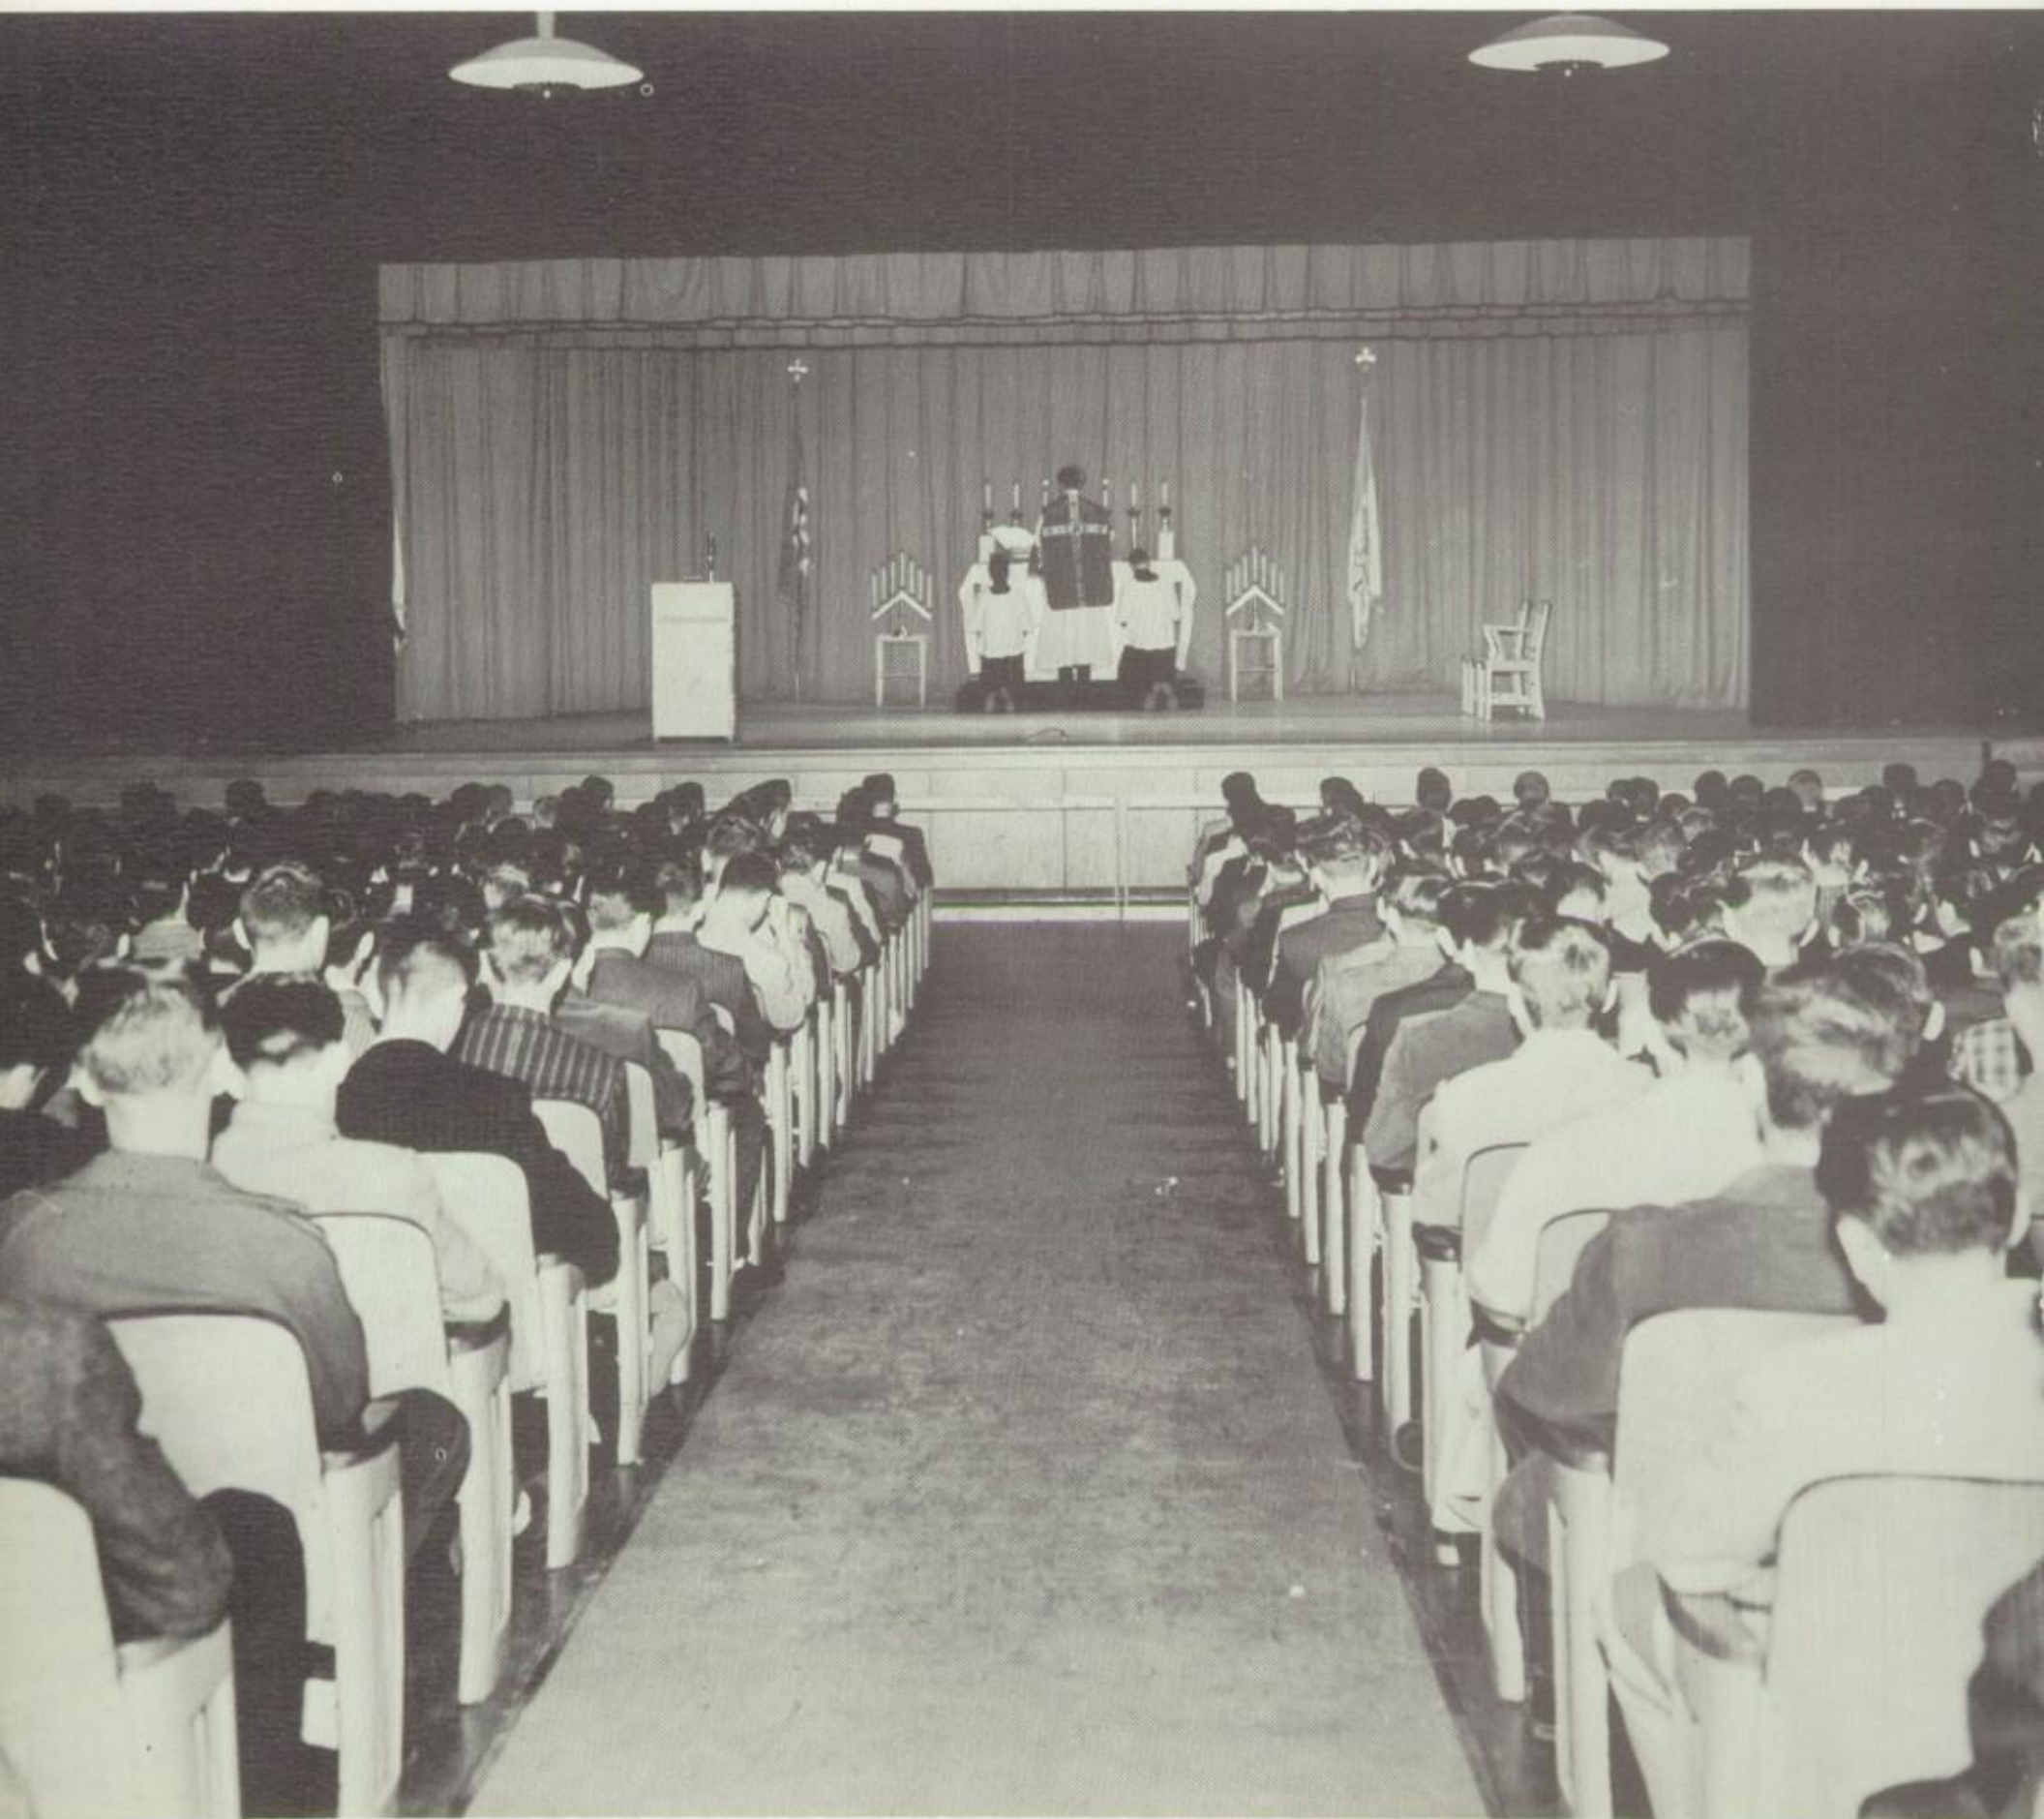

Consummating our state in life with this erudition, we have reached the intermediate step toward the procurement of our noble Quest.

Our first step . . .

S T U D I E S

AN INTEGRAL PART of our religious training is the assembly Mass. These services are held so that our student body may enter into a closer union with God. Although we cannot now measure the worth of these Masses, we are well aware of their immense spiritual value.

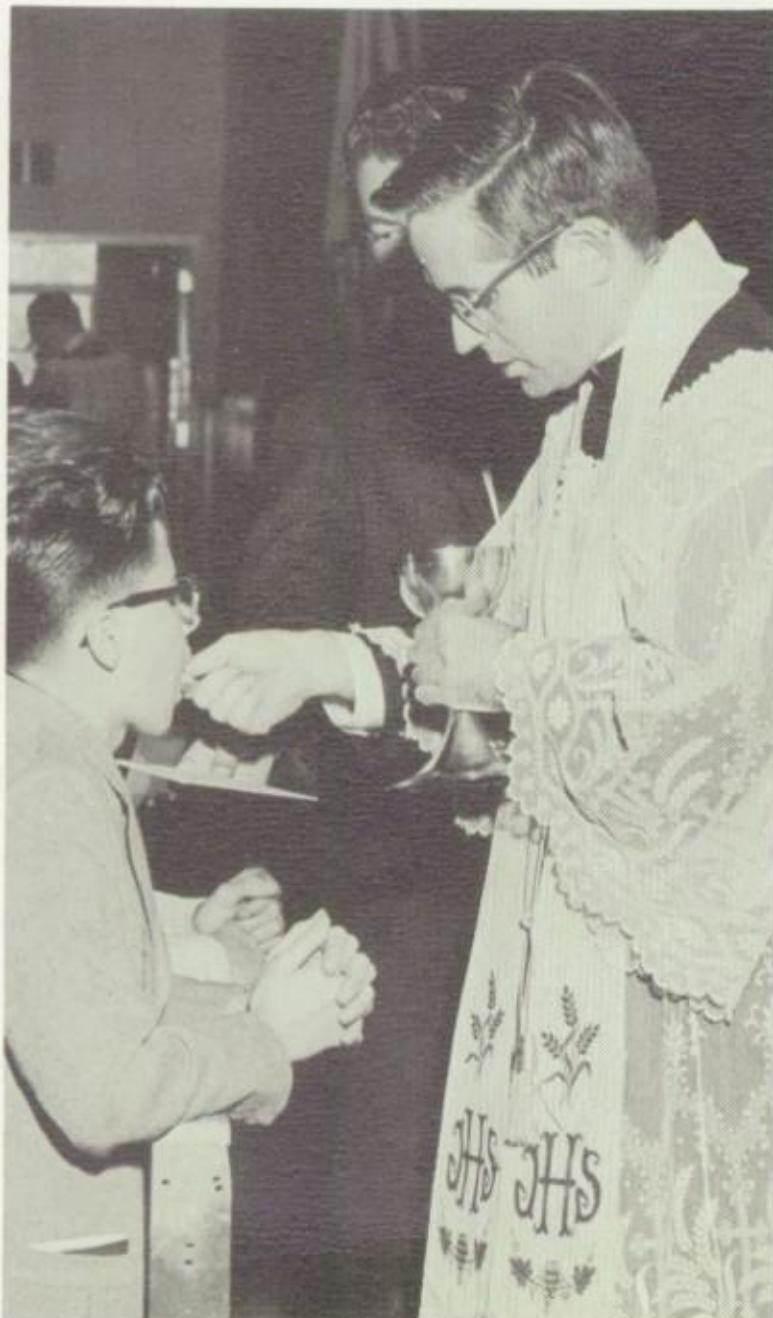

our life in christ

MAN, IN HIS ETERNAL SEARCH for peace, often neglects the most obvious routes. In our school, we find an oasis of peace and security in a hostile and insecure world. We who seek serenity in our school chapel do not leave without finding it.

"WHATEVER THOU SHALT BIND . . ." With these words, Christ, realizing our mortal weakness, gave to mankind a tremendous manifestation of His divine love, the sacrament of Penance. To all who sincerely solicit God's pardon, pardon is readily given by Him to Whom no sin is unforgiveable.

We should realize that our school system is unique in that its primary reason for existence is its teaching of Catholic Doctrine. The Church tries to instill in us basic knowledge of Christian truth with which to preserve our Faith against difficulties we have met already and shall continue to meet in our later life.

EXERCISING HIS PRIESTLY POWERS, Father Hearn assists us to enter into greater proximity with our Master. All of our priests are primarily interested in our salvation and are always willing to aid and advise us.

FROM THE LOOKS on almost all of their faces, the boys of Junior 6 are not too worried about the results of their last test which Father Travers has finally marked and is now returning to them. Father Travers tries to make his little "automobile trip" as pleasant and interesting as possible.

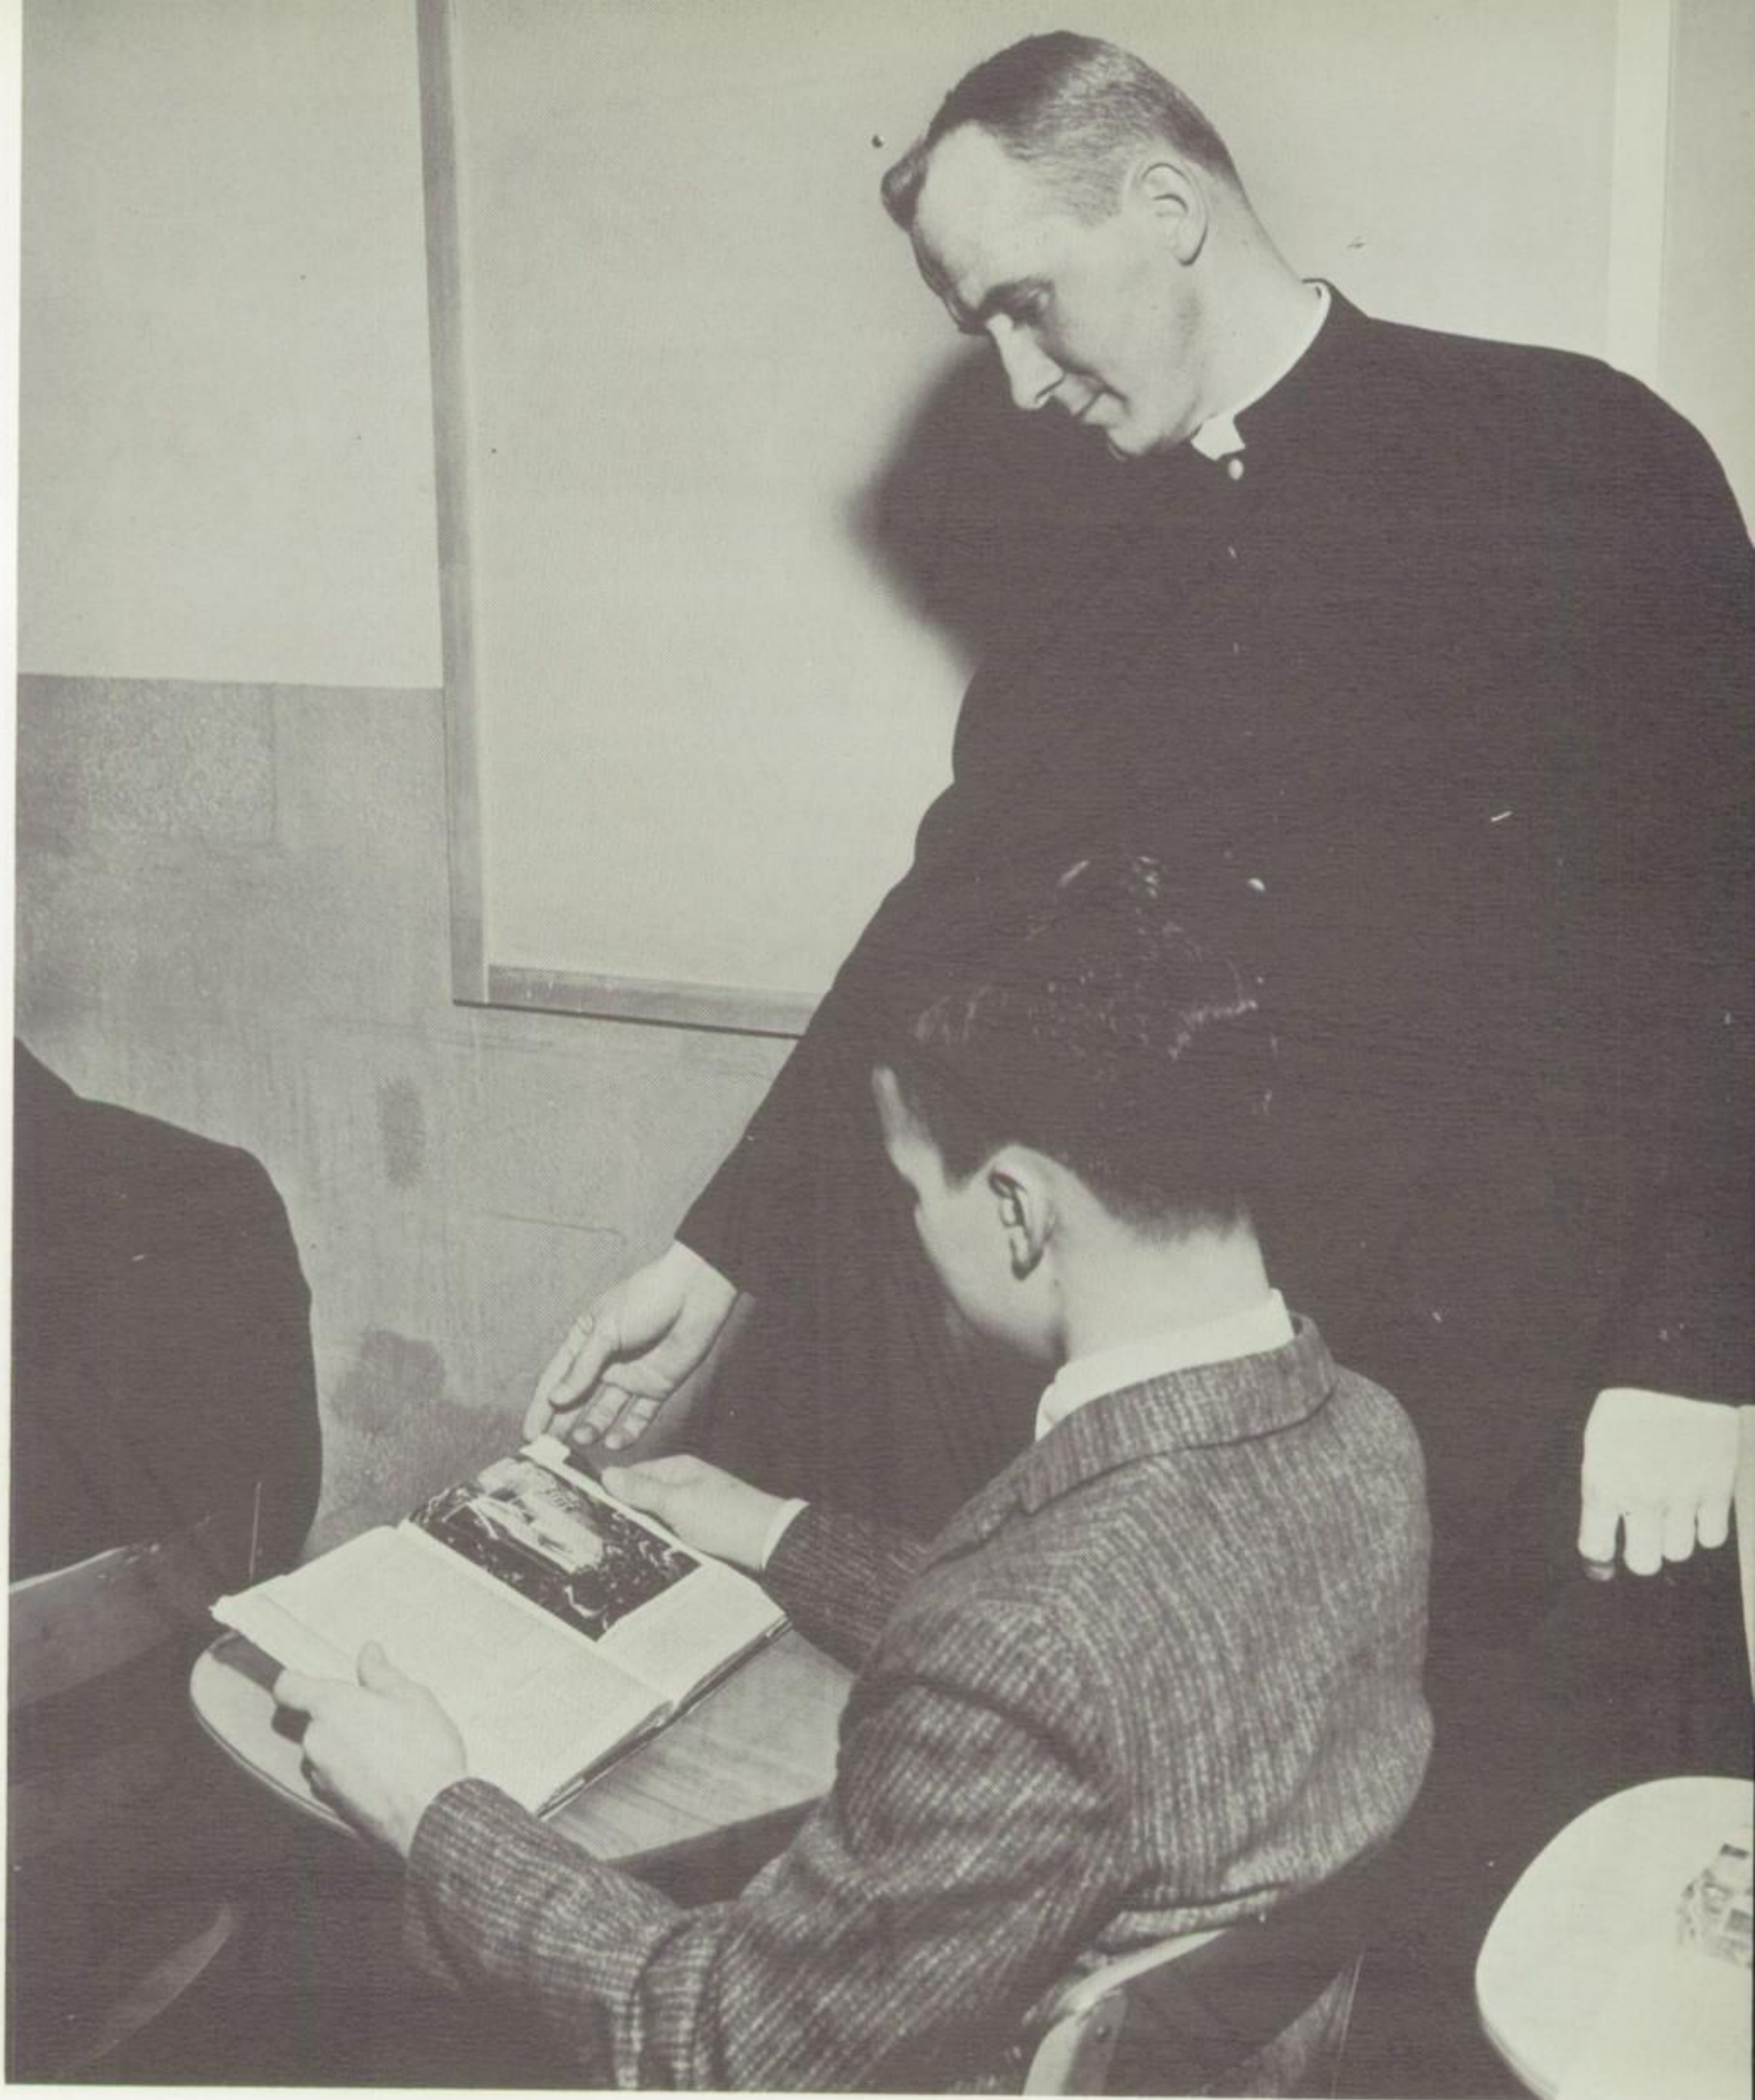

the way, the truth and the life

THE LIFE OF CHRIST, Church History, Christian Morals, and Apologetics compose the sum and substance of our four years of religious training. By listening attentively to our Oblate instructors we have during our brief sojourn at Father Judge, developed a truly Christian attitude toward our future lives. Father Dunne is diligently laying the groundwork of Christian training and teaching in the fertile and rapidly forming minds of Freshman 20.

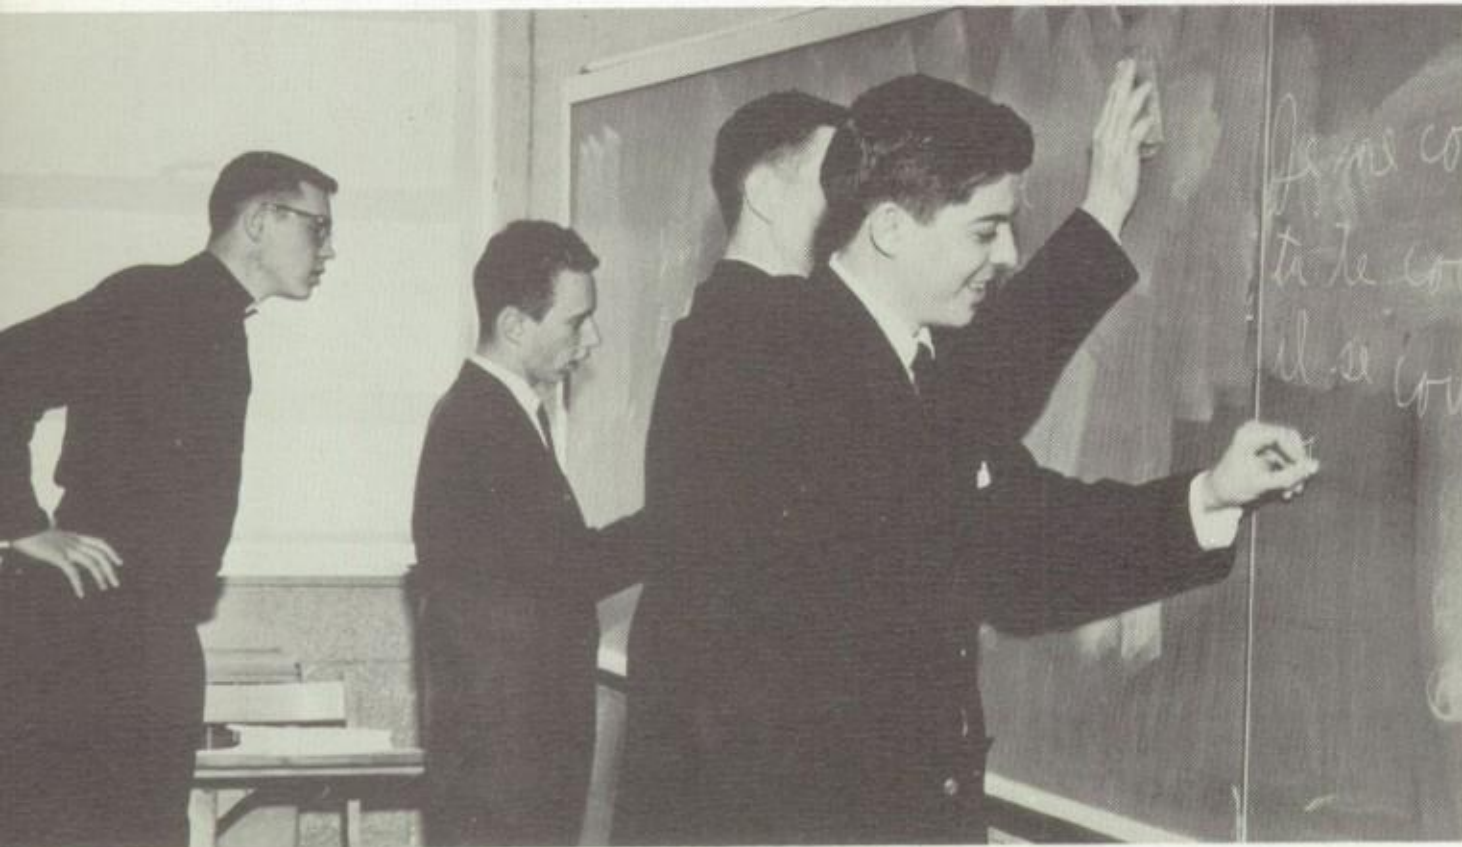

REPRESENTING THE MOST IMPORTANT times in the life of Christ and also in the lives of all mankind, the mysteries of the Rosary are an important part of freshman Religion. Father Rickert is aiding J. Lewandowski of Freshman 13 to form a clearer and deeper understanding of one of these all-important mysteries.

FATHER LANGAN, one of the Oblates who guide us through the material which is the basic foundation of our Faith, explains to one of our students the miracle which is the keystone of true Christianity, namely, the Resurrection.

During our years at Judge, our Oblate teachers expose and explain the life of Christ, the history of the Church, the tenets of this Church, and a defense of the Faith. Arming us with the most potent of weapons, truth, they send us to continue the crusade of Christianity.

Nous parlons français

C'EST MAGNIFIQUE! . . . At least it's correct. Mr. Press accurately observes the progress of Ed Wilkenson of Senior Three. This Second year course provides us with the fine points of French grammar, literature, and history. Although complete mastery may be lacking, we say with pride . . . "Oui, je parle français."

"DITES-MOI POURQUOI . . ." Father Carlin proves that by listening to and writing French, these first year students can enjoy a new experience. As Juniors, we are introduced to general grammar, a practicing vocabulary, and pronunciation. Through practice, we obtain a facility with a second language.

"ARE YOU SURE that's the right definite article you're using, buddy?" Father Ernst's guiding hands have saved William Becker of Junior 1 from committing one of German's "capital sins." In his Senior year, however, such a mistake will not be dealt with kindly. The complicating world of German grammar confounds at first, but after two years with Father Ernst, we feel ready to translate at the U. N.

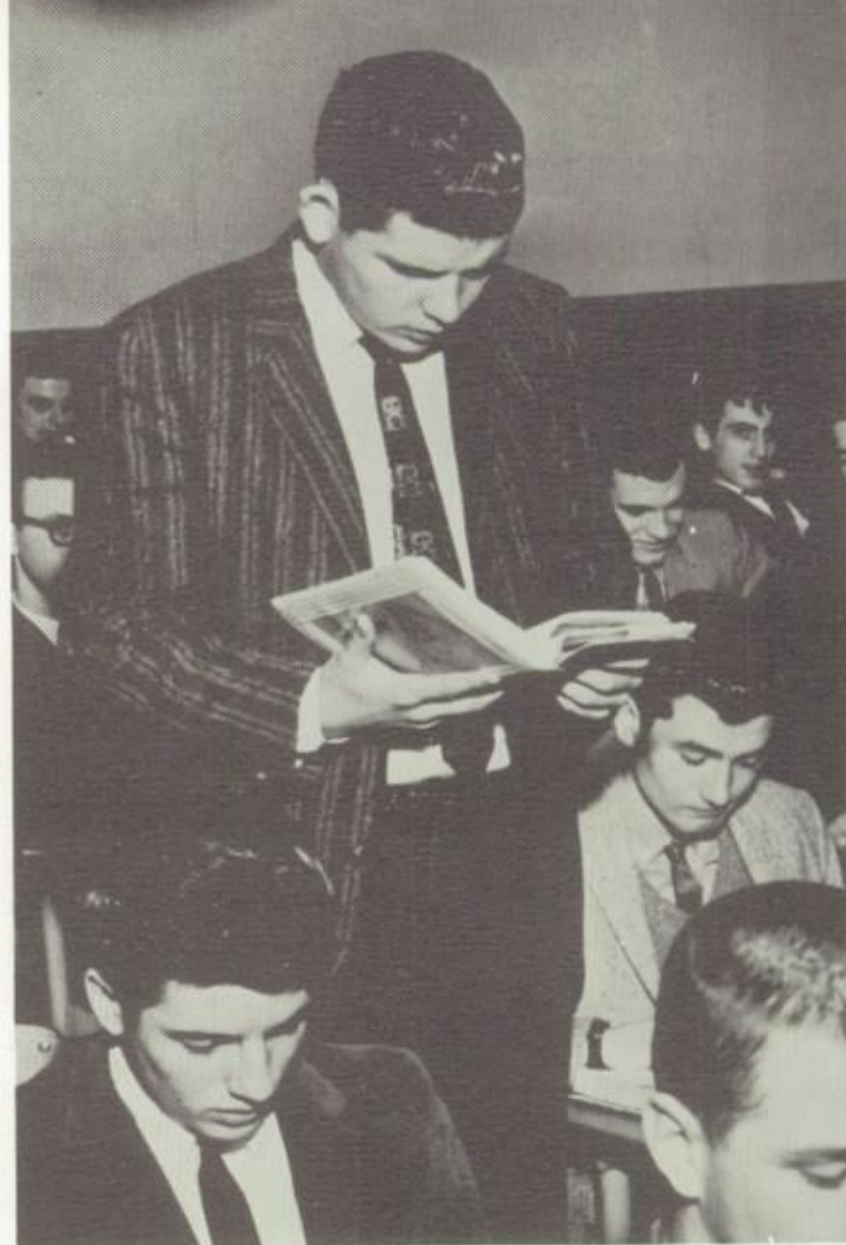

UH-OH! It seems that the Junior 1 student at the left may be having a little trouble with German word order. The other members of the class appear relaxed, but we can be sure that they would not care to be in their classmate's predicament.

und Deutsch

y tambien Espanol

FATHER CLARK, who is noted for personal interest in his students, helps Bill Beckman by explaining one of the more difficult points of Spanish grammar. We have all benefited by Father's recent trip to Mexico; his first-hand experience of Spanish and Mexican culture has enlivened our classes. Because of Father's having given us much more than grammar and vocabulary, we have a deep appreciation of Spanish.

WITH EMPHASIS ON IMPROVING Latin-American relations these days, the State Department could recruit its future ambassadors for below the Rio Grande from a Spanish class of Judge. "Muchachas" . . . "Alimento" . . . "Verano" . . . Si! Padre! There are more important problems for an ambassador, but learning the native tongues of many of our sister Republics provide a good start.

Caesar - Cicero - Virgil

LATIN IS THE BASIS of many modern languages and a thorough knowledge of it is helpful when studying these languages in the future. Mr. Shannon is trying to impress this fact upon the members of Freshmen Fourteen by encouraging them to study their Latin diligently.

FATHER SARRO is helping Ken Chadwick over the tongue-twisters that Julius Caesar used in describing his Gallic Wars. Latin is a live language contrary to popular belief, and this fact is attested to by the popularity of the Romans' vernacular at "Pater Judex." Today Latin is used in medicine, law, and science as well as being the official language of the Church. This polyglot priest is a good friend to all, one reason for the language's great favor.

Our Mother Tongue

FR. GANG LISTENS to Joe Merenda of Senior Nine read a selection from Milton's "Paradise Lost." English Literature acquaints the boys with the Greats among the English writers.

"BEWARE THE IDES OF MARCH." Sophomores reading Shakespeare for the first time may find him difficult to understand. However, no one's education is complete without an acquaintance with the Bard. Mr. Kenny listens to the boys and clarifies misunderstood verses.

COULD IT BE that Hugh McGovern of Freshman Seventeen has not been paying attention during Fr. O'Neill's class? The job of the Freshman English teacher is to stimulate interest in good literature.

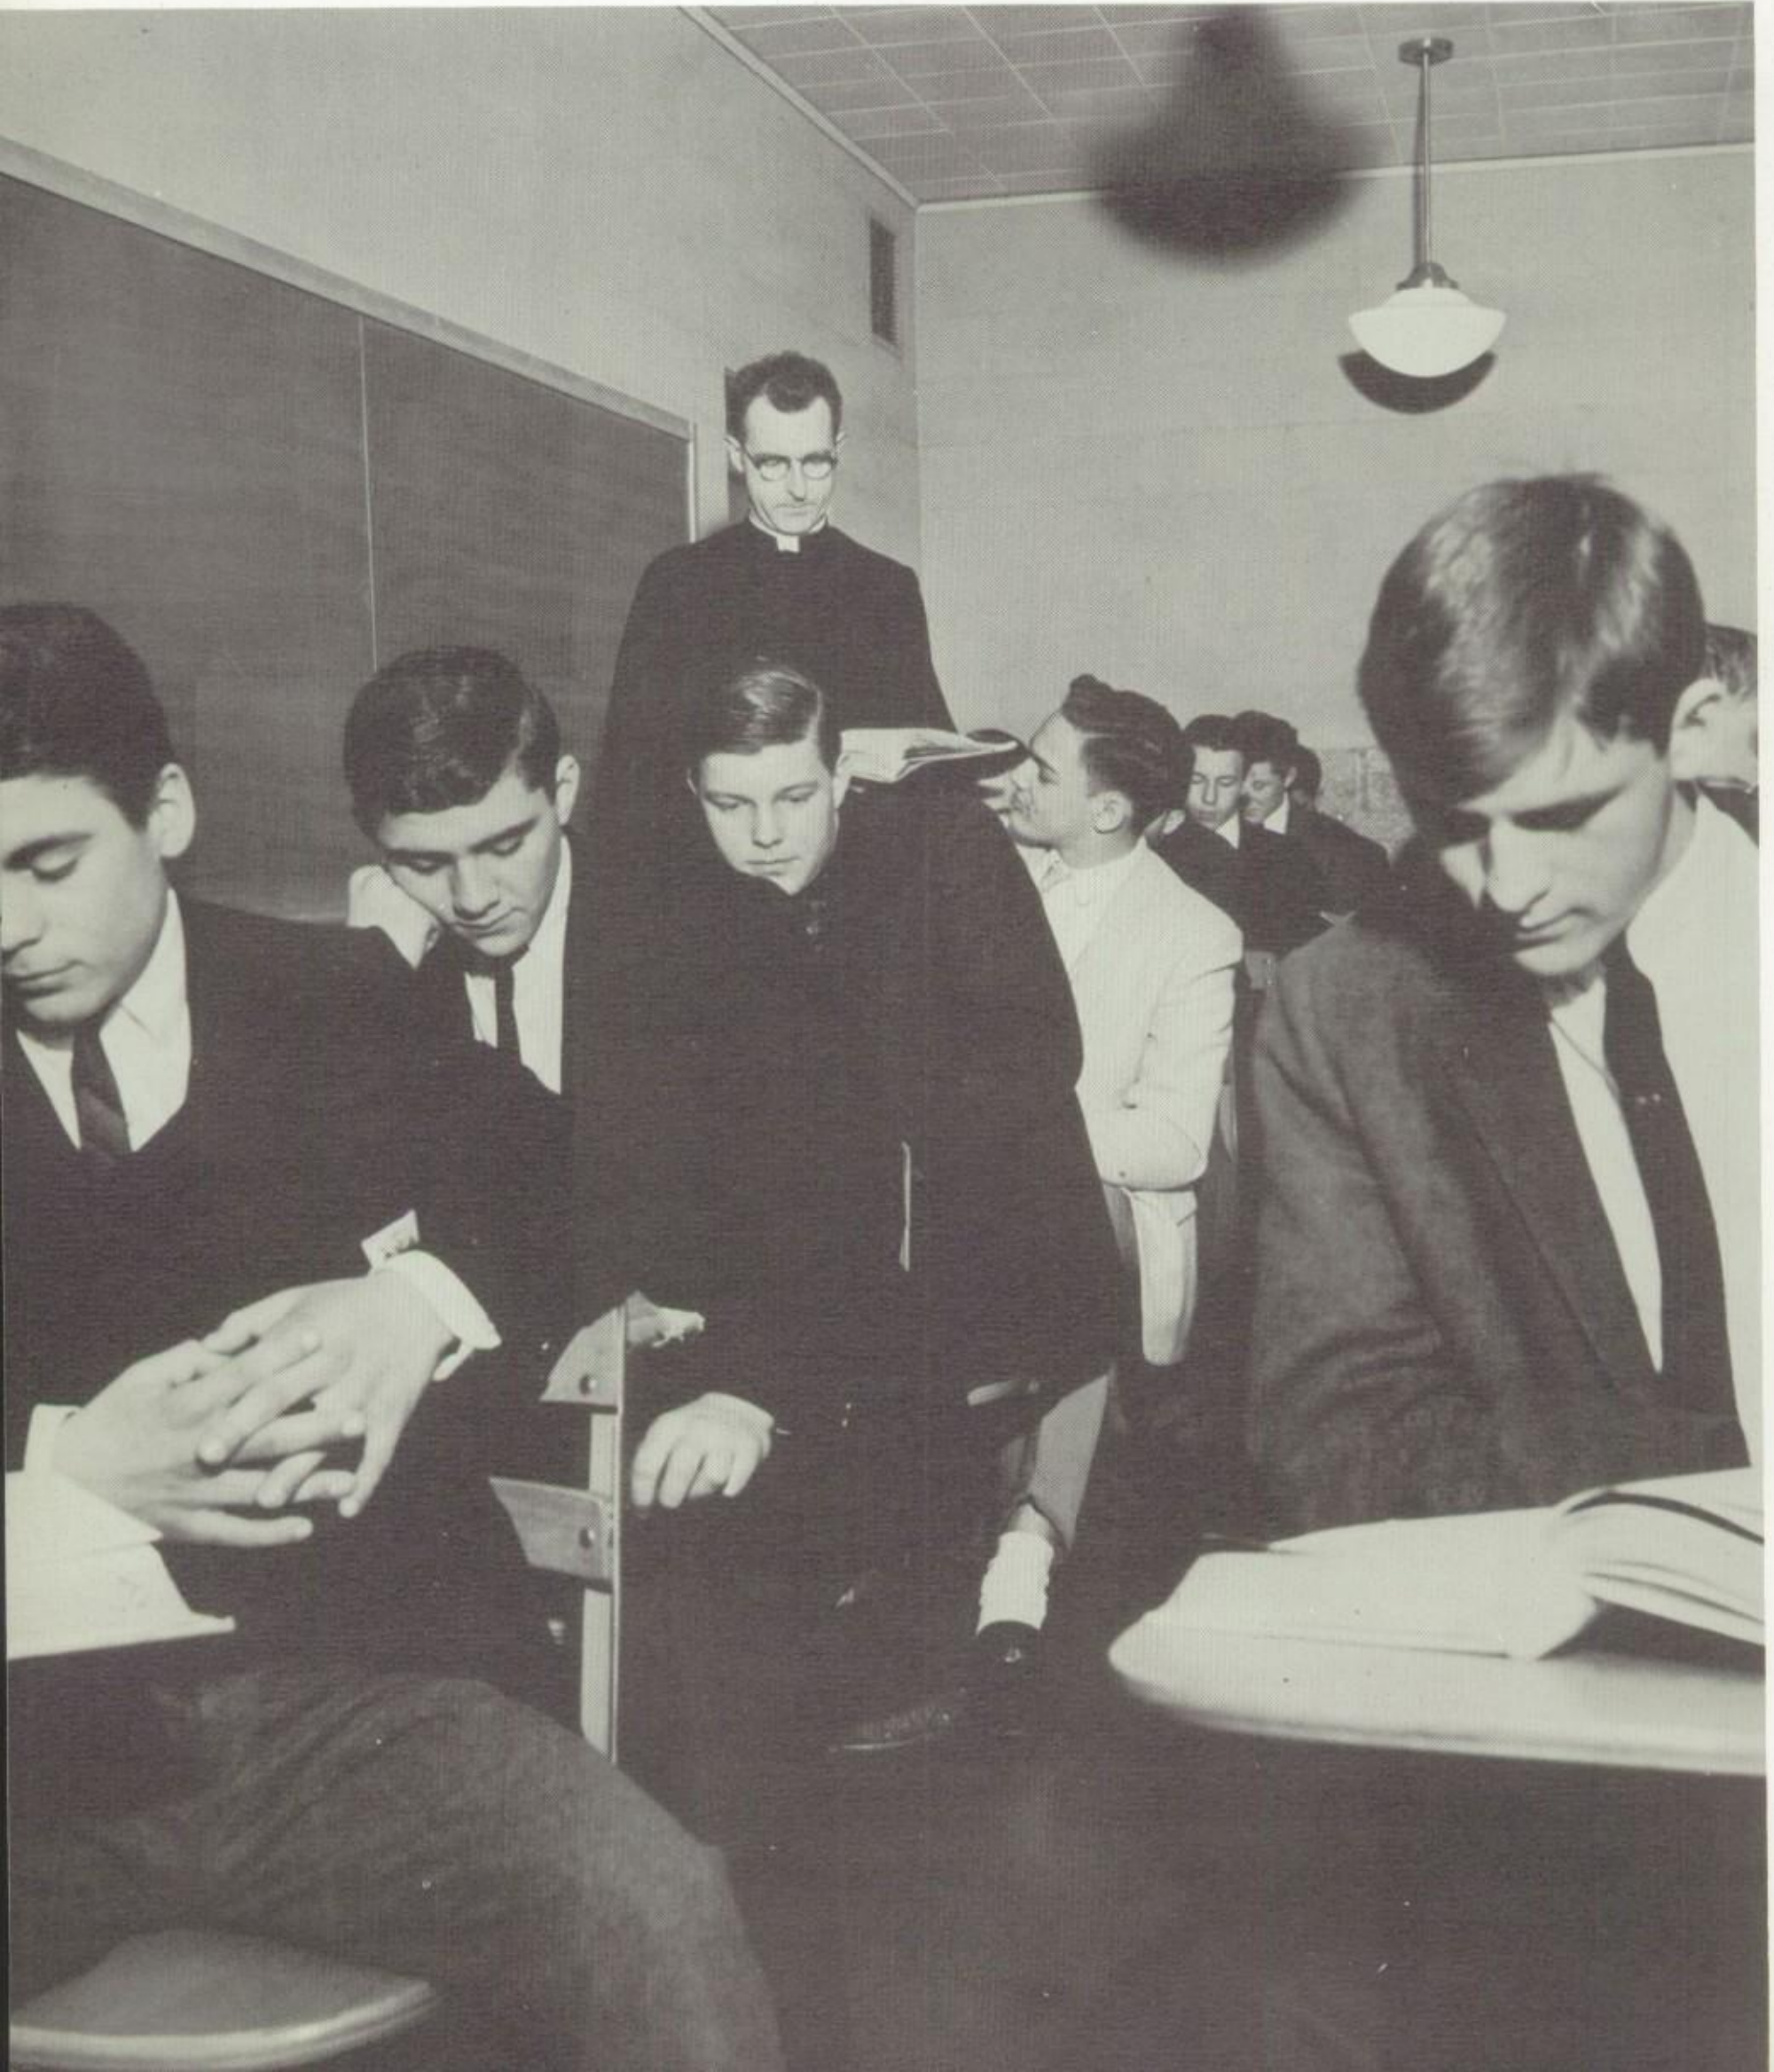

"THE ROMANTICIST is concerned with far away times and places, the supernatural, and patriotism," explains Father Keenan to the students of Senior Two. Father conducts a hard-fought campaign against any lack of interest among students in English because he realizes that colleges consider it to be one of the most important subjects. Father prepares the students for college by offering a well-rounded course in English literature, grammar, and composition.

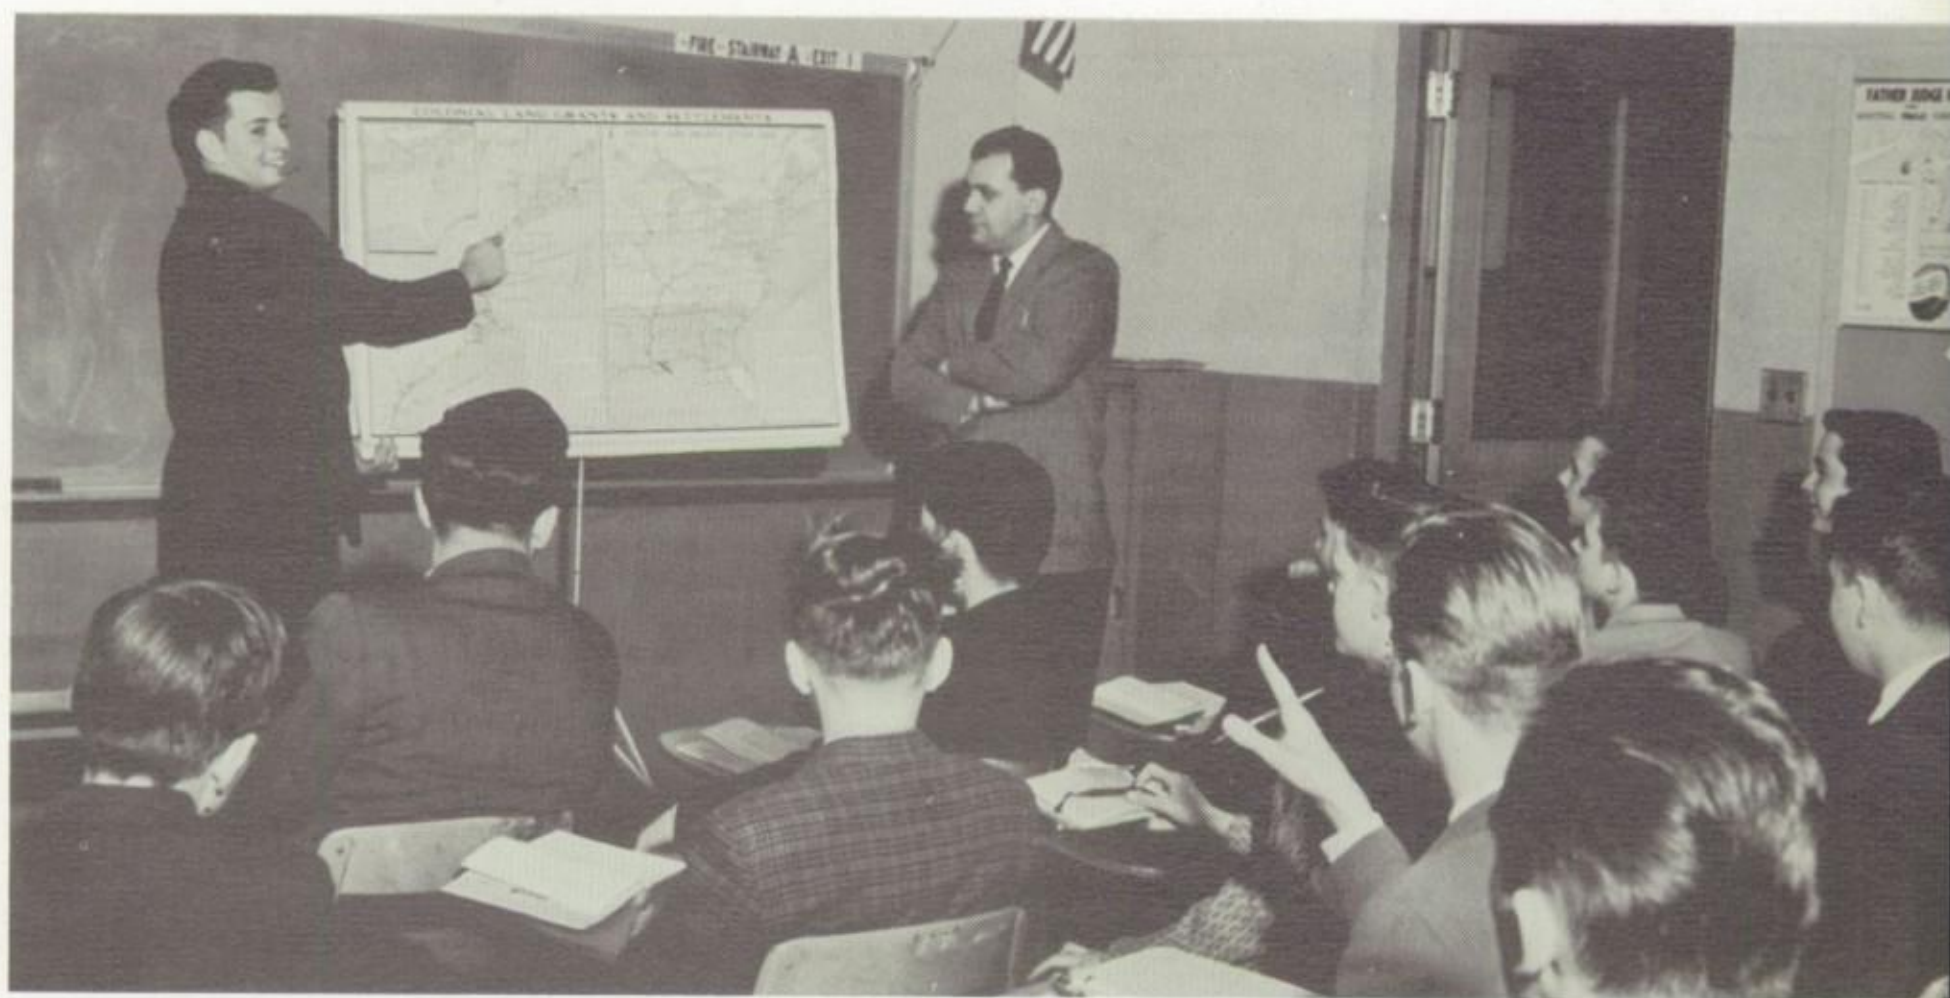

past, present, new frontiers

AN ATTENTIVE JUNIOR CLASS reads quietly as Fr. Stafford checks the assigned homework. Father's amiable and helpful assistance in studying American History has brought him many friends and has greatly aided our future historians.

"WELL, UH—YOU SEE, FATHER—" stammers Vic Kopczynski of Junior Three, as he is lost for words in trying to answer a question on the Civil War during Father Dealey's history class. This mild incident clearly brings out the apropos saying, "never a dull moment," in the interesting and refreshing course of American History. After this brief interruption it was back to the roar of guns and boom of cannons and the Battle of Gettysburg.

MR. ROSICA LOOKS ON ANXIOUSLY as Frank Scavillo, Sophomore Thirteen, is called upon to express his views on colonization. Our intelligent sophomore proves his proficiency in the study of Pennsylvania History, by correctly pointing out the embarkation of the early Pennsylvania settlers.

THE SOMEWHAT FRUSTRATED LOOK on Father Cutter's face is probably the result of an unexpected answer from a member of Senior Eight.

LOST IN THOUGHT, John Riley of Senior Nine seems to be contemplating one of the complex problems of our world.

ONE OF THE INTERESTING QUESTIONS which turns up in National Problems class is being discussed by Lawrence White of Senior Nine.

problems in democracy

FROM THE LOOKS ON HIS CLASSMATES' FACES, it appears as though John Ryan is having some trouble with his geography. In addition to recognizing a social problem, Mr. Konen insists that his students also know where the problem is most prevalent. Such amusing incidents add interest to the school day.

dynamic charity

"HEY, LOOK WHAT I GOT in National Problems!" James Elliot of Senior 5 seems well pleased with his accomplishments but things don't seem to have gone so well for pensive Ralph Lawrence in the background.

ORAL RECITATION forms an important part of any social study, and National Problems is no exception. Mr. Brannau listens as James Robb of Senior Eleven relates his theories on crime and punishment. This exercise gives the student of National Problems a chance to share in another's view of current problems.

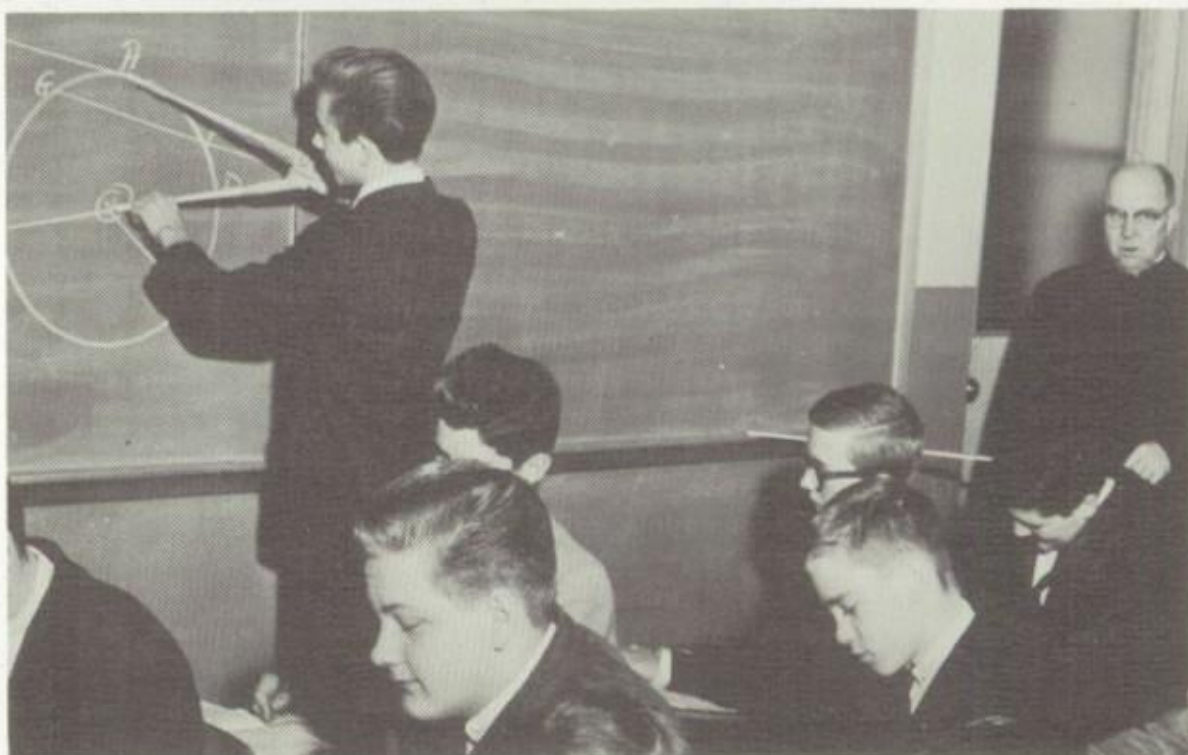

FATHER LEONE is emphatically defending his position on one of the controversial questions which often arise in National Problems class. Father's explanations of current events give us a clear insight which we would not otherwise have.

meaningful math

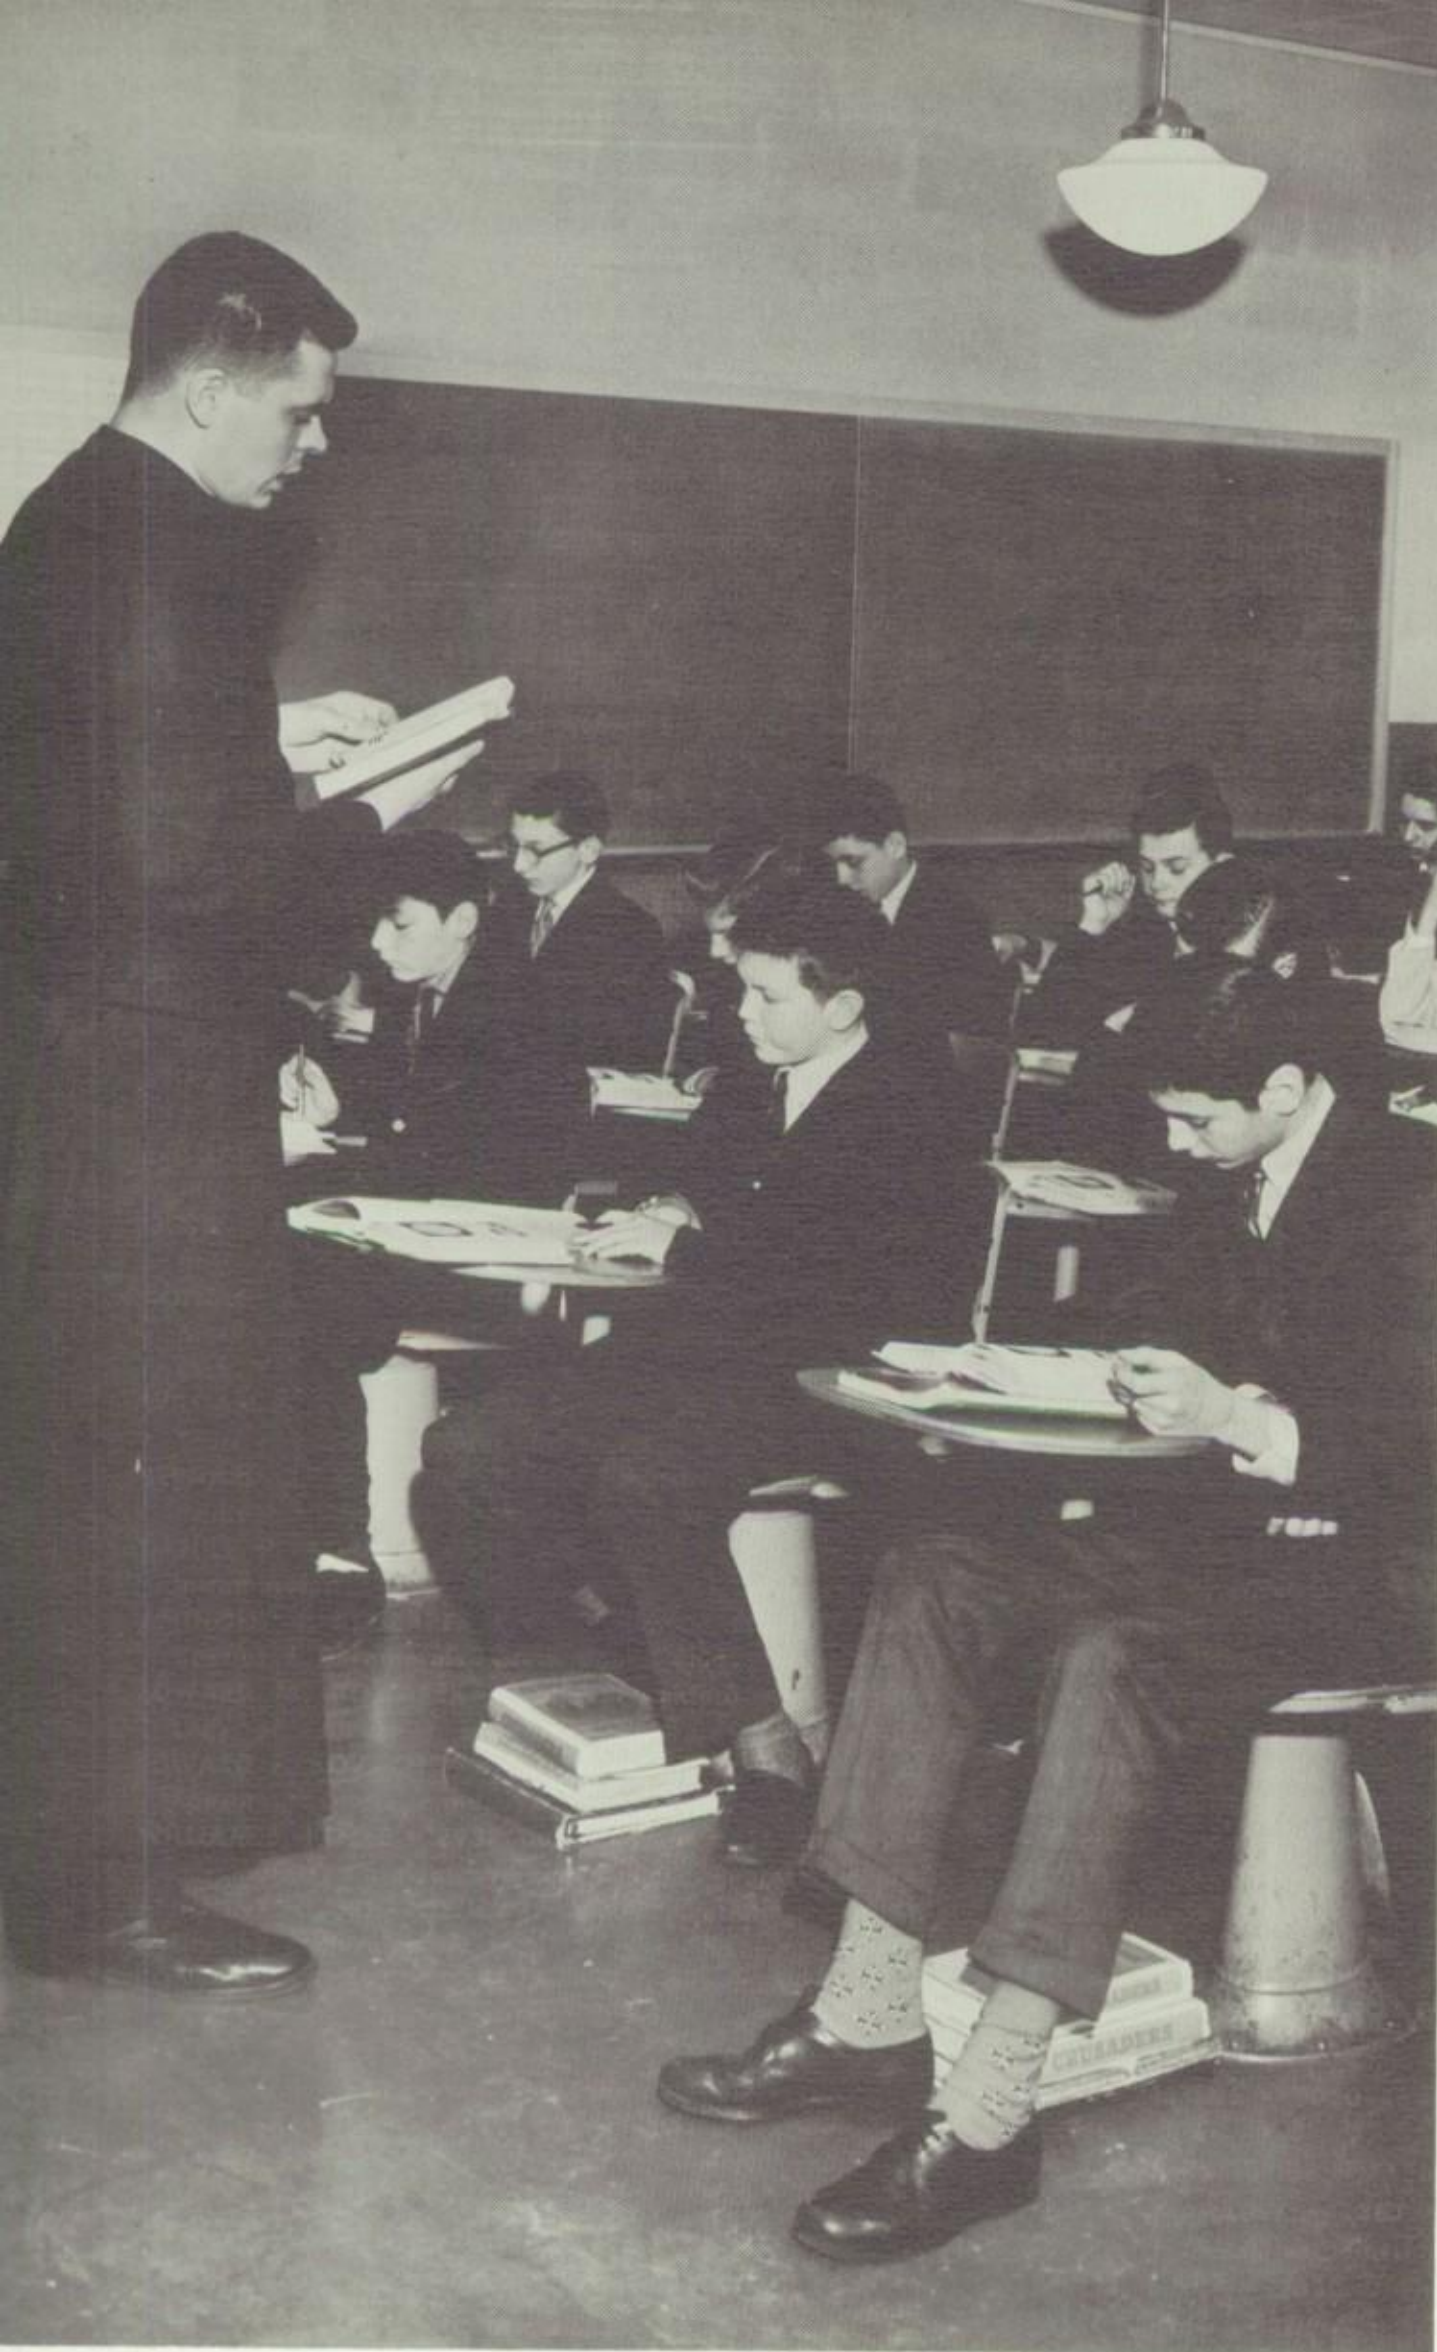

QUADRATIC EQUATIONS, variables, and logarithms are all simplified by Father Quinn for grateful juniors studying Algebra II. "It looks so easy when you do it, Father, but this homework . . ." As we slowly overcome all difficulties, we find the solution for X.

AXIOMS, POSTULATES, and theorems are all put to use in solving the problems that a circle presents. Plane geometry, explained by Father McGoldrick to Sophomore Fourteen, provides the answers for all problems. At least, these sophomores seem more sure of their math.

THE MYSTERIES OF trigonometry are simplified by Father Murphy. Sines, cosines, and tangents seem very familiar, after twenty-eight double angle formulas. Senior One appreciates the "meaningful math" taught to them. They know Father Murphy's motto, "anything for the boys."

THE BASIC STEPS of high school mathematics are explained by Mr. O'Donnell. These Freshmen three matematicians are learning the fundamentals of equations . . . roots, exponents, and coefficients. Algebra I is a necessity for all future math and science courses. Before long, solving for unknowns will become second nature. Despite their problems, these Freshmen will soon find all the answers.

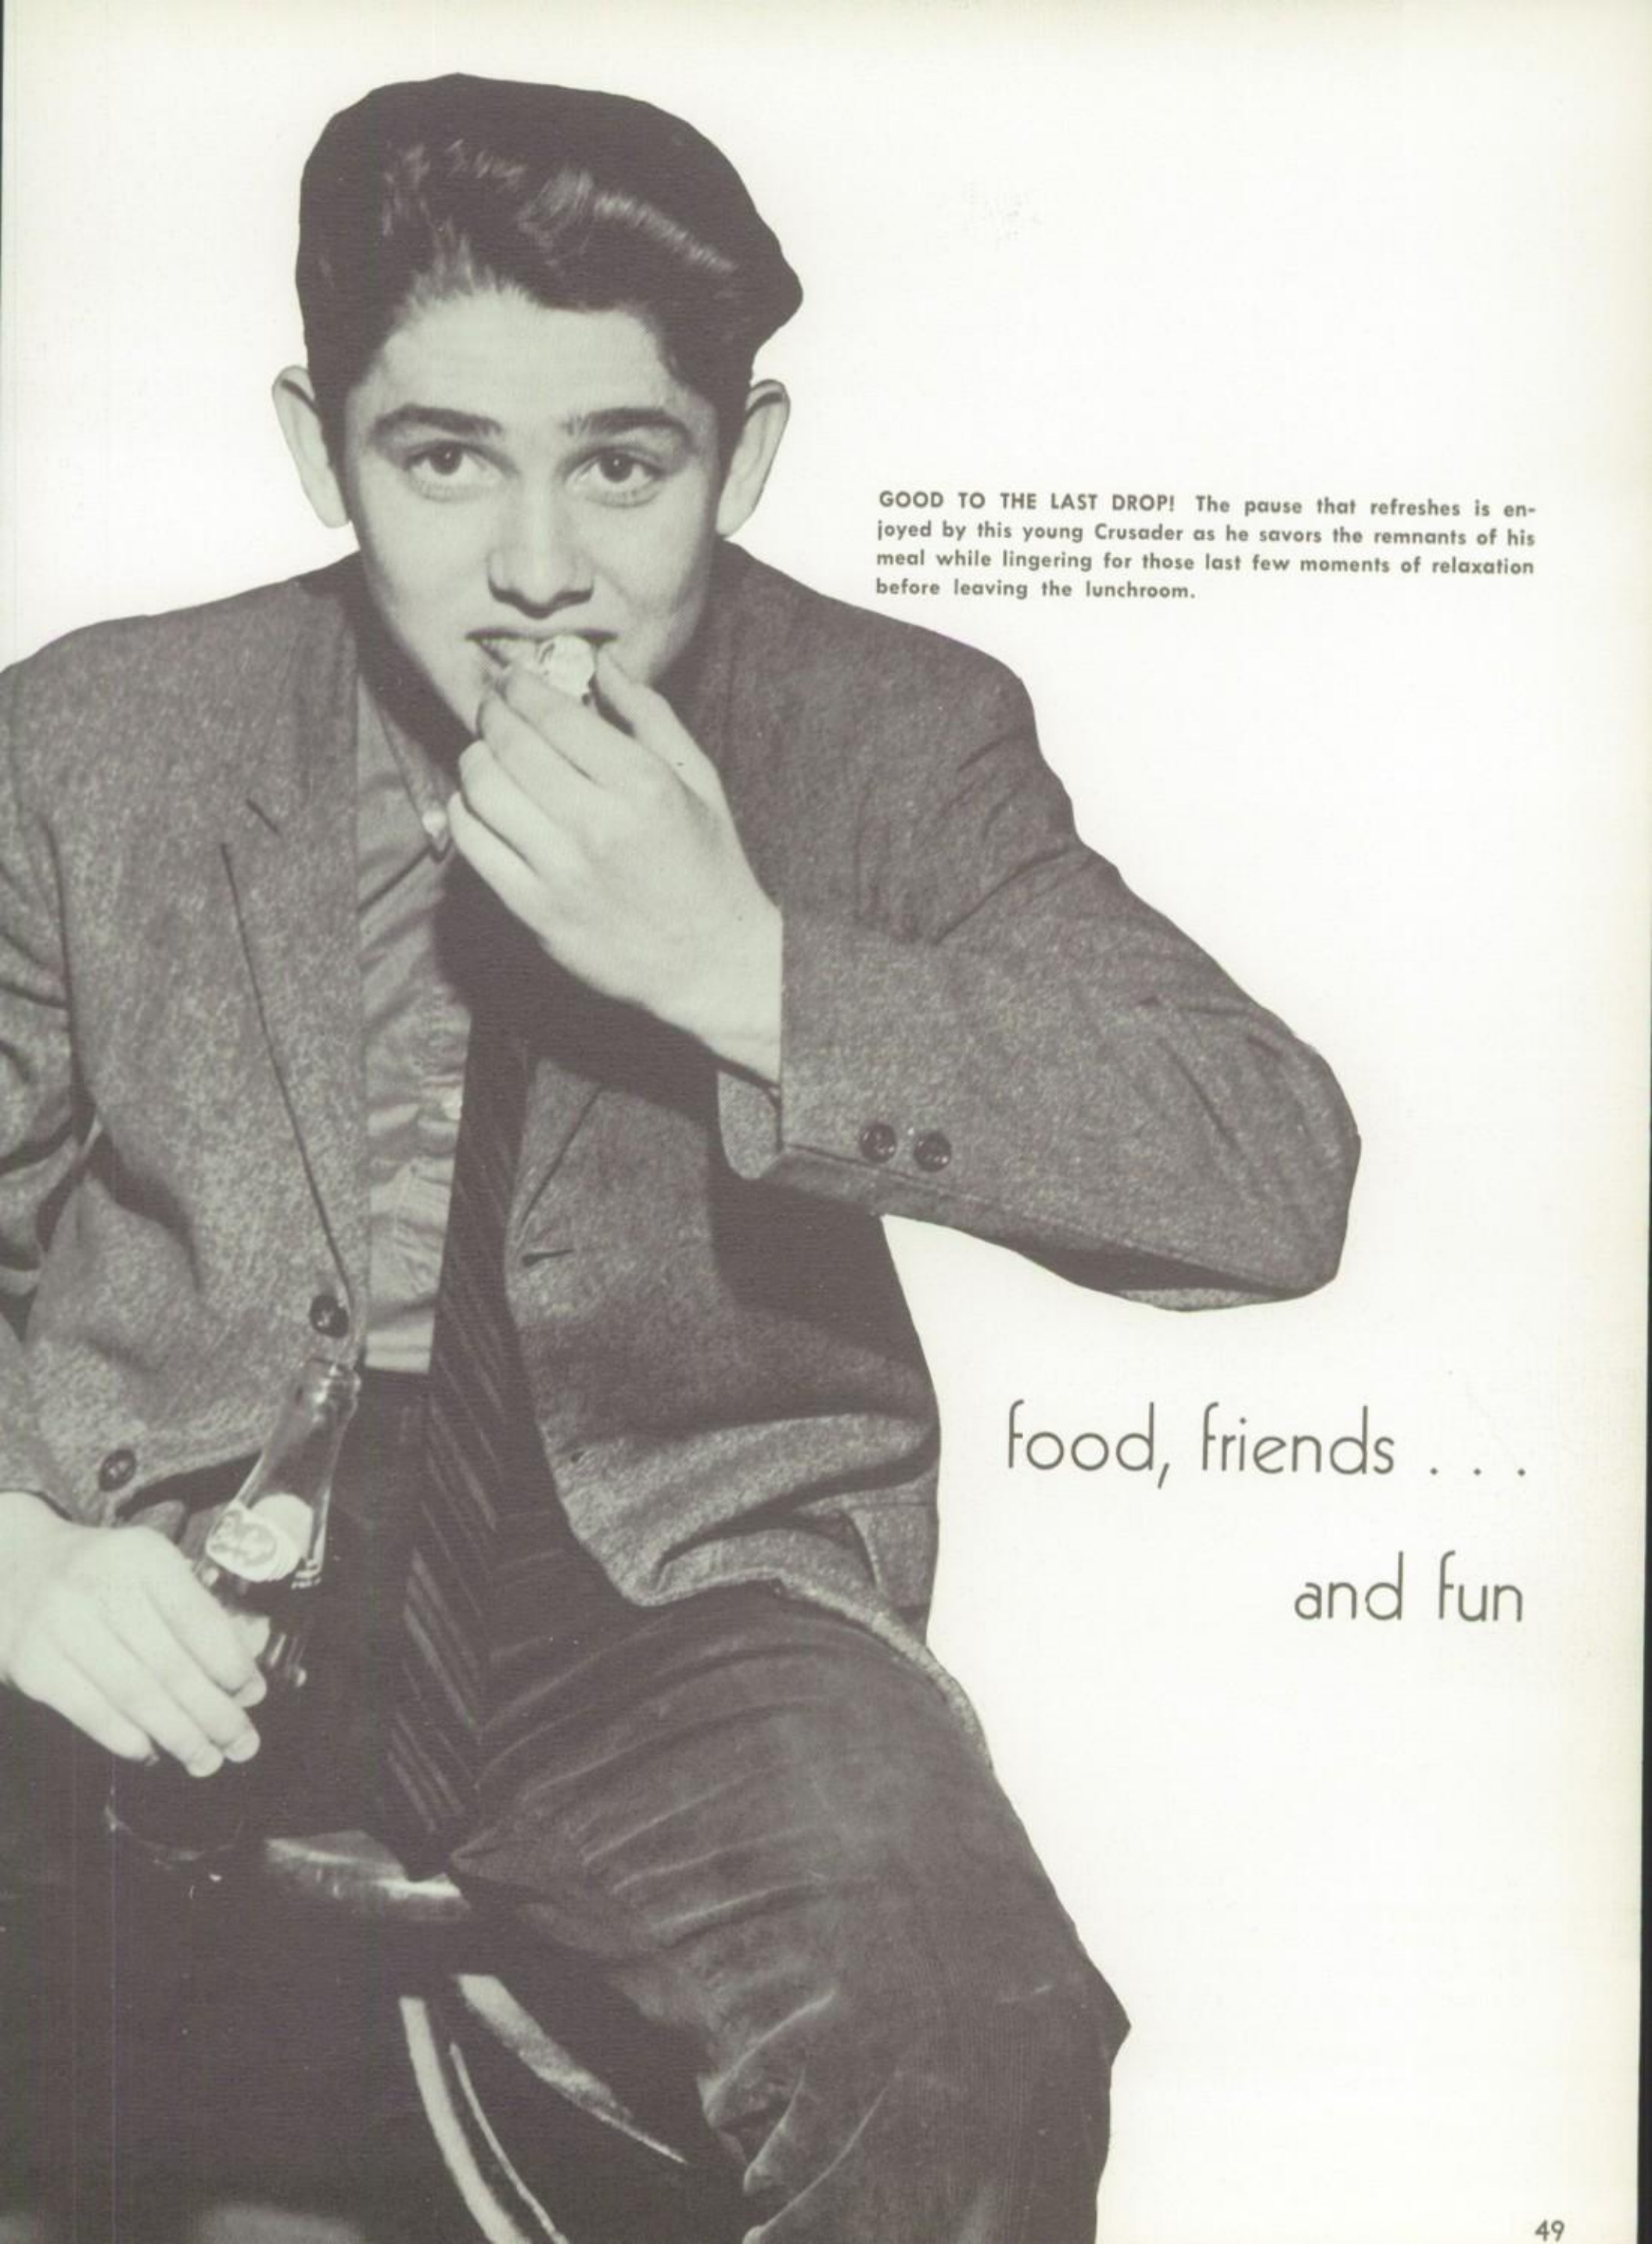

$$\sin^2 \theta + \cos^2 \theta = 1 \quad \text{th} \quad \text{th} \neq 0 \frac{x}{a}$$

"BOY, I'M STARVED! Let me at those hot-dogs!" As they avidly devour their midday meal, these famished underclassmen are finding lunch period a good time to forget that horrible math test and remember yesterday's thrilling game while munching on a sandwich or sipping a coke. After finishing, they can go to the yard for a breath of fresh air; but, soon the break is over, and they must once again return to their classroom struggle.

GETTING INTO THE ACT is this cheerful group of Crusaders who really know how to enjoy their lunch break. Although it may appear to be a schoolyard riot, these boys are merely showing their interest in having their picture taken. However, this enthusiasm will soon be dampened by the shrill sound of a whistle calling them back to their quest for knowledge.

GOOD TO THE LAST DROP! The pause that refreshes is enjoyed by this young Crusader as he savors the remnants of his meal while lingering for those last few moments of relaxation before leaving the lunchroom.

assets, debits, and credits

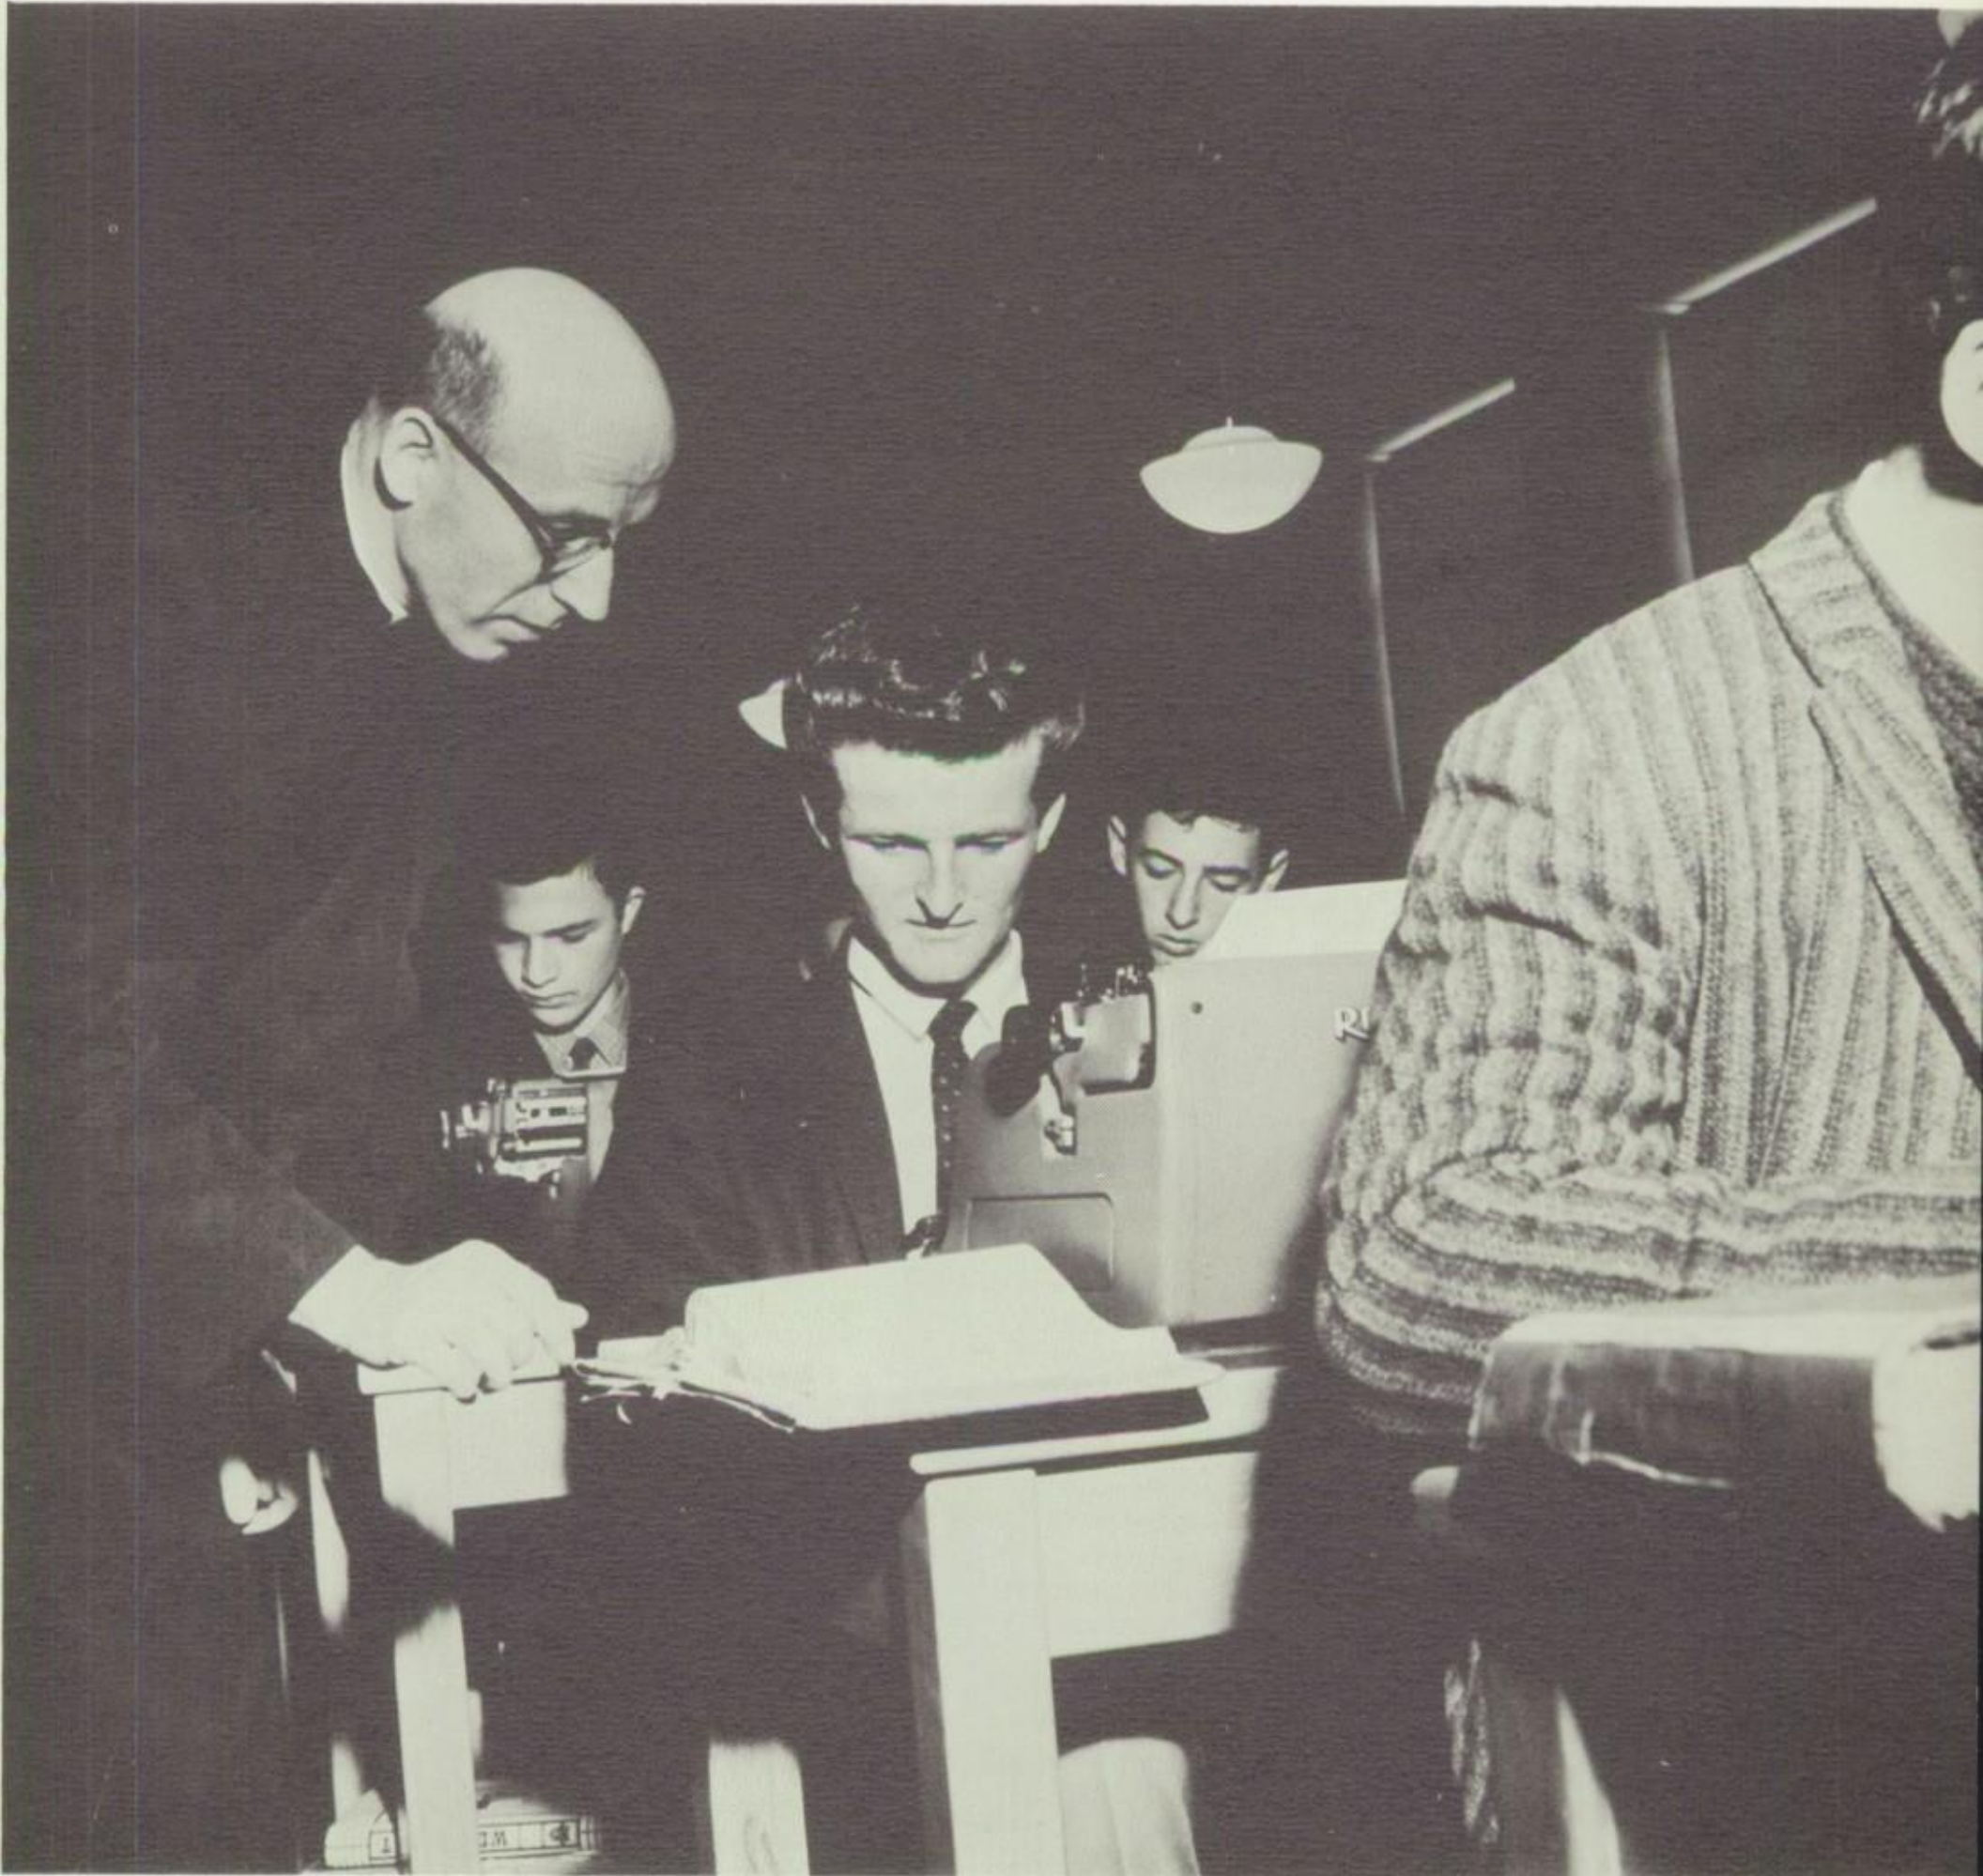

MR. DONNELLY CLEARLY EXPLAINS the principle of "assets minus liabilities equals capital" to George Rudy during bookkeeping class. Listening attentively, the rest of Junior Nine picks up some worthwhile points in this commercial subject. Mr. Donnelly is known for the "easy and clear" manner in which he presents the material.

"MAKING THE EARLY MORNING ROUNDS," Mr. Schmidt carefully checks the bookkeeping homework from the previous night. Fundamental principles and the many business terms are taught to these eager Juniors. With the knowledge learned in bookkeeping, these commercial students are training themselves for jobs as accountants and clerks.

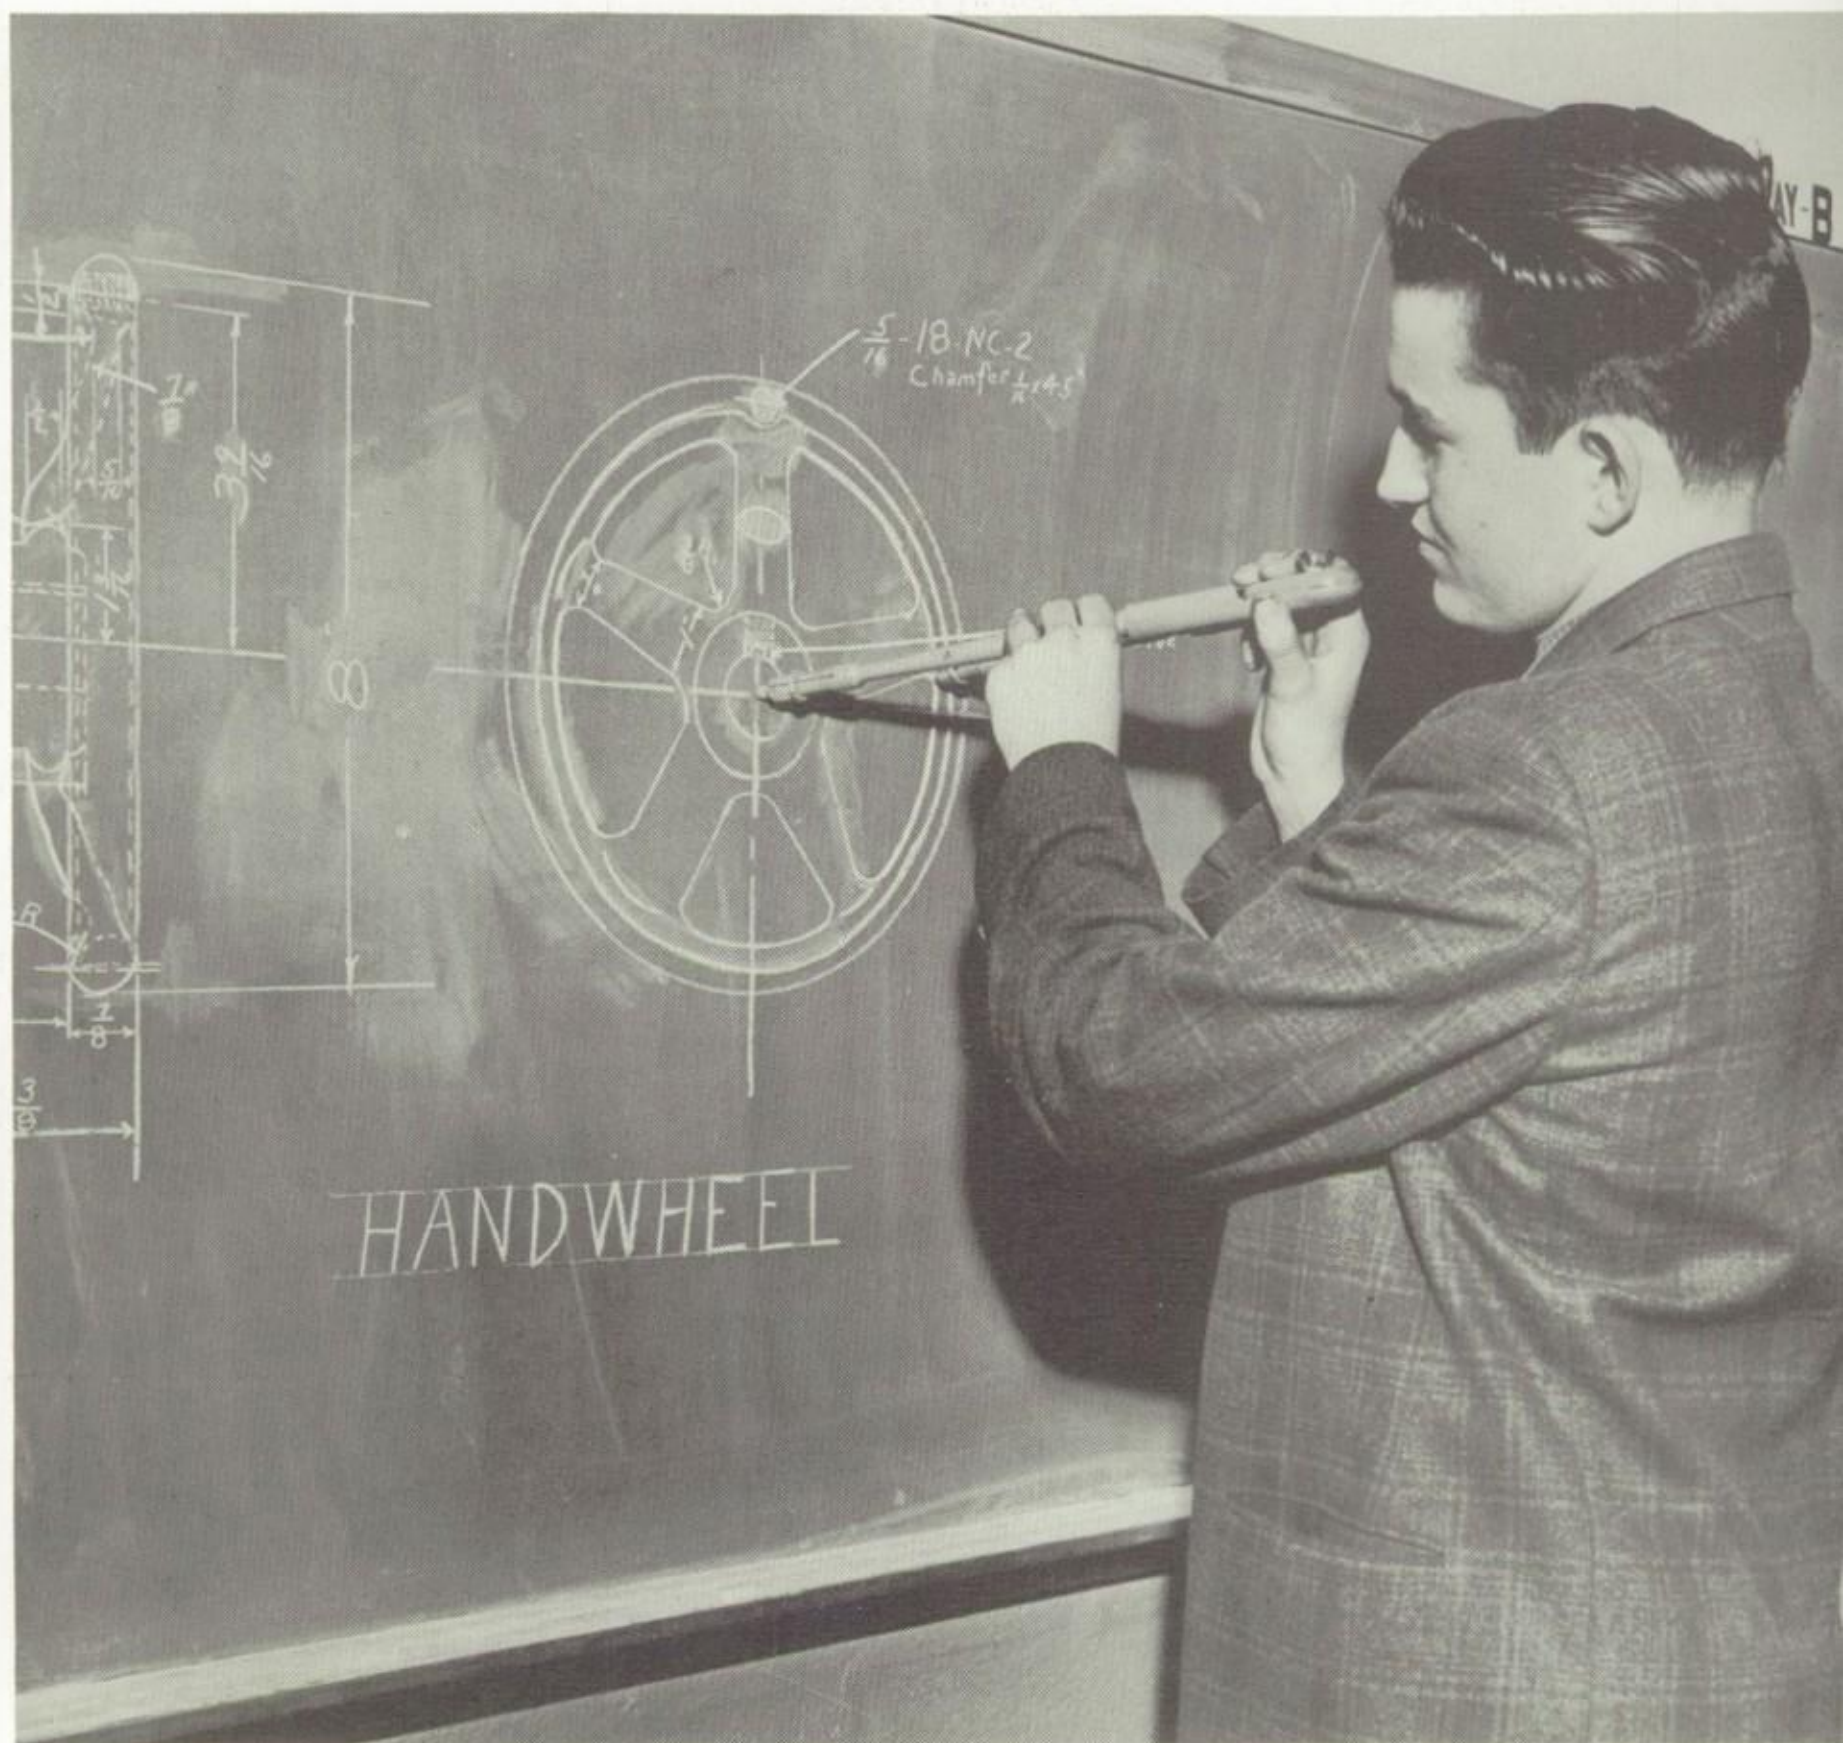

THE CLICKING AND TAPPING of the typewriter continually echoes through the room of this typing class. Father Jendzura is quietly observing the work of Jim Ryan. Father is ready and willing to lend his able assistance to these boys as they try to type thirty words per minute. This course provides the student with an excellent chance to acquire a skill that he may use in many a trade; typing is essential in many business fields and adeptness in this course will prove rewarding in later years. With nimble fingers tapping endlessly in the background, Father announces that the class will soon try for thirty-five words.

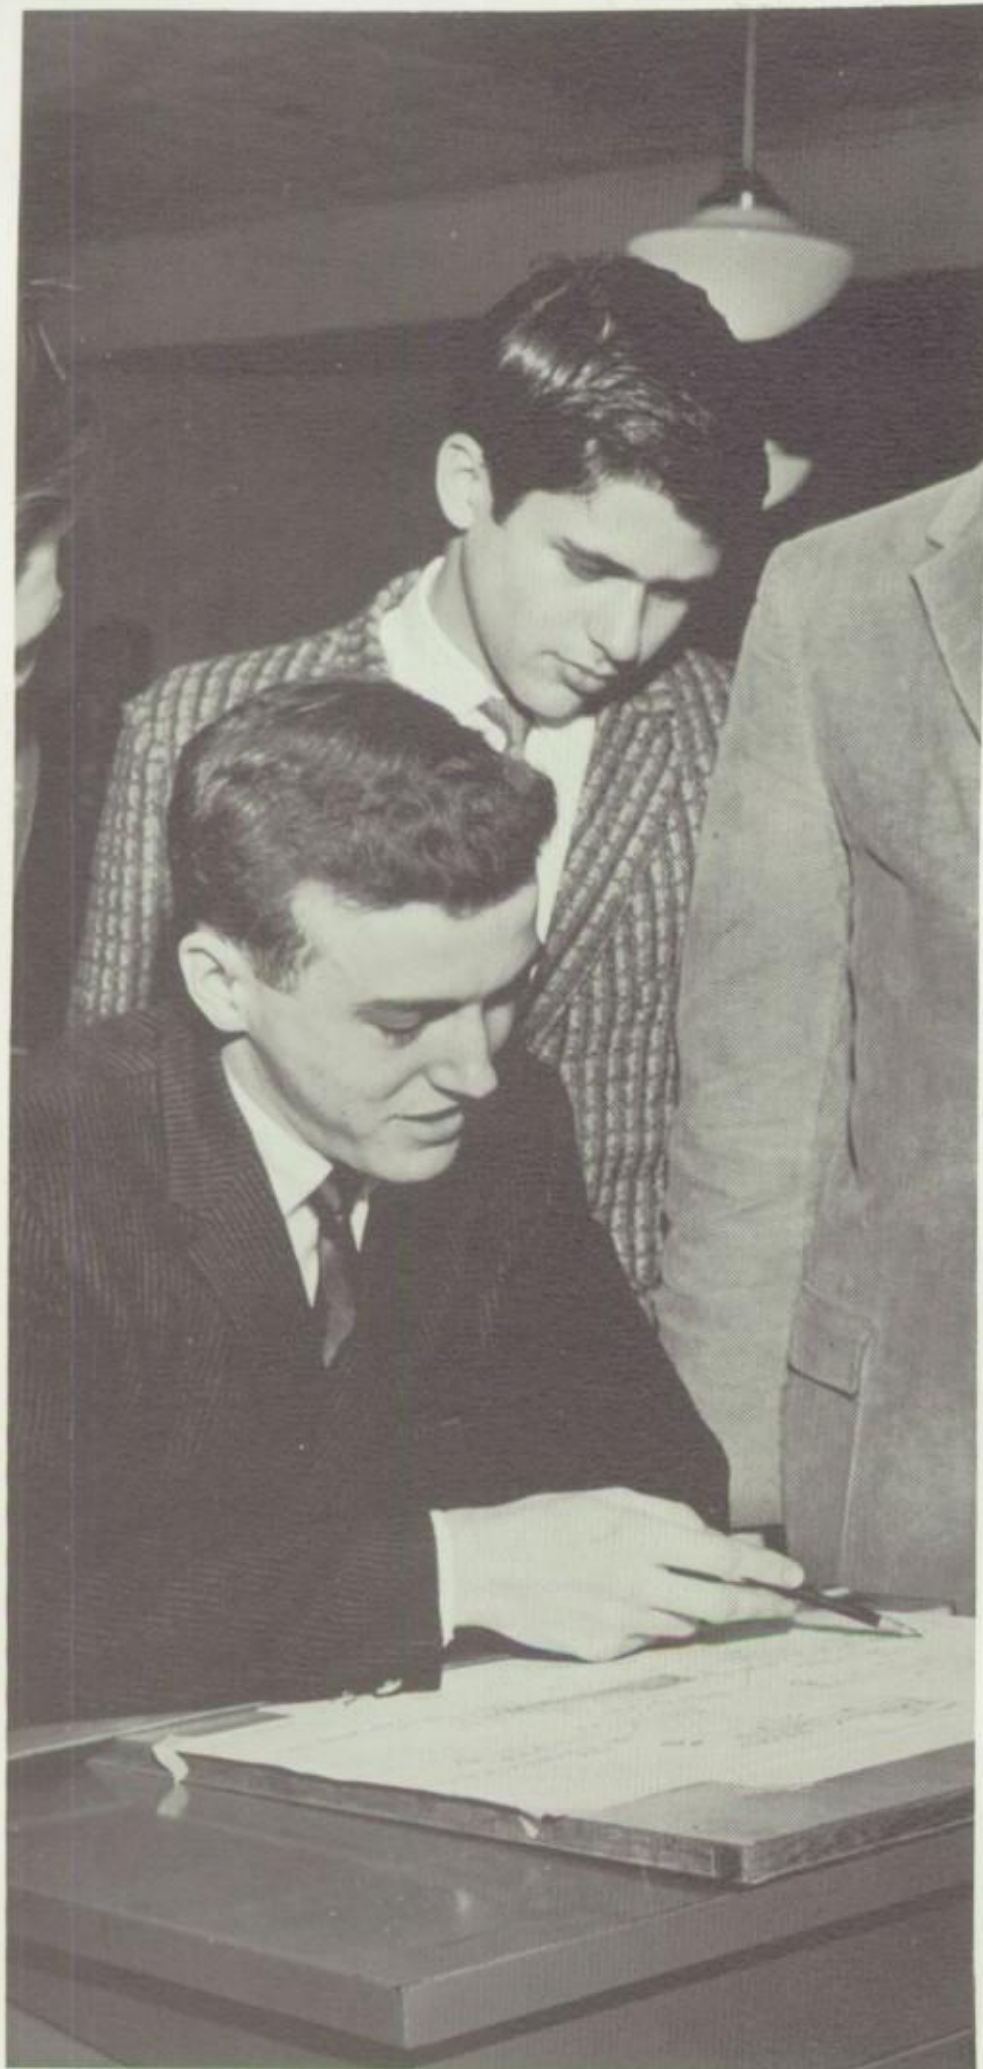

construction and design

WILLIAM NAGLE, one of our future draftsmen from the Junior class, appears to have this problem licked. It will take many more hours of study and work, however, before he successfully completes his course. Father McGinley's individual attention help make his mechanical drawing class rewarding and interesting.

IT SEEMS AS THOUGH the Juniors in the above picture may have a slight difference of opinion concerning one of the finer points of mechanical drawing. This type of lively discussion is a fine example of the spark of interest which our Oblate teachers somehow manage to enkindle.

THE STUDENTS in the above pictures are undoubtedly amazed at the speed with which even their minor mistakes can be detected by the expert eyes of their teachers. Constant corrections and suggestions constitute a major portion of commercial art and mechanical drawing.

Bach, Beethoven and Brubeck

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT; some of the boys from our excellent Band hold an informal meeting. These students devote their spare time and expend a great deal of energy to develop a band of which we may all be proud.

MR. ZINGRONE, our outstanding music teacher and band director, discusses an arrangement with Tony Marciniak. Mr. Zingrone's wide musical background and sincere interest in his musicians combine to produce our All-Catholic band.

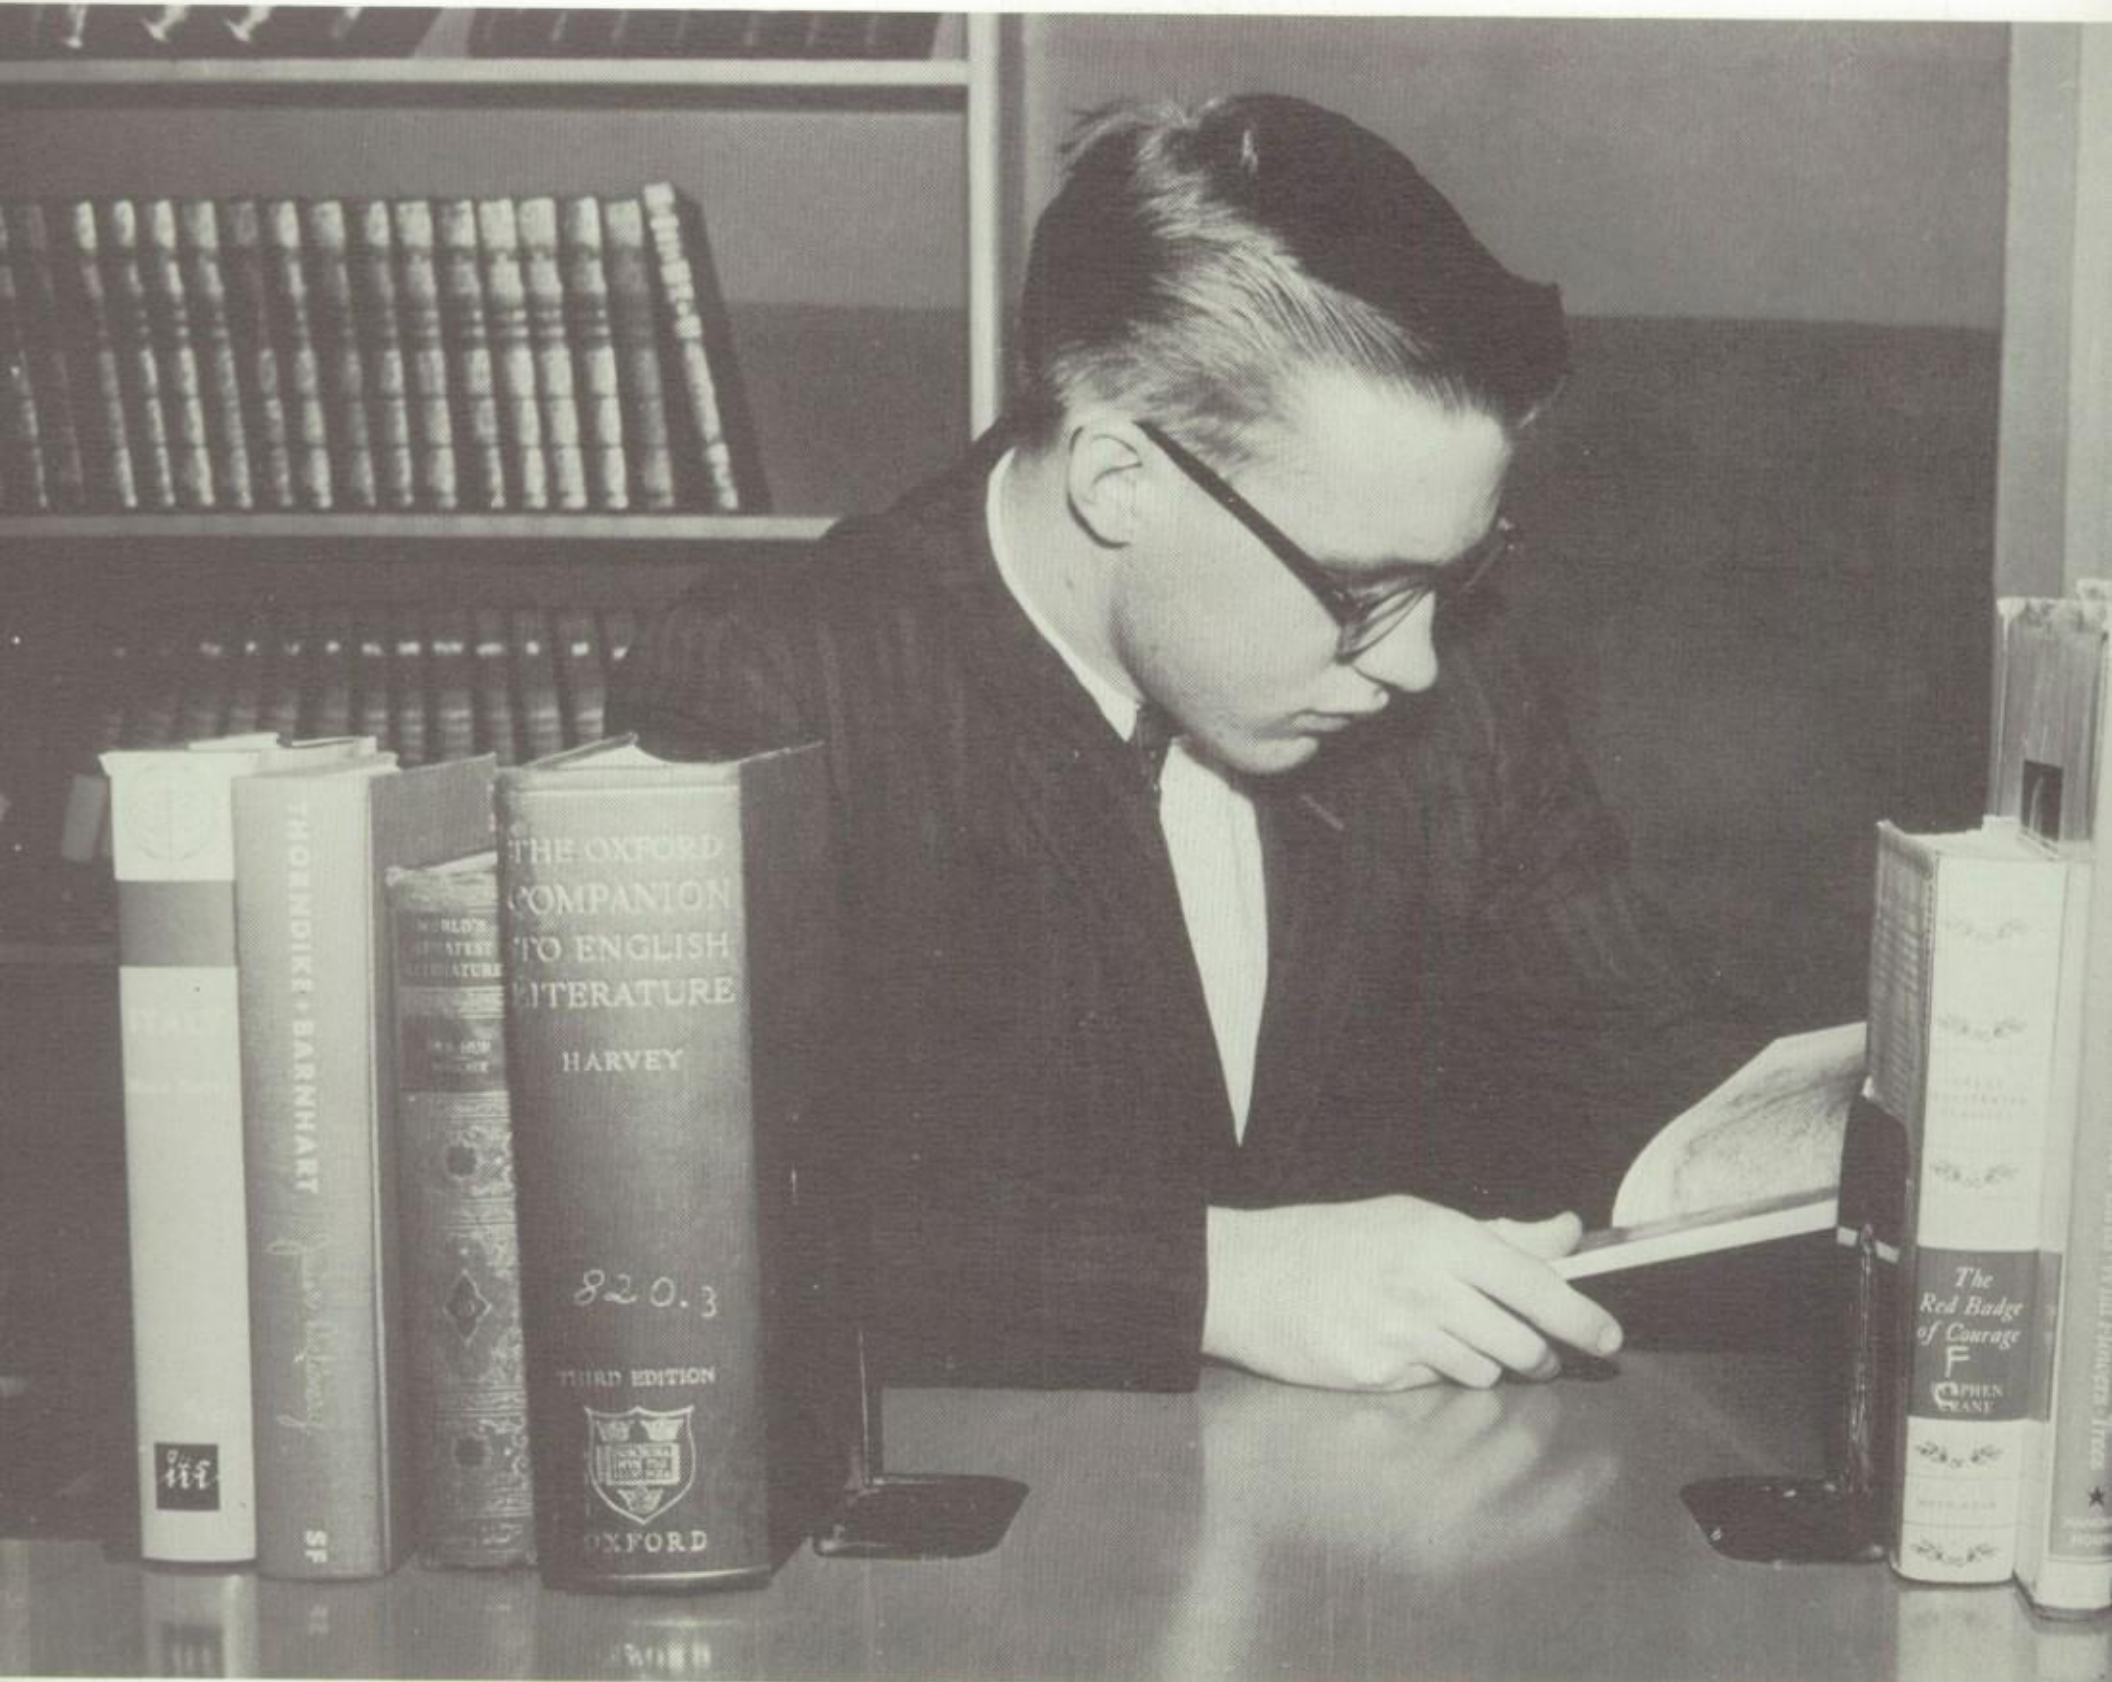

JIM NOLL, a young member of our top-rate band, takes time to practice his difficult instrument, the tuba. Jim, like the other members of our band, takes his music seriously and works hard at it.

IF YOU THINK THE BARITONE is an easy instrument to master, ask Rick Marengo, a music student in good standing. Many hours of practice are necessary to produce the smooth notes of the baritone.

PARTIALLY HIDDEN behind that mountain of assorted drums is Vince Bolognone, one of our would-be Gene Krupas. Today Vince is a member of a top high school band entertaining his fellow students; tomorrow, perhaps, he'll be a member of one of the top dance bands in the country, entertaining the American public.

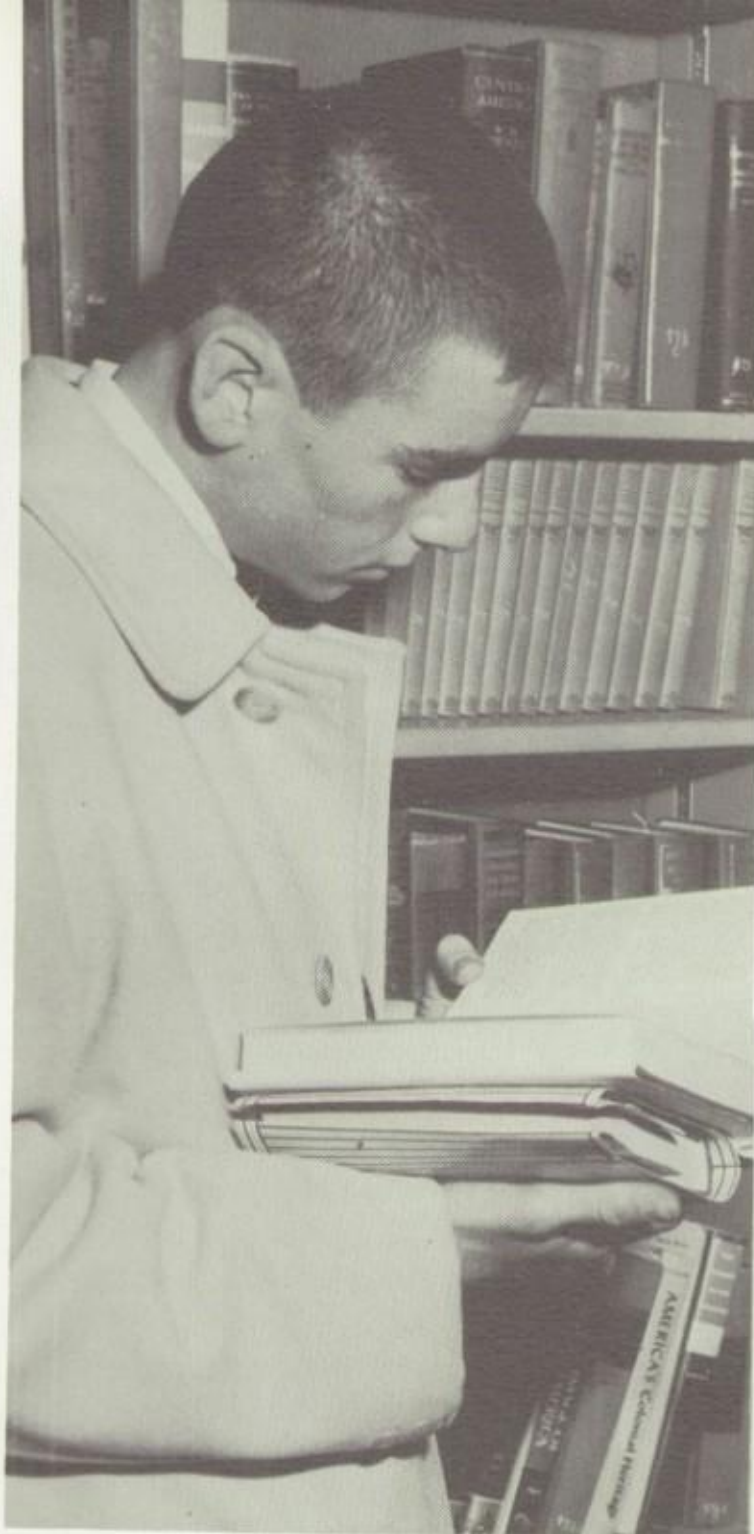

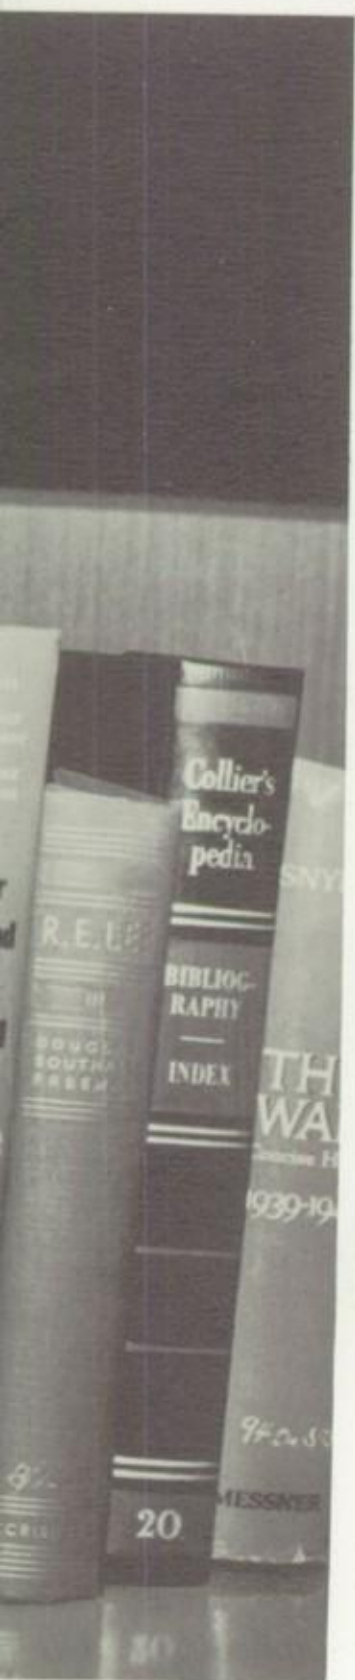

THE GREAT SCHOLASTIC INFLUENCE of the Oblates of St. Francis has finally paid off. Tom Gradel of Senior Four is now using his precious spare time in the pursuit of one of the finer things in life, namely, literature. He is part of a movement to promote good reading habits for the average student as well as for the student planning to enter college. Progress is slow, but success is assured. If it works with Tom Gradel, then it will work with anyone.

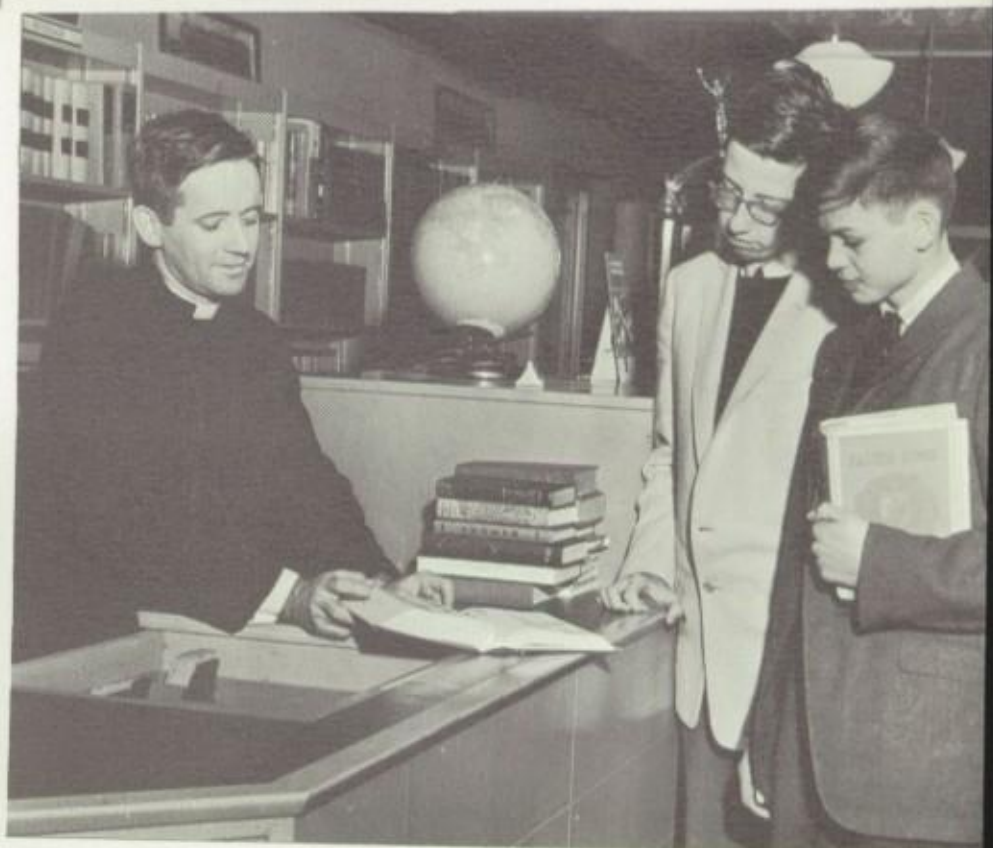

. . . information . . . stimulation

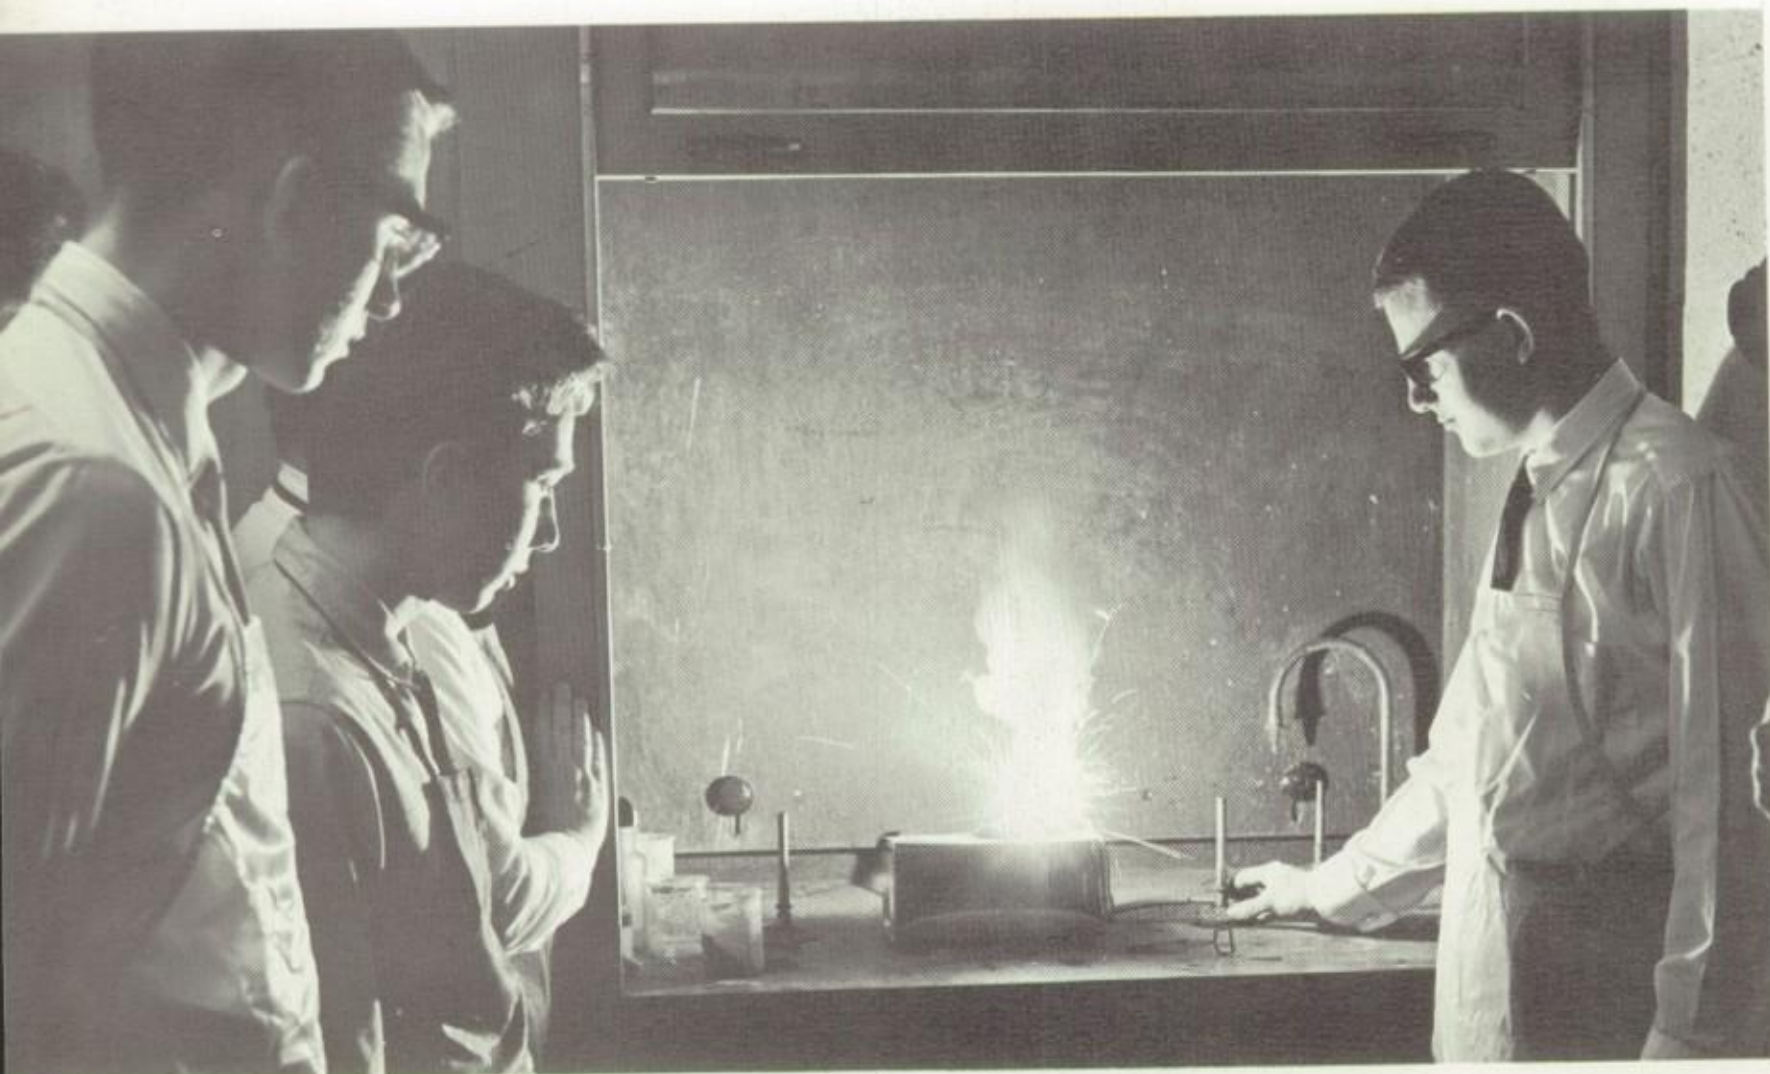

A TYPICAL JUDGE STUDENT spending his spare time before Jug pages through the literature in the library. An increasing interest in the great literary treasures of the library has continually been advocated by the faculty.

BELOW is John O'Driscoll making use of the card catalogue. At the BOTTOM Joseph Henrich, of Senior Four, an illustrious protege of Father Hearn, is seeking help from Father so that he might assist Alex Pakysz, a Freshman, in locating the "Canterbury Tales" from this great storehouse of knowledge. Besides Joe, Father Hearn has other assistants to lift some of the duties of running the library from his shoulders. Father has been doing an excellent job in arranging and supervising the library. Thank you, Father. Keep up the good work.

OUR LIBRARY PROVIDES an excellent opportunity for these freshmen to catch up on homework after school. When many minds get together, great thoughts can flow in the amicable atmosphere found here. We are provided with opportunities for both study and light reading.

ARTHUR DREAGER, Joseph Lydon and Eugene Gallo of Senior Two look on as a chemical reaction takes place in the hood. In addition to the practical knowledge we gain, lab also provides an added spark of interest to the course.

JOSEPH CONNELL explains the atomic structure of a molecule to Senior Twelve as Father Murphy stands ready to supply additional information . . . or corrections.

IN THE LAB these Senior Two students are putting into practice what they have learned in the classroom. Father Wagner is always ready to provide answers for any questions which may arise.

Through the study of Physics, we learn the amazing reasons for many of the phenomena which have puzzled us throughout our lives. Some of these interesting topics covered are the principles of sound, light, energy and the basic fundamentals of electricity. Our learned science teachers see to it that we receive a basic knowledge of this ever expanding subject.

"THE VELOCITY OF SOUND at zero Centigrade is seven hundred and forty miles per hour," states Fr. Gradel as he explains the principle of sound amplification. Explaining the laws of nature, he tells them of the actions and reactions of the objects about them. During these simulating lectures, we receive a better understanding of the daily occurrences in life.

"I HOPE WE DON'T GET MORE THAN A TWO PERCENT ERROR," says Roger Britt to his table buddy Charles Campbell of Junior Three during this lab session in Physics. By working out the numerous problems and experiments in lab, the students are familiarized with the interesting facts concerning motion, boiling points and sound. These fascinating classes prepare us with a good background toward the future study of the other sciences. They also give us a feeling of accomplishment after finishing the experiment.

FATHER KELLY AIDS one of Sophomore One's number with an obscure biological point. While trying to simplify their course without oversimplifying, our biology teachers give much of their time and of themselves, so that we may know the delight of discovery, a reward of Man's insatiable curiosity.

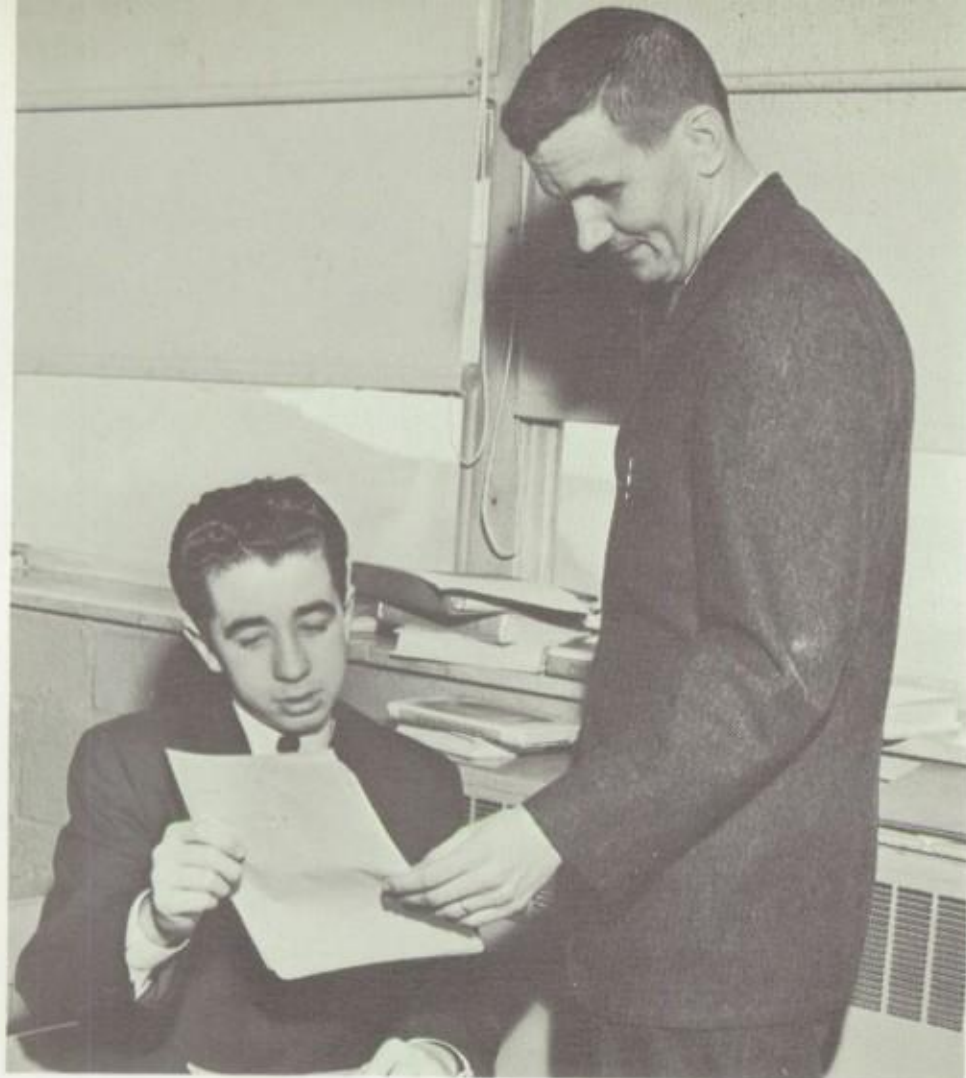

The World around us

ONE OF THE SIMPLEST ORGANISMS in the marvelous, and often complex, entity of creation, the paramecium, is being explained to Sophomore Two by Father Schings.

FATHER PATRICK KELLY TRIES to teach one of our neophyte biologists, Robert Szamborski of Sophomore 1, the various techniques one needs to know to keep a fast moving paramecium in sight; this animal's wild gyrations have maddened many students.

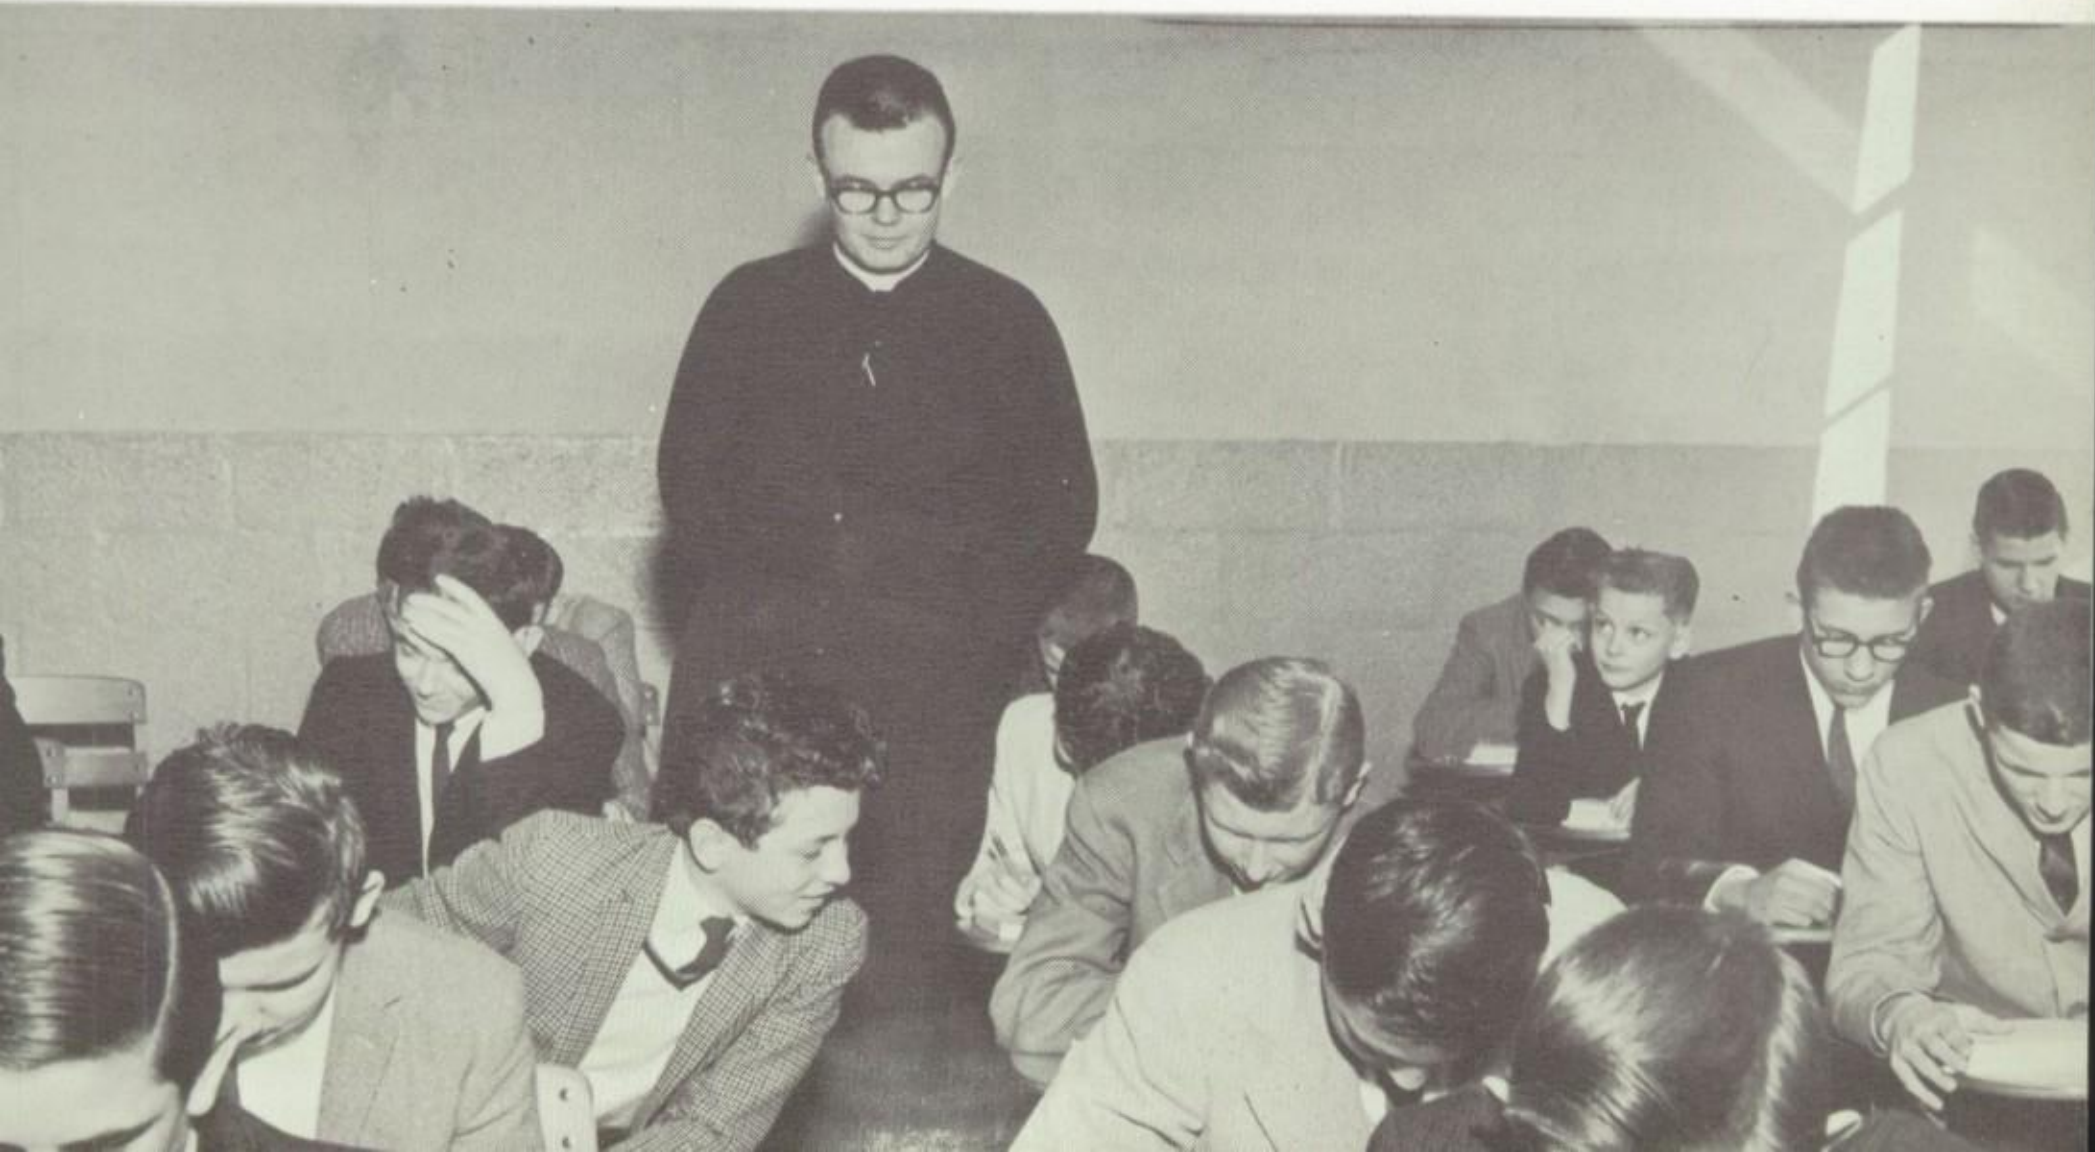

ALTHOUGH IT IS OFTEN FUN, General Science is not devoid of more serious instances, for example; tests. G. Saunders of Freshman Sixteen is not exactly a paragon of joy as Mr. Keashon returns some test papers. However, things will be brighter someday, and with Mr. Keashon, someday will be soon.

Science in general

Everything under the sun is the only qualification under which General Science operates. Biology, physics, chemistry, astronomy, and meteorology are only a few of the "ologies" and "onomies" which are lightly and briefly touched upon in this course, which runs the gamut of the physical sciences.

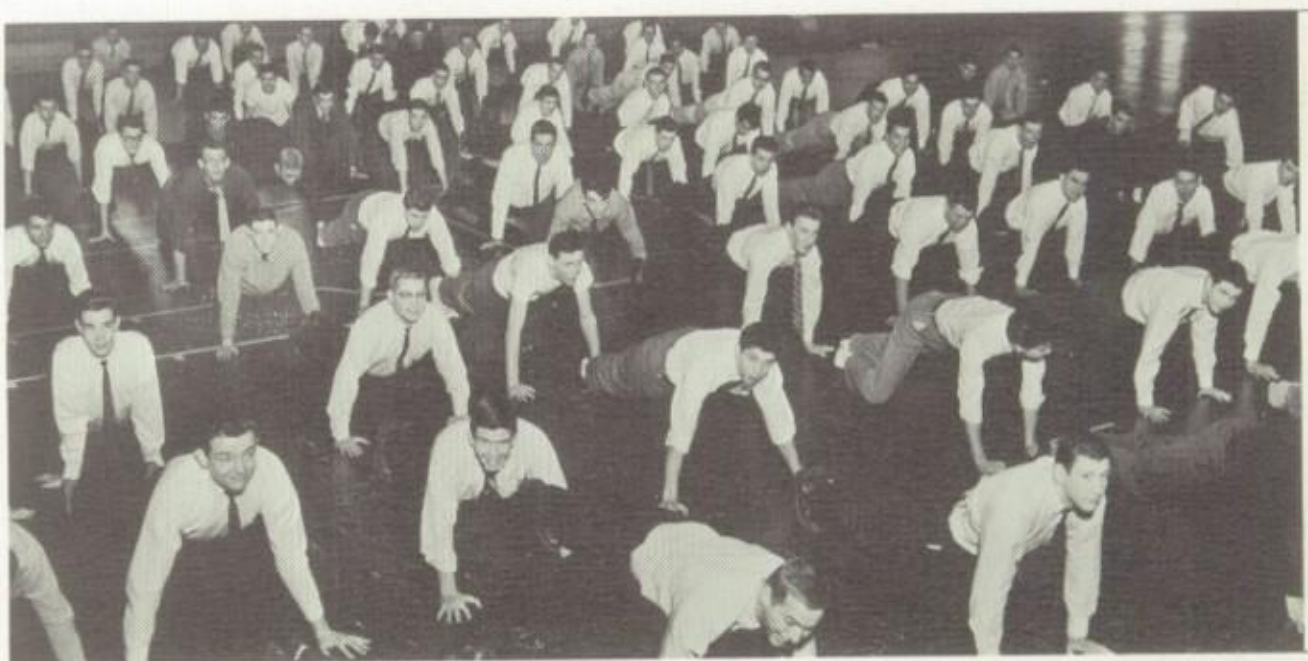

Taught to give us a start from which any science may be pursued, General Science is our primal introduction to the world of facts and the facts of the world which man has amassed since science began.

GENERAL SCIENCE ISN'T ALWAYS facts from a book. Sometimes, the teachers make some observations of their own. So it is with Mr. Rapp, who is noting some strange behavior on the part of C. Grassi of Freshman 2. Students make observations too, and Mr. Grassi will make scientific history if he turns around.

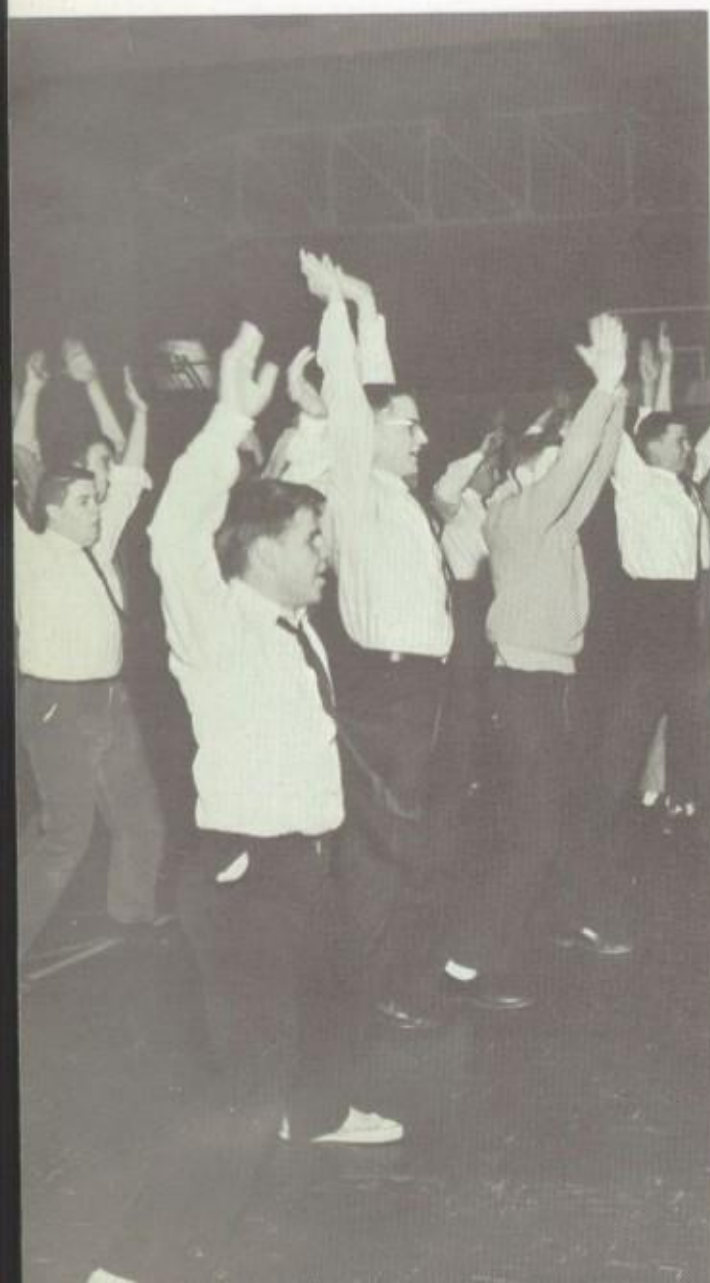

SENIOR SEVEN PUTS John Dewey's philosophy of education through experience into practice. Father Murphy—John, that is—never taught Solid Geometry like this.

THE SMILING FACES REVEAL how easy these exercises are. Thanks to the expert instruction with which Mr. Degnan guides us during these weekly workouts, we will be fit to meet the requirements of the future, with sound bodies.

GYM—Developing a strong body for a strong mind. These exercises might seem tiring now, but when it comes time for us to meet our military obligations, we will already be familiar with such exercise.

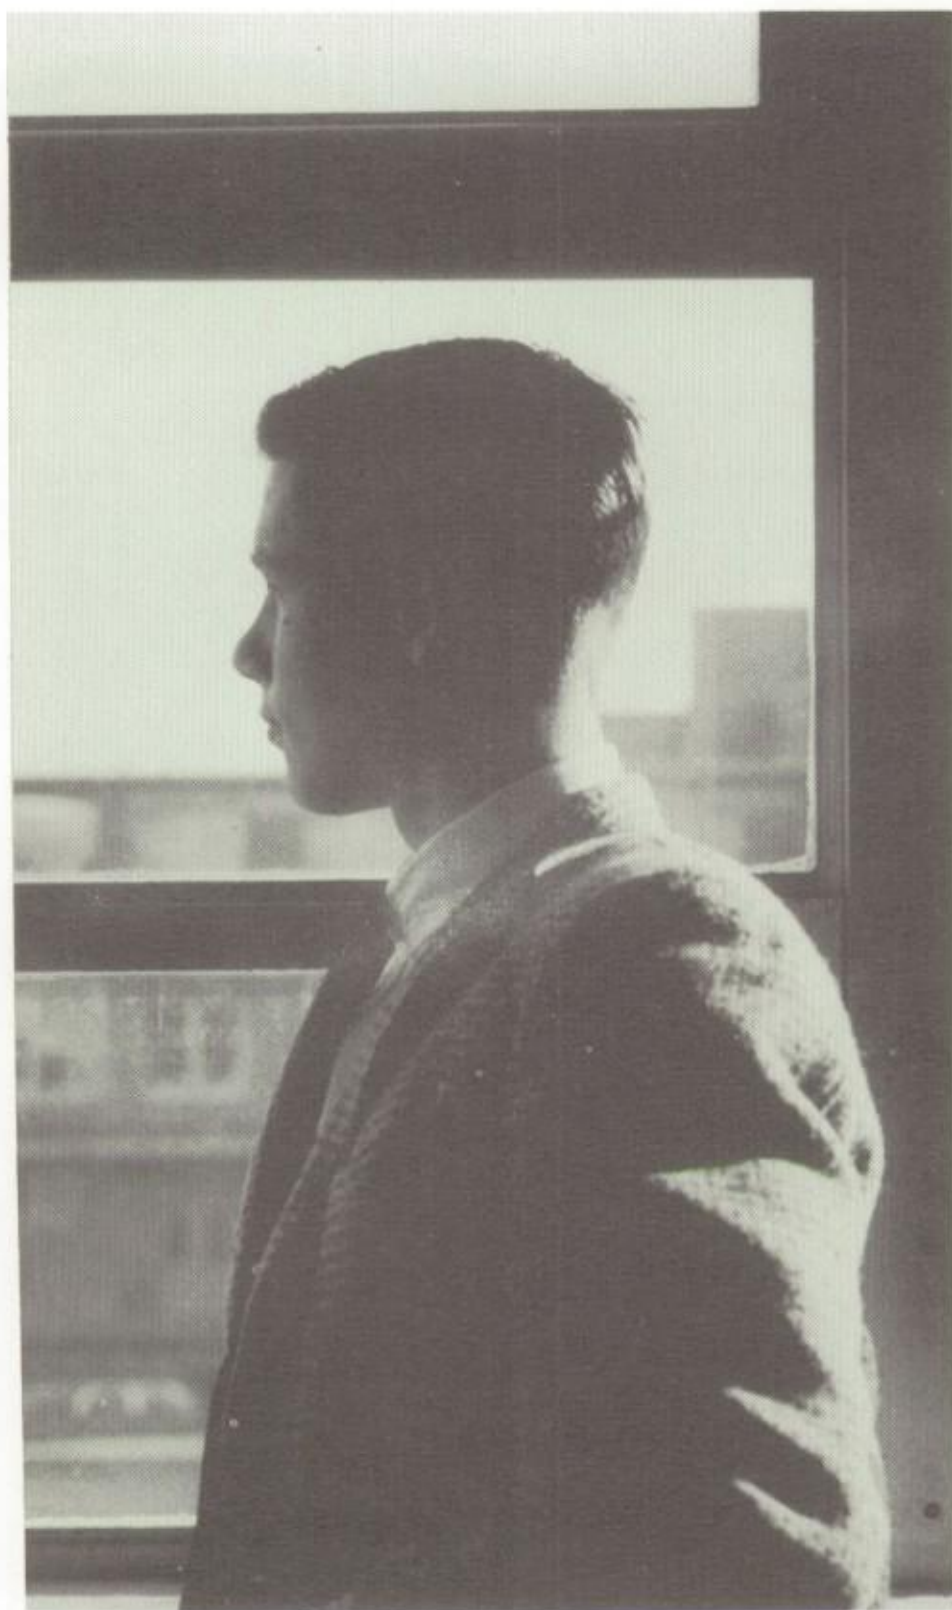

Complying with the wishes of our new President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Mr. Degnan, our physical education instructor cheerfully and faithfully carries out a very rigid physical fitness program. Besides calisthenics, we play basketball, and various other sports. Because of our country's poor showing in gymnastics during the recent Olympic Games, our gym classes are aimed at producing Gold Medal winners in 1964.

THIS IS THE FATHER JUDGE chain-gang in action. Each afternoon a similar group of heavy-hearted offenders can be seen working diligently in reparation for their various misdemeanors. They must work steadily and efficiently since the discipline department frequently checks on their progress. By the time the job is completed the workers are usually convinced that crime doesn't pay.

"SIT UP STRAIGHT, arms folded, back against the table." For the forsaken souls in jug these disheartening words signify the beginning of an hour of boredom and discomfort. Time hangs heavily as they grudgingly pay the penalty for their breach of the rules. They sit, suffer, sulk and watch the clock until their unpleasant ordeal comes to an appreciated end.

THE PHYSICAL CHECKUP given to each class in its Junior year can often detect illnesses before they become too serious. The doctor has almost concluded this check-up, but there are many more boys to examine before his job is completed.

Our juniors are in the twilight zone of their Quest. Having come more than half the way, our senior squires are preparing for the last stage of their assault. Theirs is the task of achieving that which we have achieved.

They have the duty of furthering the ideals which we all desire and which we have partially realized in our four years here. Our Juniors' importance lies in their potential to perceive the importance of a moral manner of living.

They are in a battle against unrestrained secularism; they have ample guidance, both spiritual and physical, to reach their Quest, to realize that Christ brought to this earth not only a new covenant but a new way of life.

While developing ourselves both spiritually and culturally, we must not neglect our physical and competitive needs. Through rigorous and wholesome competition we embrace the attributes of fair play and sportsmanship. These Christian qualities guide us through our inspiring victories and bitter defeats. We appreciate not only the glorification of being a winner but also the greatness of being a loser.

Under Salesian auspices we are formed into the right mental and physical frames of mind and body. Participating in the various sports, we learn a sense of responsibility in representing our school. We learn the necessity of cooperating with our fellow man in order to attain success. We also learn how to take directions, an asset which enables us to associate with our authorities more readily.

The pursuance of a win is analogous to the undertaking of our quest. With resolute spirit we aim persistently at our goal; we strive toward the triumph of success. In the following pages, our moments of joyous victory, our moments of humbling defeat are displayed in our sports story of 1961.

The crisp autumn air, our well-drilled band, our best girls in their colorful outfits, the players nervously toeing the turf, a moment of tenseness at the shrill blast of the referee's whistle, the drum rolls, the crowd comes to its feet, the ball is in the air—football season has opened! Spring practice has long since passed, no more long hours pushing blocking machines; our bodies are in prime condition. The time has come to show our skill.

As the season progressed hopes of a winning season dimmed, but our spirit remained hopeful. Our team, in the true spirit of Father Judge, played hard, but a winning season was not to be had. "Wait 'till next year."

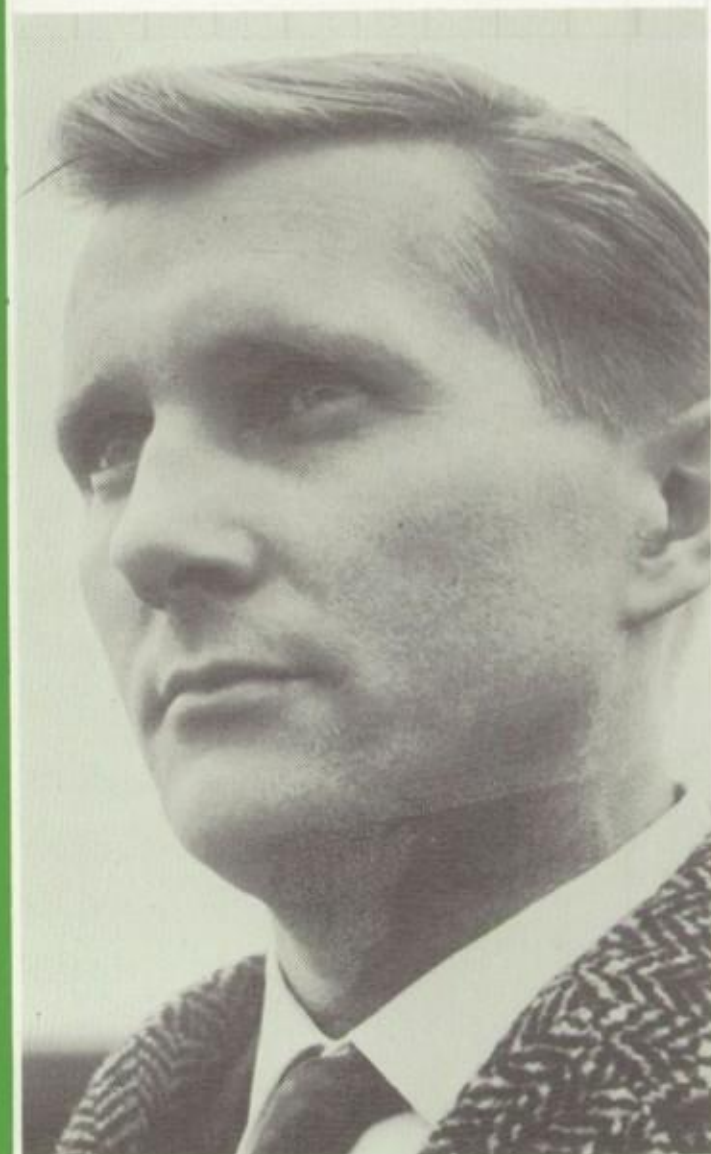

ABOVE: Quarterback Howard Lindsey rolls to the right while looking for a receiver to shake a West Catholic defender. Just before the red-dodging linebacker pounces on the ball, How- and unleashes a 20-yarder for another first down.

A QUICK OPENING IN THE LINE gives fullback, Bob Schwartz, enough room to slip through. Quarterback, Howard Lindsey fakes left then hands the pigskin to Bob while right guard John Fry and other linemen open the hole. Again, good blocking is the important factor; without it the St. James linemen would have clogged the hole and stopped our charging ball carrier. Howard often forced our opponents into mistakes leaving the necessary opening.

WHITIE SULLIVAN HUGS THE PIGSKIN after grabbing Joe Joyce's forward pass in an explosive battle with our arch rivals, North Catholic. Whitie grabbed several passes and squirmed through the Falcons' defensive. Although we scored four T.D.'s in the final period, we still fell shy, 26-36.

OUR HARD DRIVING SOPHOMORE HALFBACK, Tom Stretch, eludes a Cardinal Dougherty defender in our annual Thanksgiving Day Game. Tom's fine running sparked a last quarter drive that put the Crusaders in a scoring position. Offensive threats were rare as gold in this all-out defensive game that ended in a 0-0 tie.

OUR LOYAL FANS ARE STANDING and eagerly waiting for the referee to signal another first down so they can shout an encouraging cheer. In spite of the rain, the Crusaders packed Lincoln High's stadium for our traditional hard-fought battle with our friendly enemies, North Catholic.

TEAMWORK AND MASS BLOCKING PREVENTS West Catholic linemen from halting, fullback, Bob Schwartz, in an end sweep during a last quarter rally. Good blocking is an absolute necessity in a successful running attack. Linemen throw their huge bodies against the brutal defenders, the decoy hits his man with moving force, the ends push in; the guards push out. It's the same tough battle every play and good blocking always pays off.

BOTH COLD AND TIRED BUT DETERMINED to catch his second wind and gain on the leaders is senior speedster, Mike Devine. Mike, a real hustler, increases his speed on an open stretch of the Cobbs Creek golf course, site of the Catholic War Veterans' Meet.

MAINTAINING A GOOD POSITION and leading the Judge harriers past the first flag is our leader, Tom Lillis. Tom is often given the task of directing the cross-country squad in calisthenics and practice runs through the park. Using his good judgment, Tom helped pace the Crusaders in the Catholic War Veterans' Invitational Meet.

RIGHT: Varsity Harrier Al McKaige looks longingly at the supporting ropes as he crosses the finish line. Tired runners cling to these ropes until they gain enough strength to board the returning bus.

LEFT: "Only 200 yards to go!" grunts sophomore John Lauer as he faces the wind and begins the uphill drive to the finish line. After running more than 4000 yards, John puts all his remaining energy into his final effort to better last week's time. With this spirit and more experience John should be a top distance runner in the next few years.

OOOFF groans goalie Joe Rudy as he absorbs the impact of a booted ball. Joe, who is outstanding in any position, makes this beautiful save while filling in for injured Bob Lewis. Because of His alertness and accuracy Joe was selected for both the All-Catholic and All-Scholastic Teams.

soccer . . . spirit and drive

POSITIONING for a goal, P. Keely moves the ball downfield into the territory of the opposing team. Keely, a Junior, will return next year as our booters pursue their drive to the Catholic League Title.

A KEY MAN on both offense and defense, Tony Bombas, out-positions North's halfback while heading the ball toward our goal. Tony will be playing his important position for two more years.

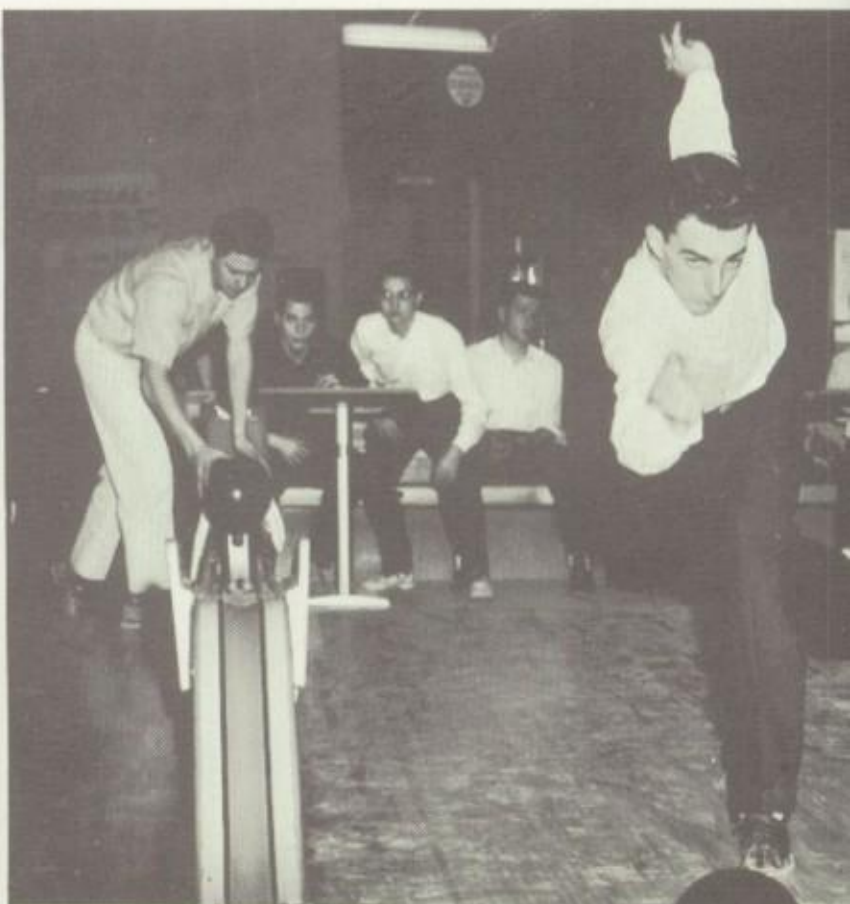

FIRST ROW: Father P. Martijn (coach), P. Keely, J. O'Donnell, C. Roberts, J. Rudy, W. Kogut, A. Bombas, Father D. McCloskey (moderator). SECOND ROW: M. Melone, J. McGlaughlin, J. Scott, C. DETERMINATION MAKES WINNERS. And, kegler Ed Pratowski certainly seems determined . . . and his record for the season proves it.

OUR FUTURE DON CARTER and leading bowler, Frank Hubmaster, shows good form as he lets go with a strike on the Jersey side. Frank led the team to many of the season's victories.

OUR VARSITY KEGLERS came through with a fine season as they finished second in our division. The bowling team included E. Pratoski, F. Reger, H. Mahon (bottom), R. Smith, J. Nowicki, F. Hubmaster, W. Albert, F. Paster-nak (top row).

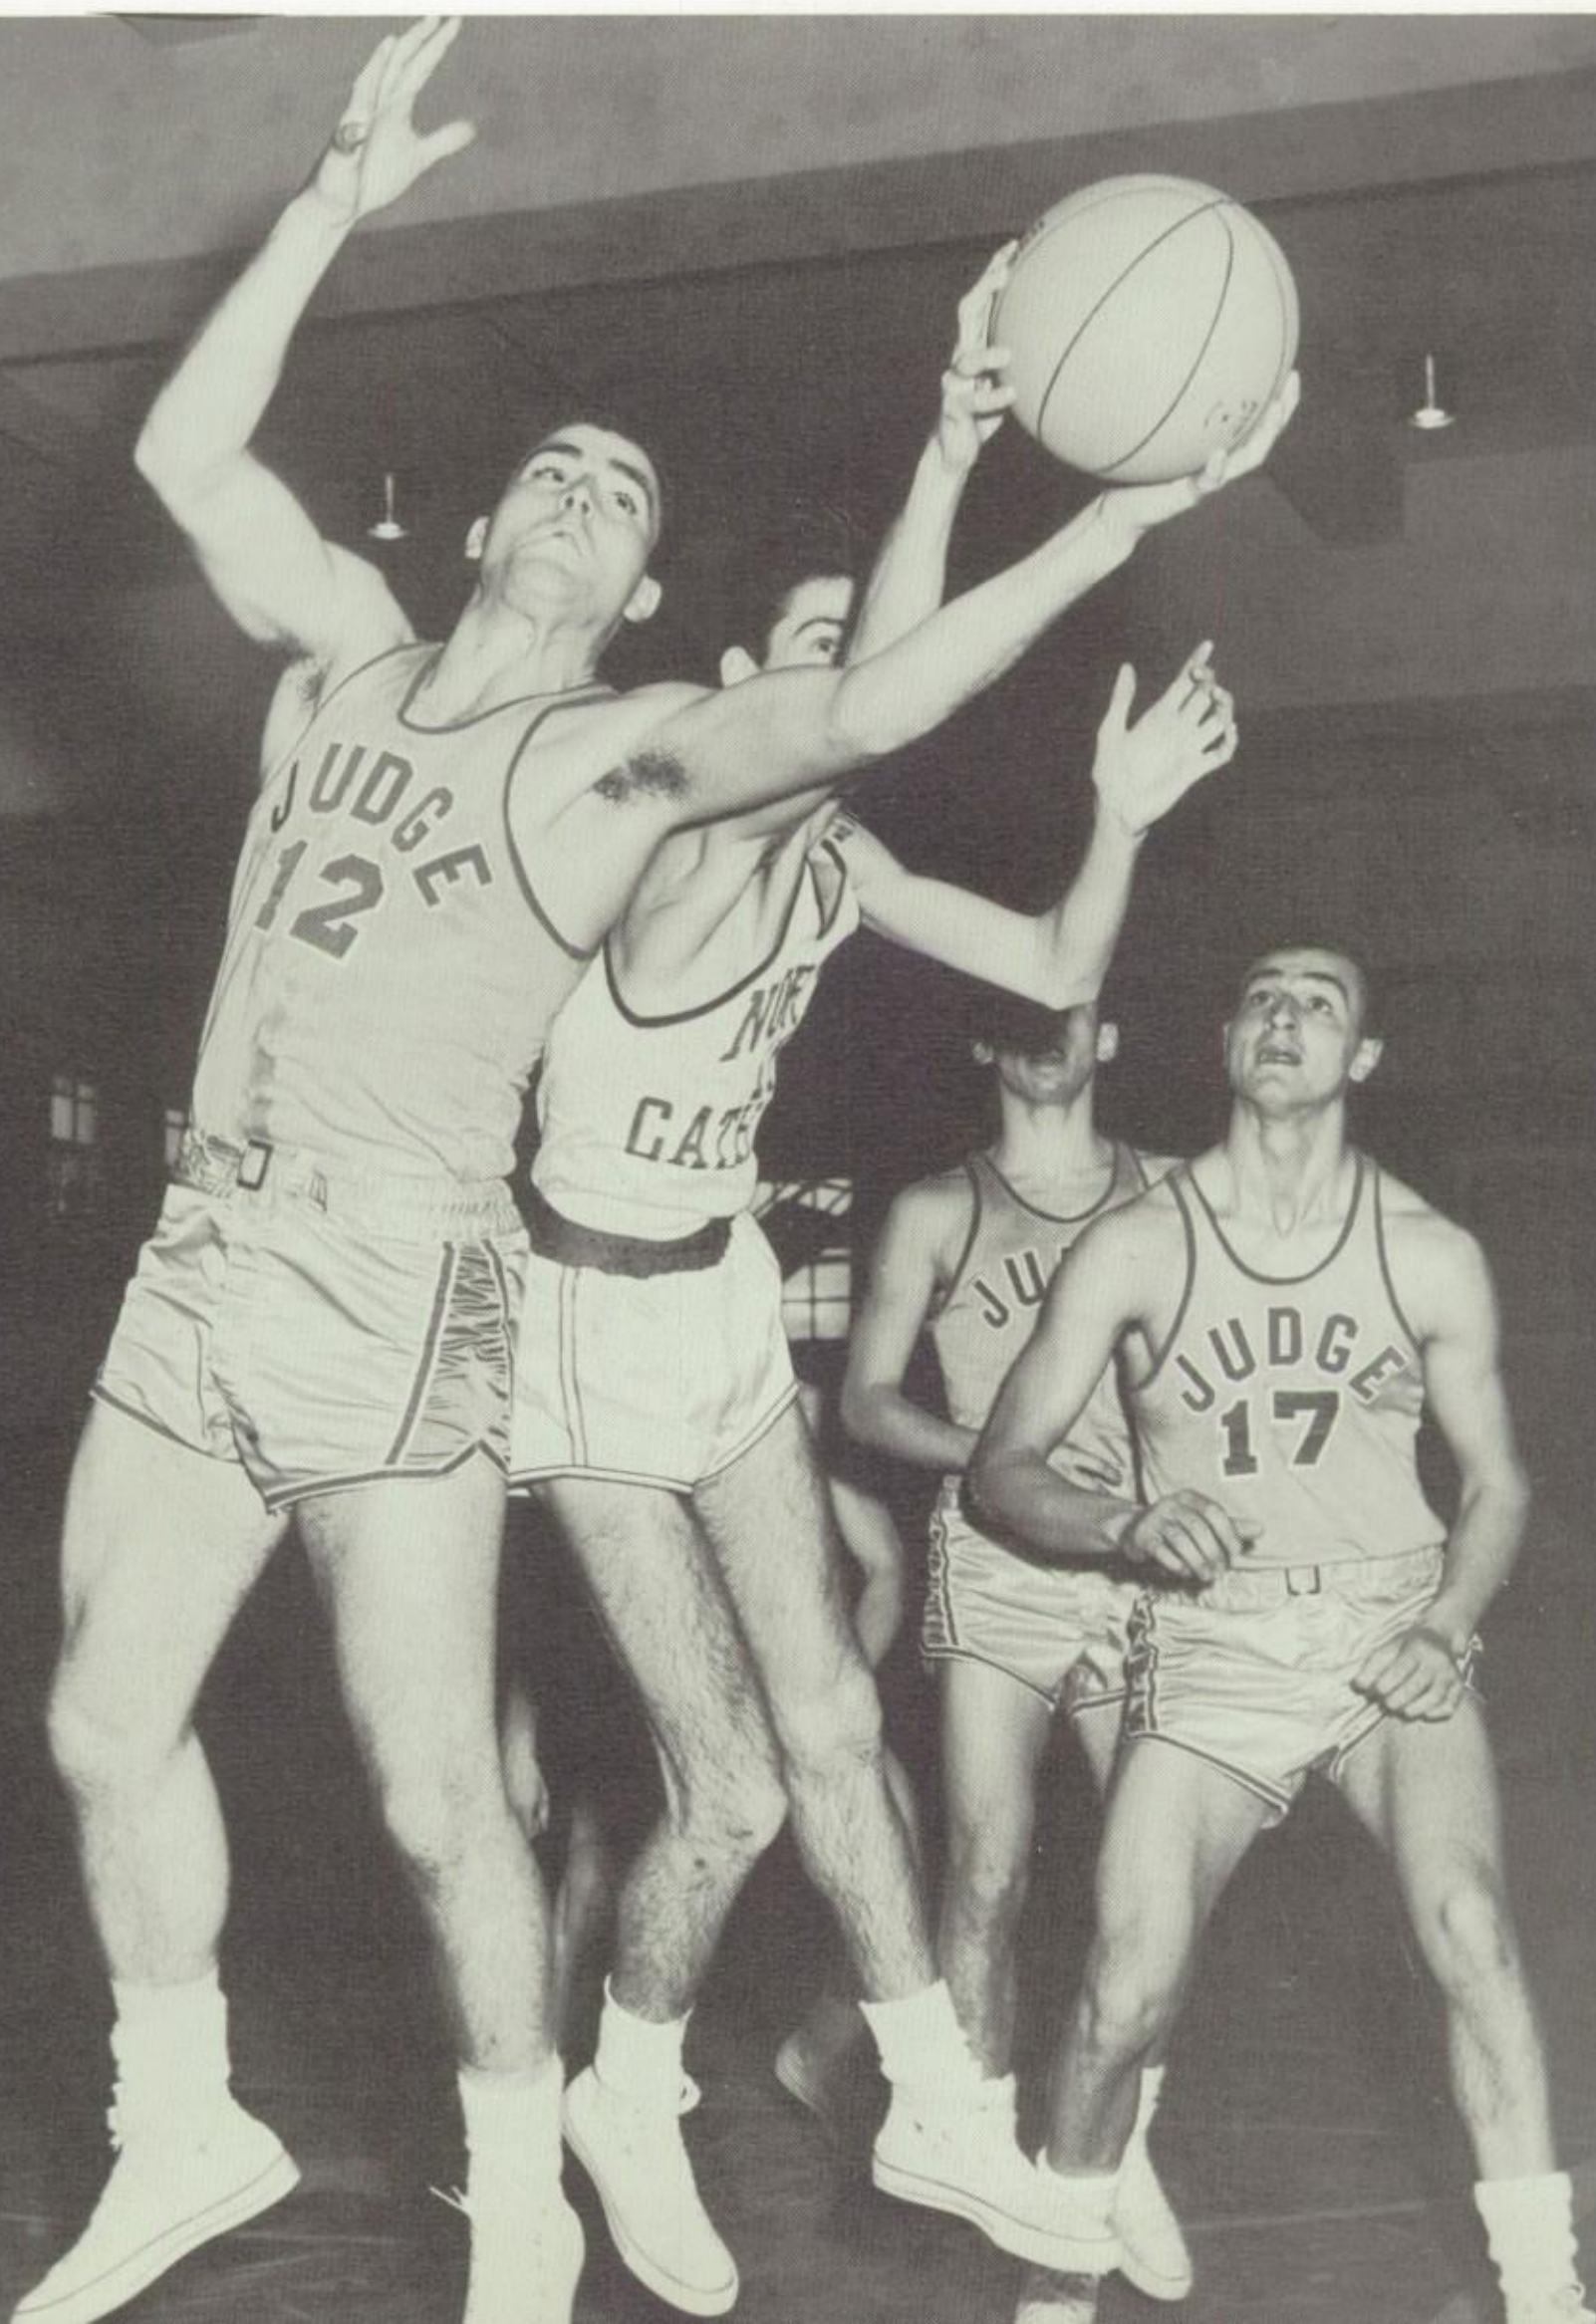

STRIKE!

JUMPING FOR JOY! Ron Smith has that certain feeling of jubilation as the ball reaches its goal for a strike. The team enjoyed many such moments this season.

basketball

14-1 our best season

OUR FUTILELY STRUGGLING opponent is slowly losing possession as the iron-like grip of Lou Martine's hands begin to close over the ball. This play was speedily converted into two more points for the Crusaders.

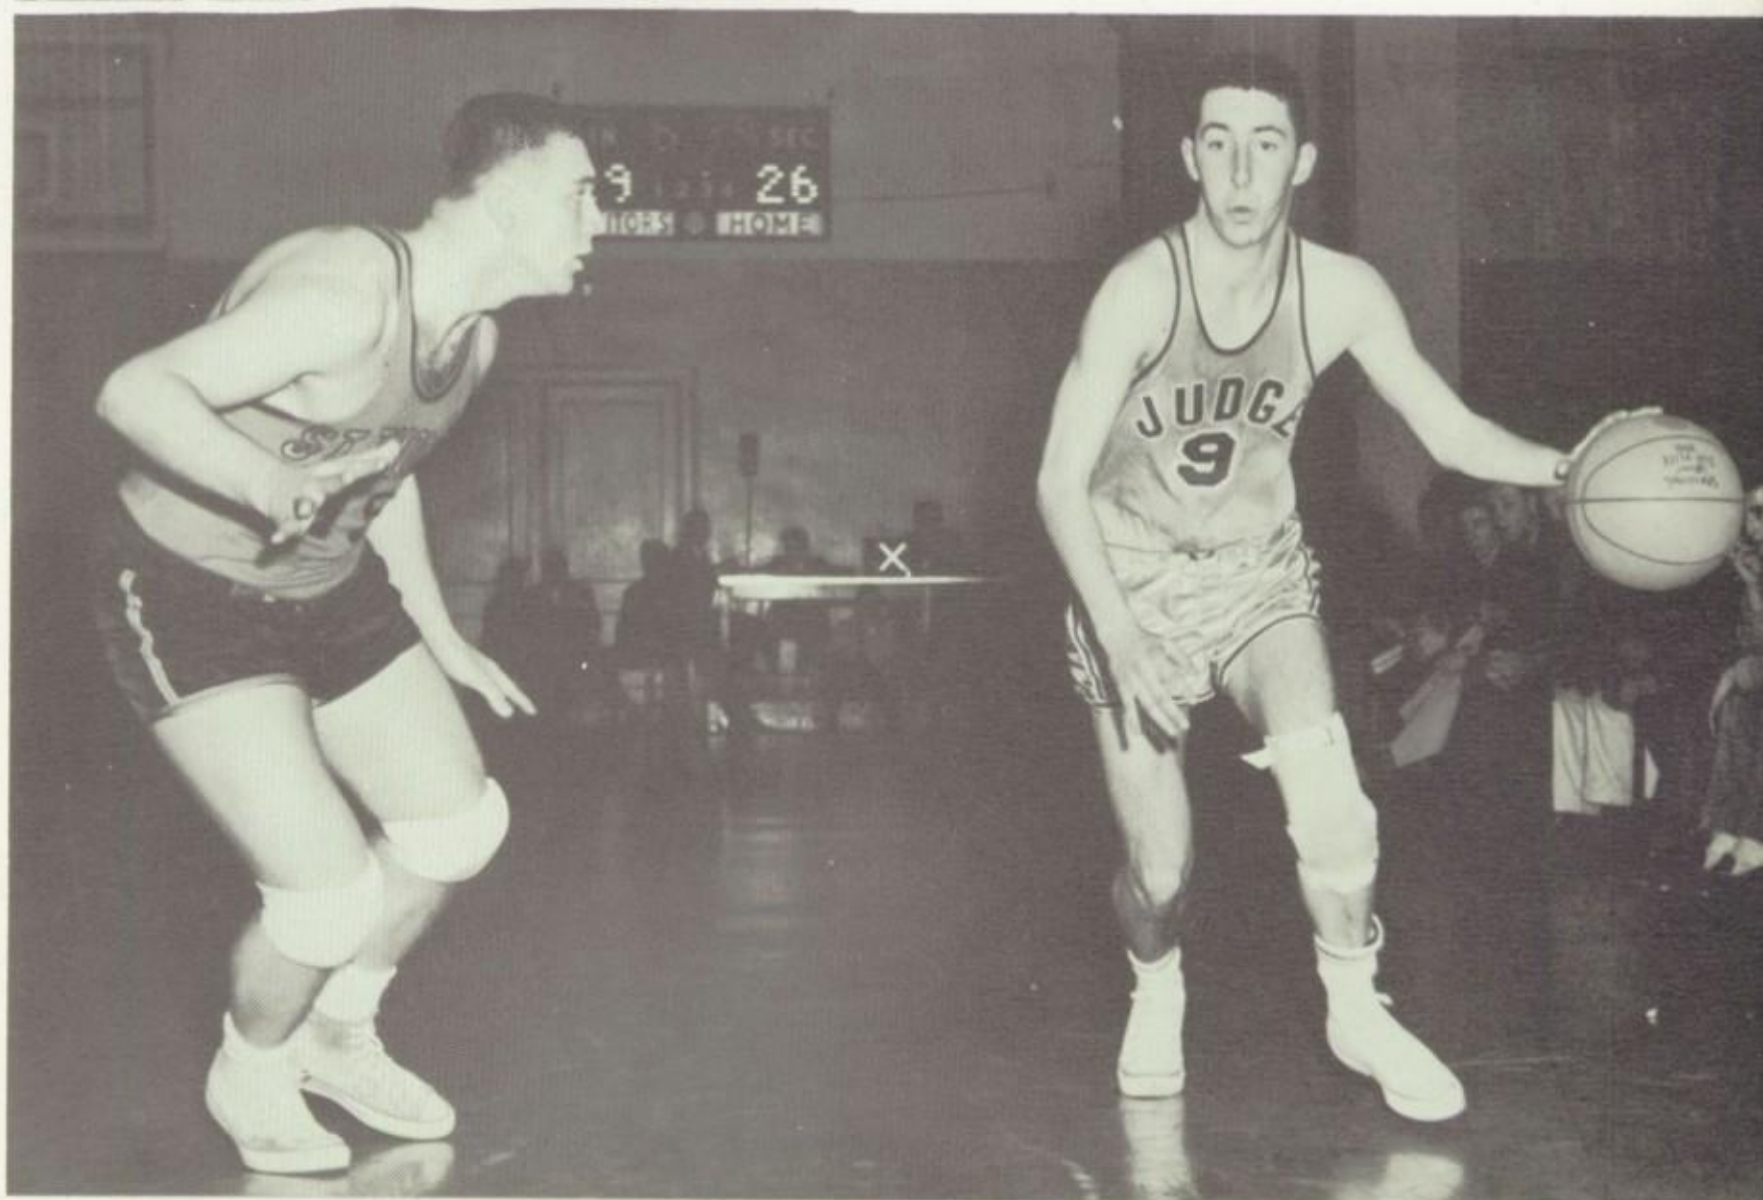

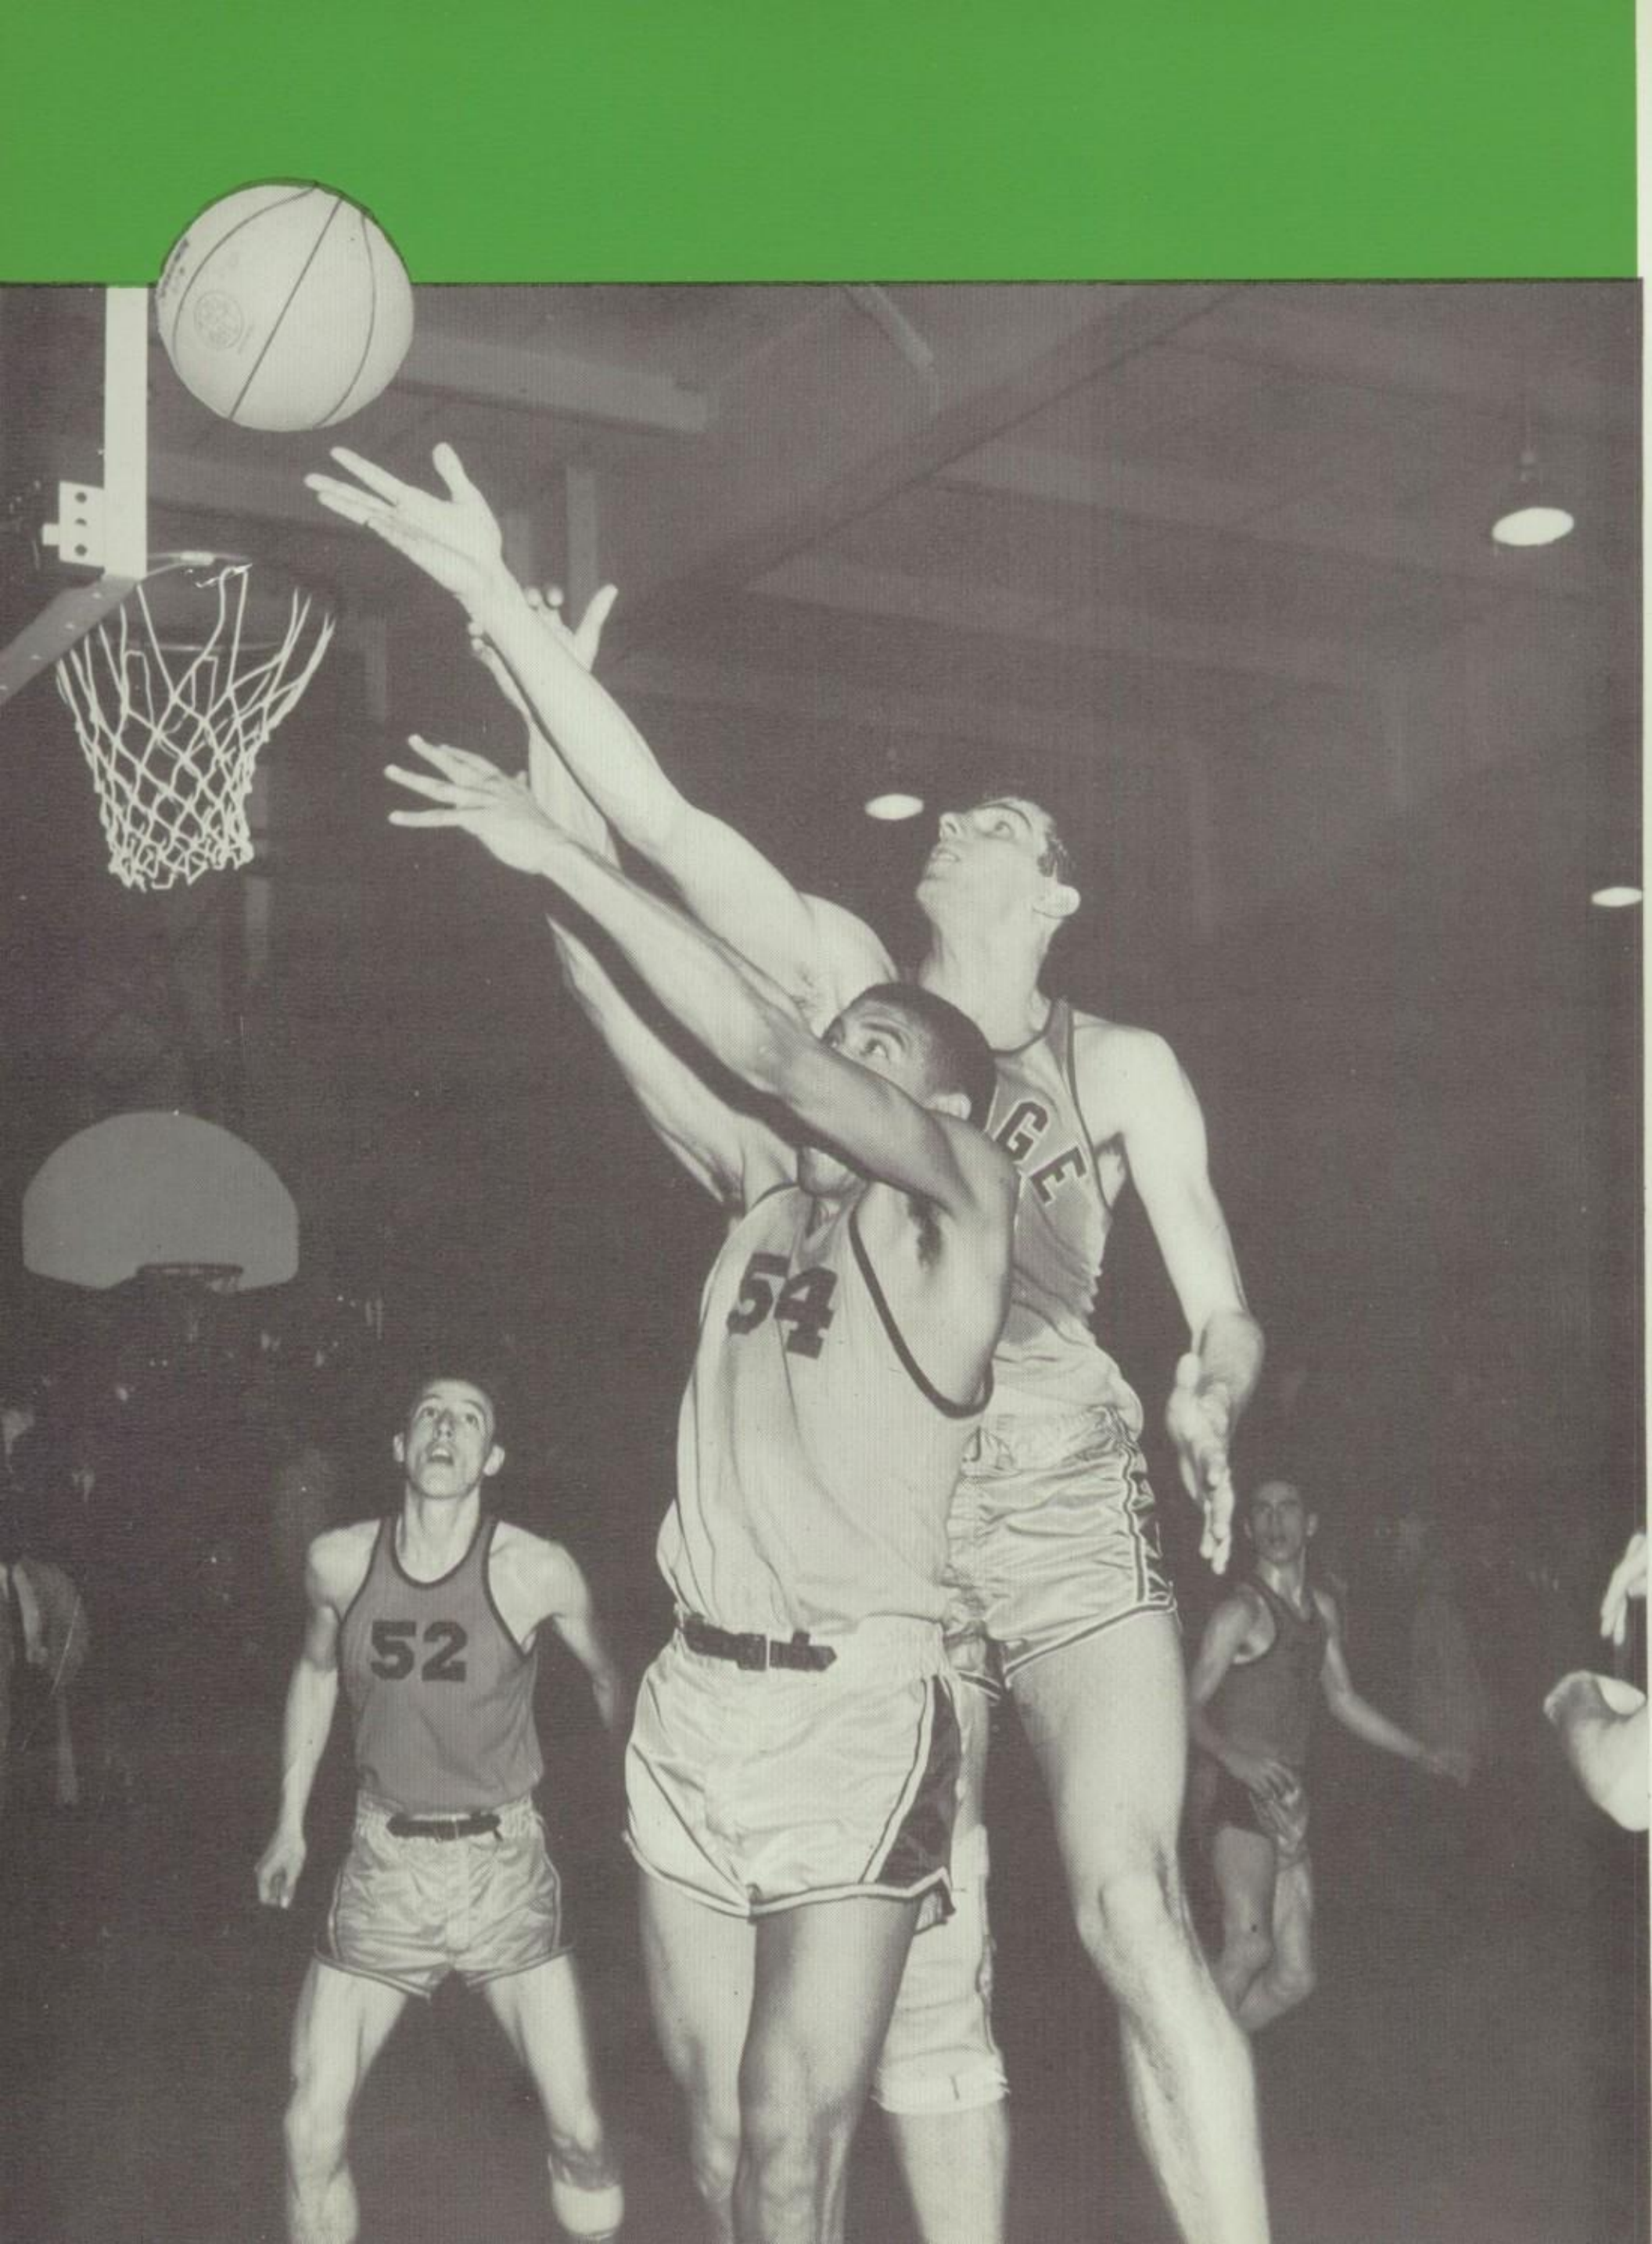

THE CRUCIAL POINTS have been scored and our bench suddenly comes alive with stored-up energy. Their encouragement, enthusiasm, and keen competition with the starters keeps our first-string fighting and reserves improving.

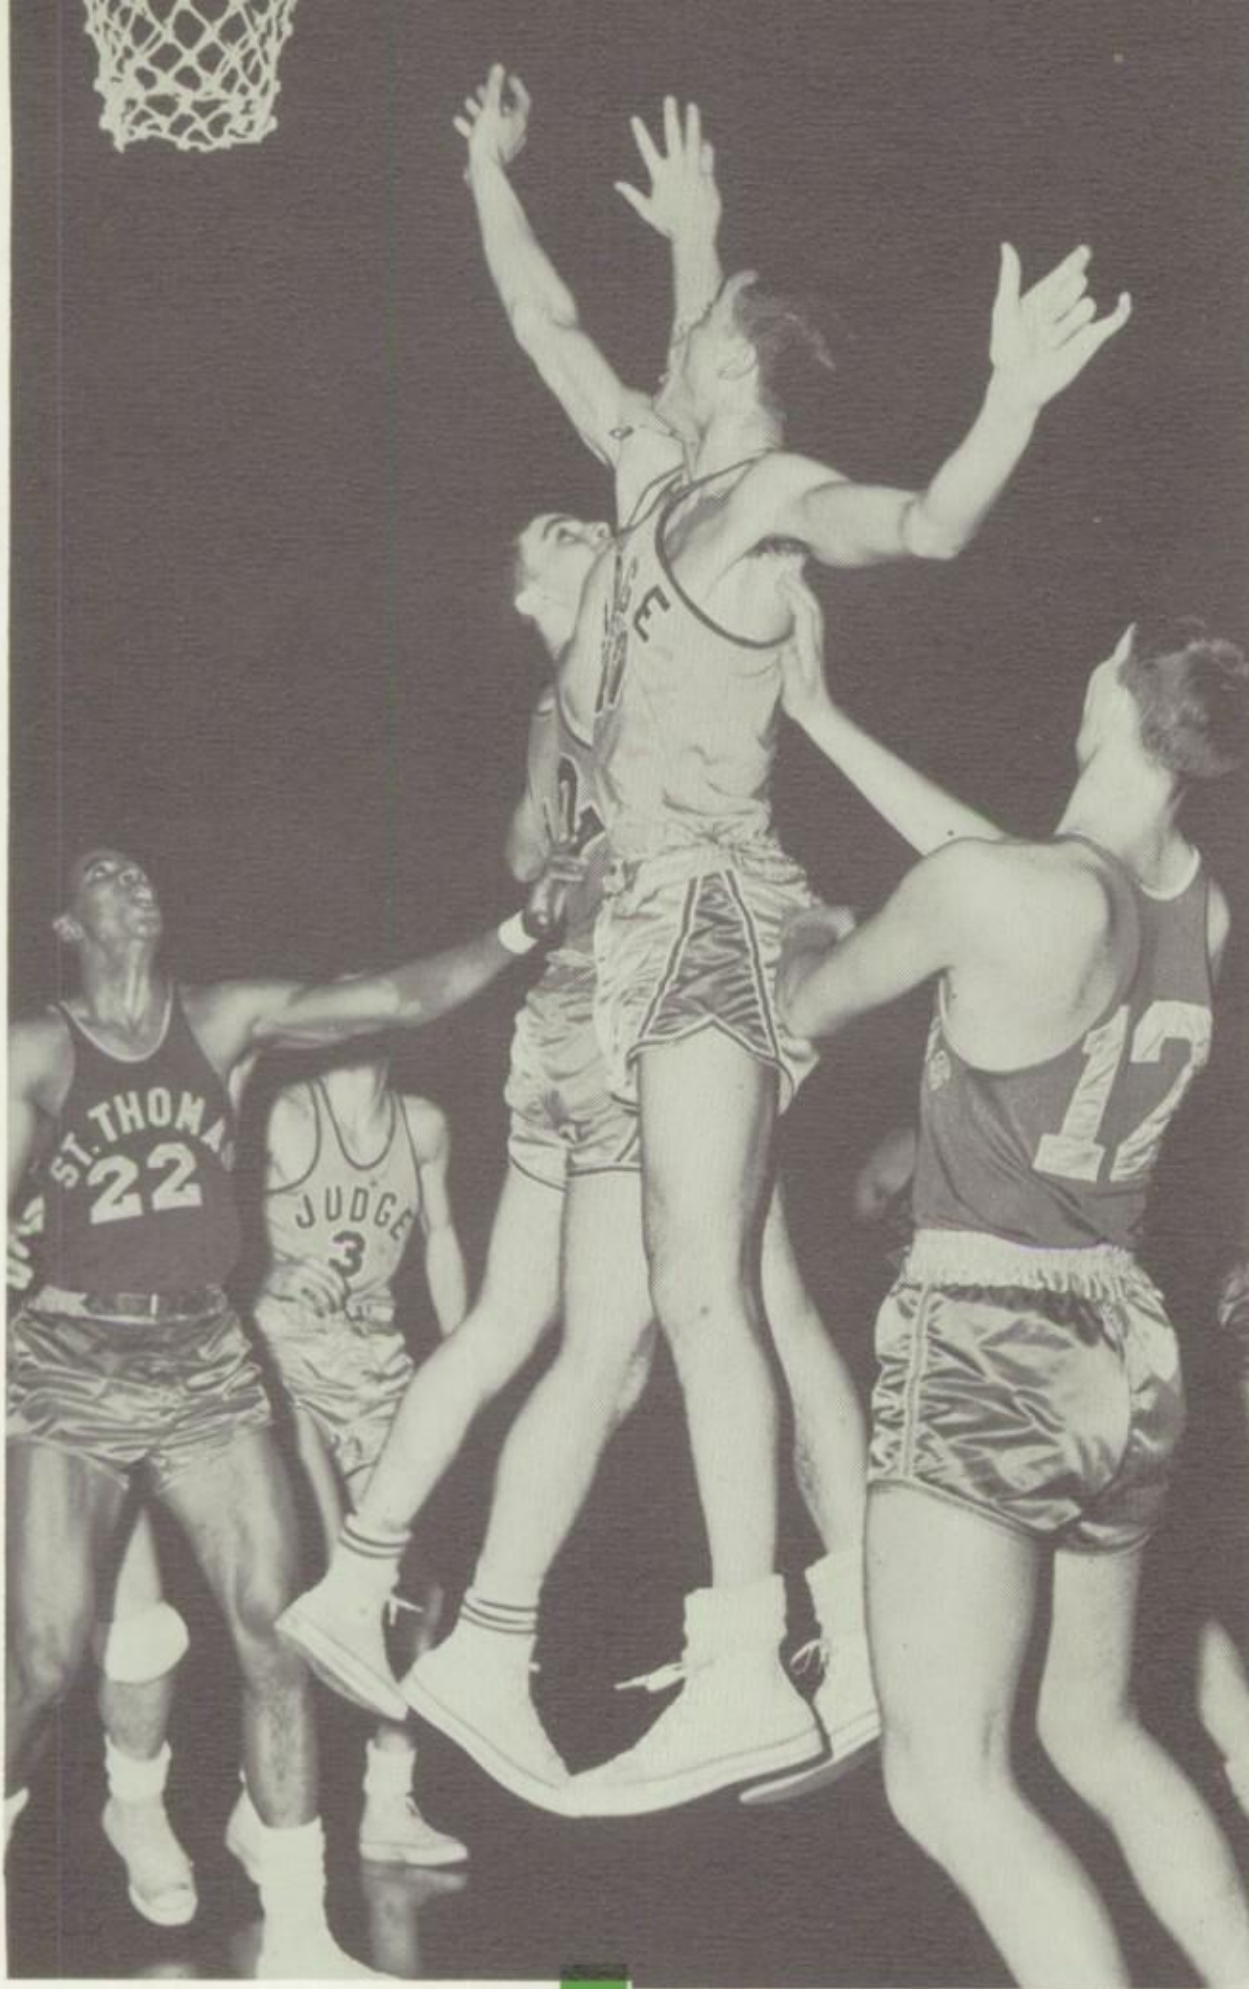

A SOLID WALL of shouting excited humanity is the right atmosphere for a good basketball game. At Judge's games a large partisan crowd can always be counted on to cheer us toward victory.

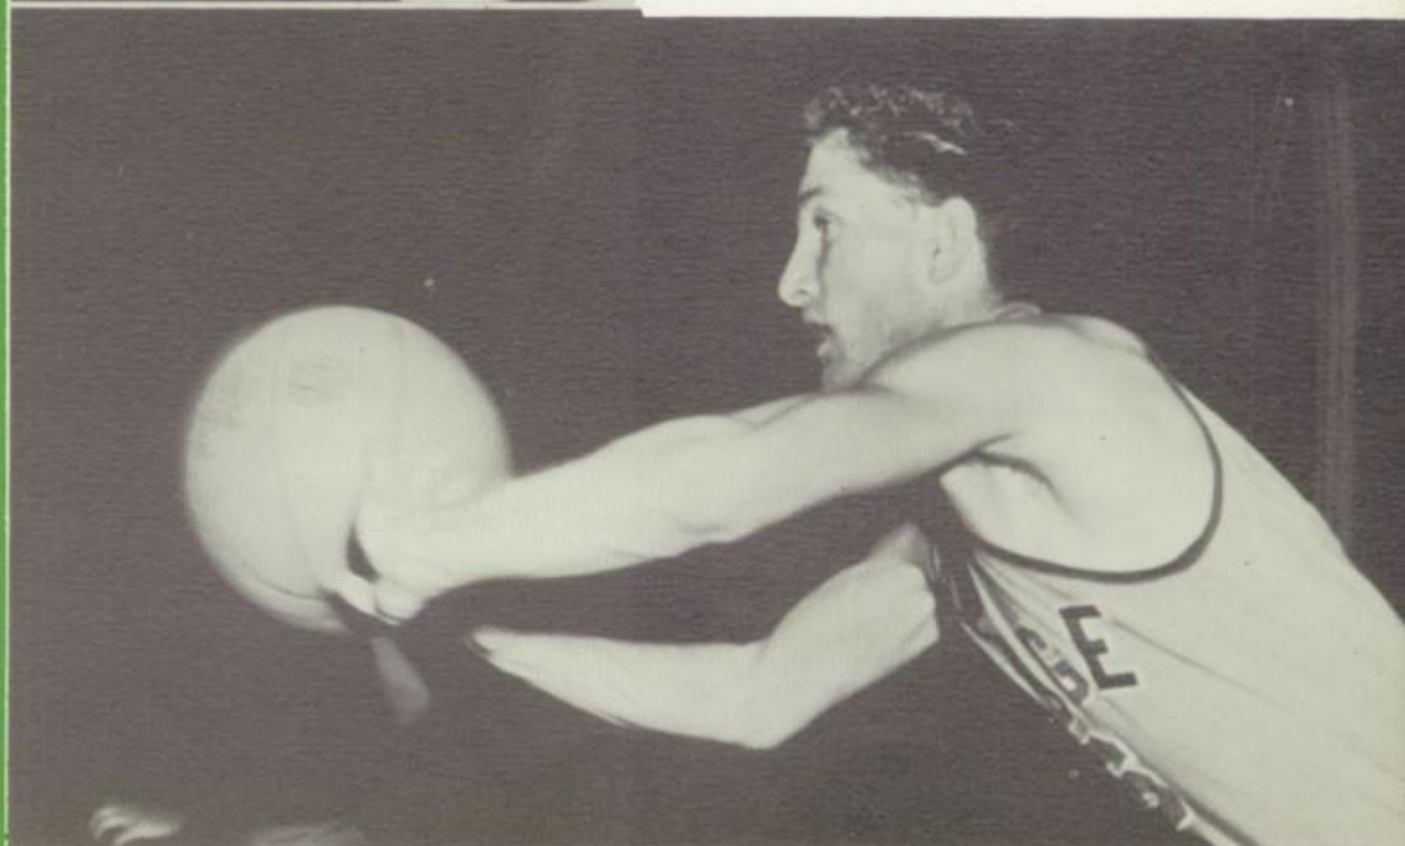

GO CRUSADER, GO! Jake Gaffney's deceptive tactics have left his man with a look of indecision and puzzlement. A fake to the right, a quick gallop to the side and once again we hit the scoring column. Jake's excellent performances were one of the pleasant surprises of the season.

"THANKS FOR THE LIFT fellas!" Frank Stumpo and Lou Martine appear to be getting a helping hand from two of our opponents as they jump for the rebound.

GEORGE SUTOR'S 6-7 frame rises high into the air as his outstretched hand reaches for the rebound. Is it any wonder that George led the league in rebounds and scoring?

hard-fought

TAKE IT AWAY! John Ryan sees one of his teammates in the clear and is about to throw him a quick pass. John's heads-up ball playing always paid off in more points for the Crusaders.

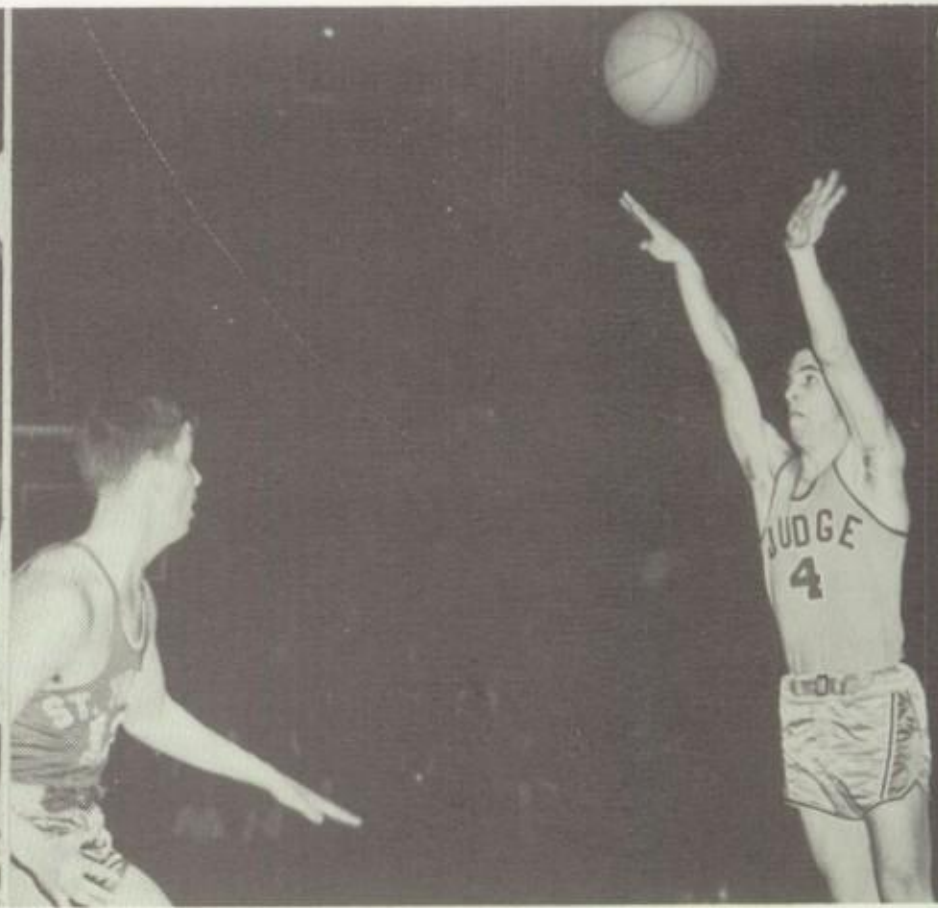

ALL-CATHOLIC George Sutor ascends high above Monsignor Bonner defenders for two points. Big George with twenty-six points sparked us on to our fifth straight victory. Lou Martine and John Ryan chipped in twelve and seven respectively as the Crusaders rolled over the Friars 55-45.

northern division champs

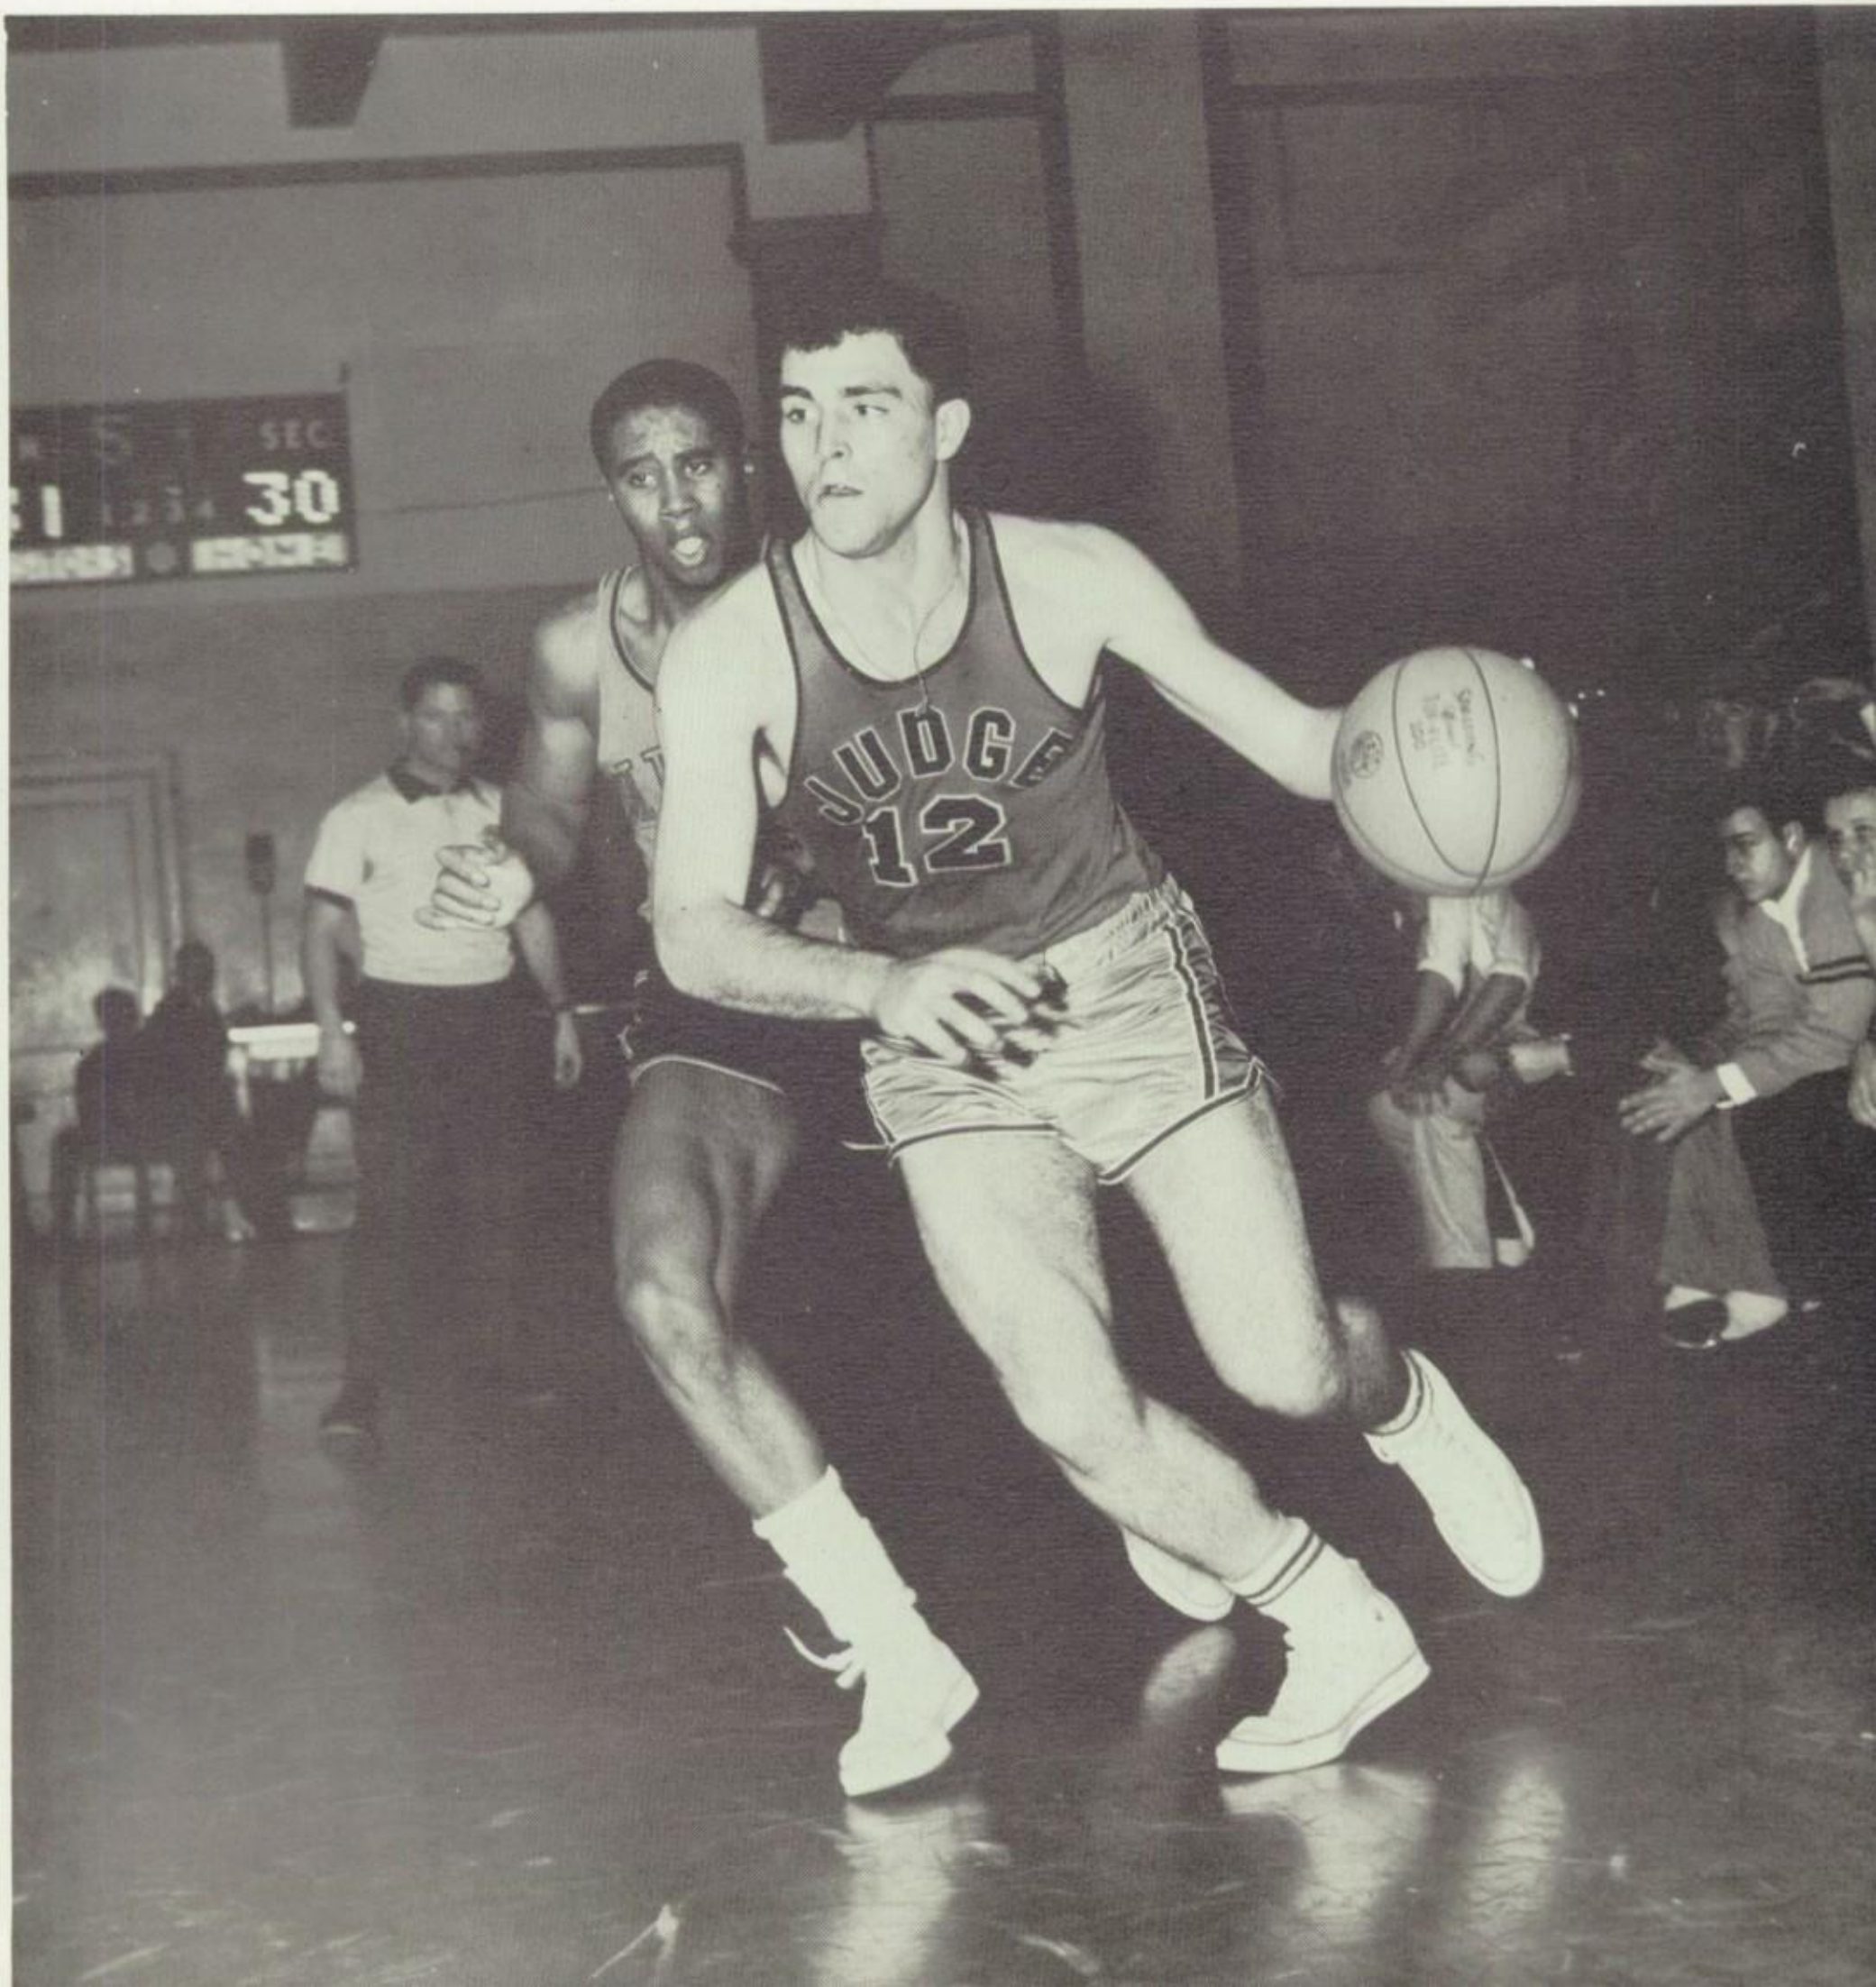

"BOB, TRY A FEW FROM THE OUTSIDE!" Coach Donnelly's wise words are directing our boys to another victory. Although good players are important to a winning team, a capable coach is indispensable. Under Mr. Donnelly's tutelage we made the play-offs for the fourth consecutive year.

AND AWAY SHE GOES! Bob Farina pauses for a brief second, studies the beckoning basket and suddenly propels the ball through the air. The high arc, an agonizing moment of anxious anticipation and, finally, the welcome swish of the ball snapping the net.

LOU MARTINE eludes a St. Thomas More defender as he drives for another Crusader goal. After their 54-50 defeat the Tommies dropped to second place in the Southern division. Martine and Sutor "Our Destructive Duo" each chipped in with nineteen points, aided by eight each from Ryan and Gaffney. Lou's heads-up play in this vital victory, gained us our ninth straight victory. Lou, along with George Sutor, was elected to the first team All-Catholic. George's 304 points and consistent rebounding during the season made him the most valuable player in the league. Lou, not to be overshadowed by the towering Sutor, could always be counted on for a steady performance. Thanks to the outstanding play of these two and the combined efforts of the rest of the team, we once again romped through the Catholic league.

TOO FEW PEOPLE realize the importance of rebounds in winning basketball games. Our three big men—George Sutor, Lou Martine, and Frank Stumpo prove too much for St. Thomas More as they crash the defensive boards. Our 14-1 season's record is typified by this kind of all-out hustle. We were the only team in the league to have two players selected to the All-Catholic Five, for George, the league's leading rebounder and scorer, and Lou, our tough corner man, received this honor.

OUR VARSITY TEAM under the very able direction of Coach Buddy Donnelly; J. Ryan, J. Gaffney, R. Herzig, F. Kerrigan, D. Decker, F. Stumpo, G. Sutor, J. Hartman, L. Martine, D. Legacki, J. Halpin, F. Maloney, and R. Farina.

UP, UP, UP goes Bob Herzig as he scores another two points. Bob could always be relied upon for a quick six.

OUCH! And in more ways than one. In this game the Crusaders continued their "Palestra jinx" in losing to St. Thomas More in the Catholic League Playoffs. Mighty and victorious during the season, the team was abruptly upset in this preliminary game, much to the distinct despair of the team, coach, and spectators from the Northern Division.

SHOWING GREAT PROMISE for future years is our J.V. Basketball team. The members are: J. Gallagher, J. Cambell, J. Robert, D. Carr, M. Smith, L. Folino, J. Smith, Coach Jack Scheur, F. McGrath, E. Rodgers, T. Kelly, M. Agate, J. Connolly, J. Gram, F. Judge.

swimming . . . splashing merman

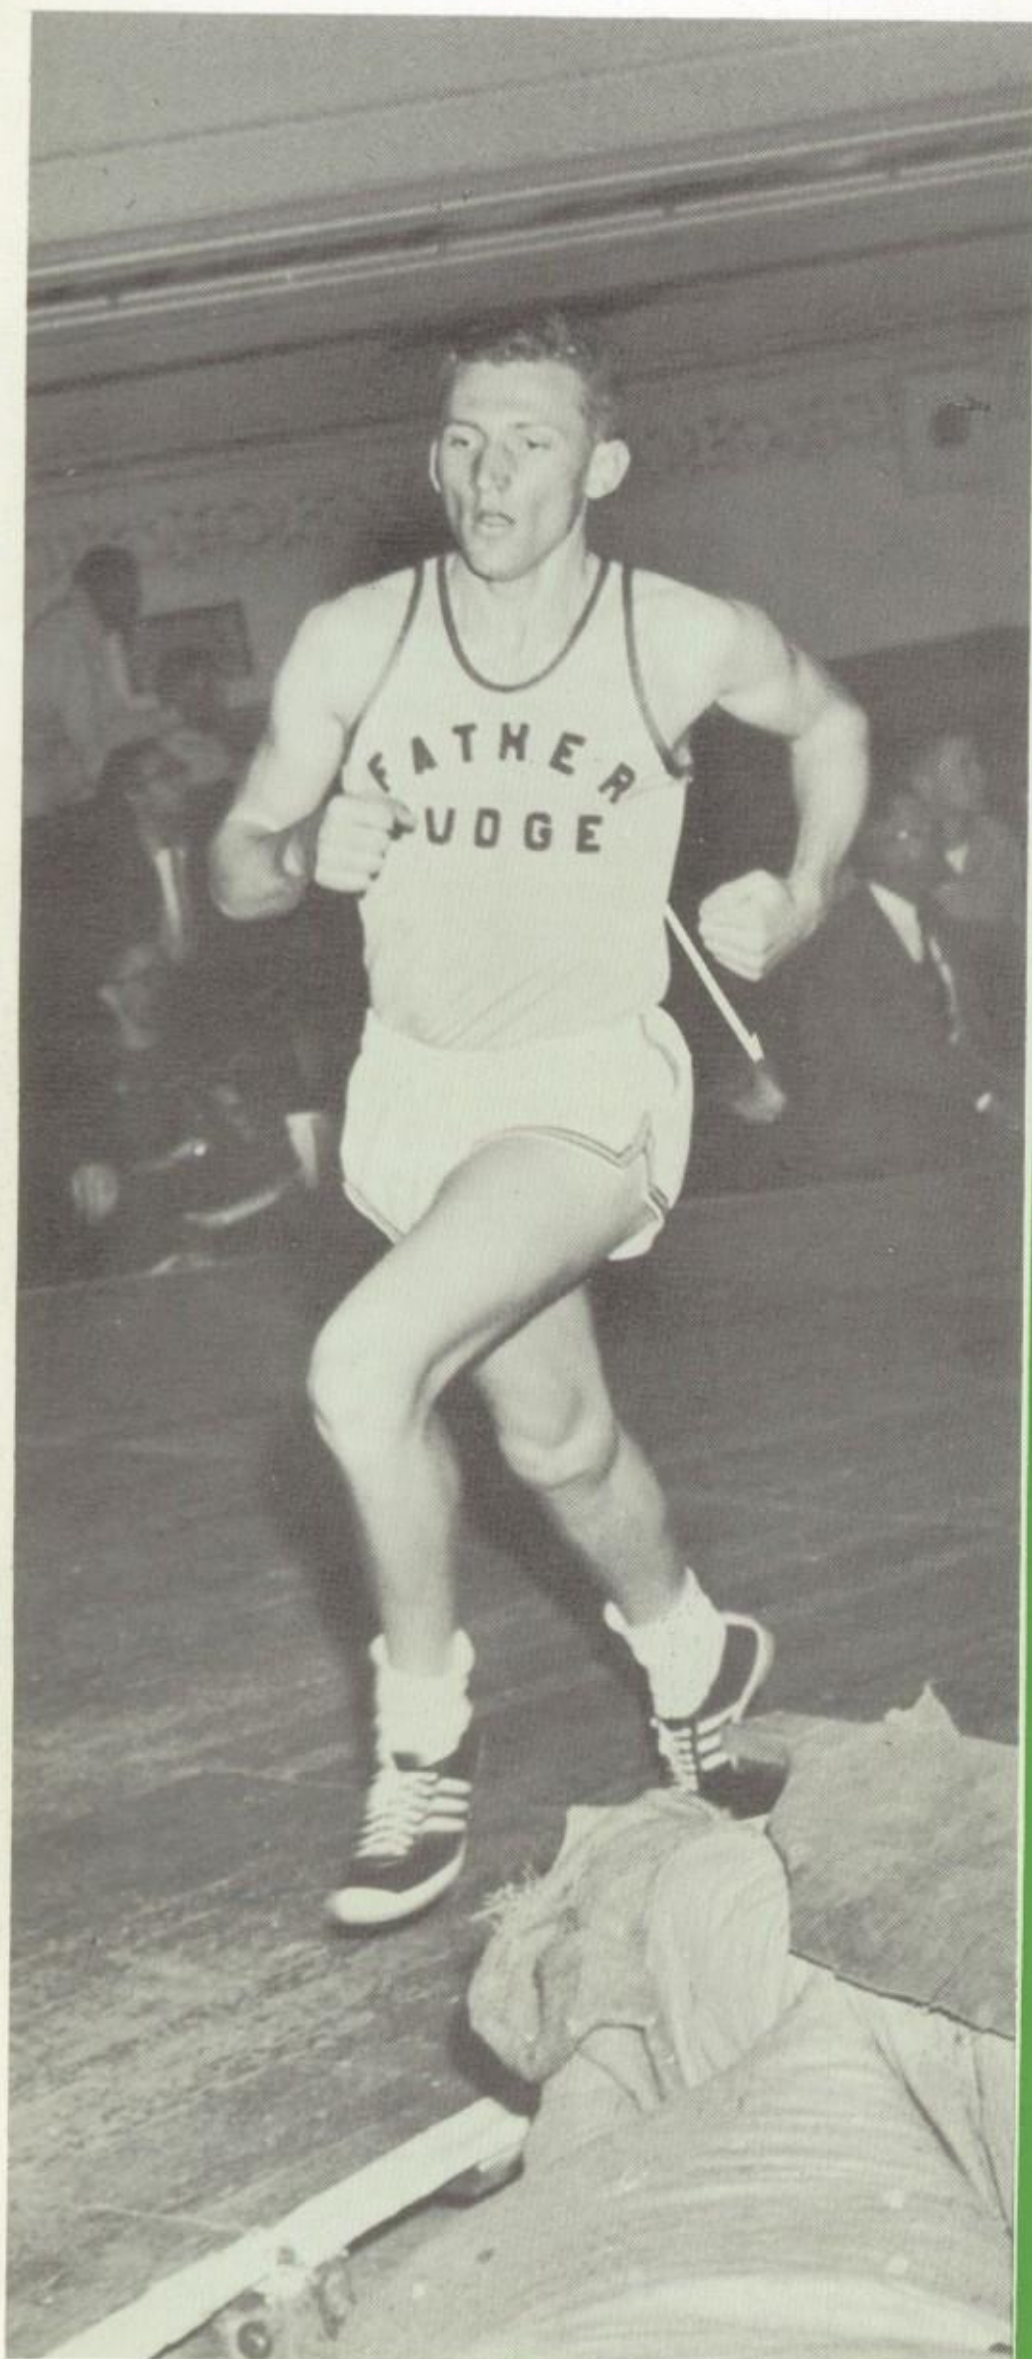

IT'S ONLY THE BEGINNING for C. Krause a Senior, as he splashes his way into the backstroke, one of the most grueling events of the meet. Connie, striving to better his previous performance, is confident that his improving record will be of help to the team in this year's championship meet at Villanova.

Our Crusader Mermen splashed through the season at a steady pace, piling up a record of nine victories and five defeats, ending in a third place tie with LaSalle, behind National Champ, Monsignor Bonner, and St. Joseph's Prep. The squad was under the able direction of Mr. Chick Webb, a veteran of ten years coaching in the Catholic League. The team was led by Captain Matt Lawrence, Ed and Steve Amrein, Norm Legacki, Bob Stout, and Paul Vanderneut. They included in their victories, two conquests each, over Dougherty, the Burrs of West Catholic, and Bishop Neumann. Mr. Webb has done a fine job with our boys this year, and with such good prospects as Denny Hogan, Jim and Bob Lynn, Bill Gallagher, and Paul Legacki, they paint a rosy picture for the future swimming team of Father Judge.

ENCOURAGED from the poolside, Sophomore Denny Hogan is determined to add another five points to the already mounting Crusader lead, as he zips through the water approaching the last 50 yards of a well-represented butterfly event. This event proves to be one of the most difficult ones, especially for the underclassmen; but toward the end of the season Denny, along with several other Freshmen and Sophomores have been steadily improving. Our underclassmen show that the future looks bright for the Crusader Mermen.

HUGGING THE SHALLOWS of the sharp, banked curve of Convention Hall's short, wooden oval, powerful Mike Rolle defends his inside position in an early turn of the challenging twelve-lap mile.

track and field

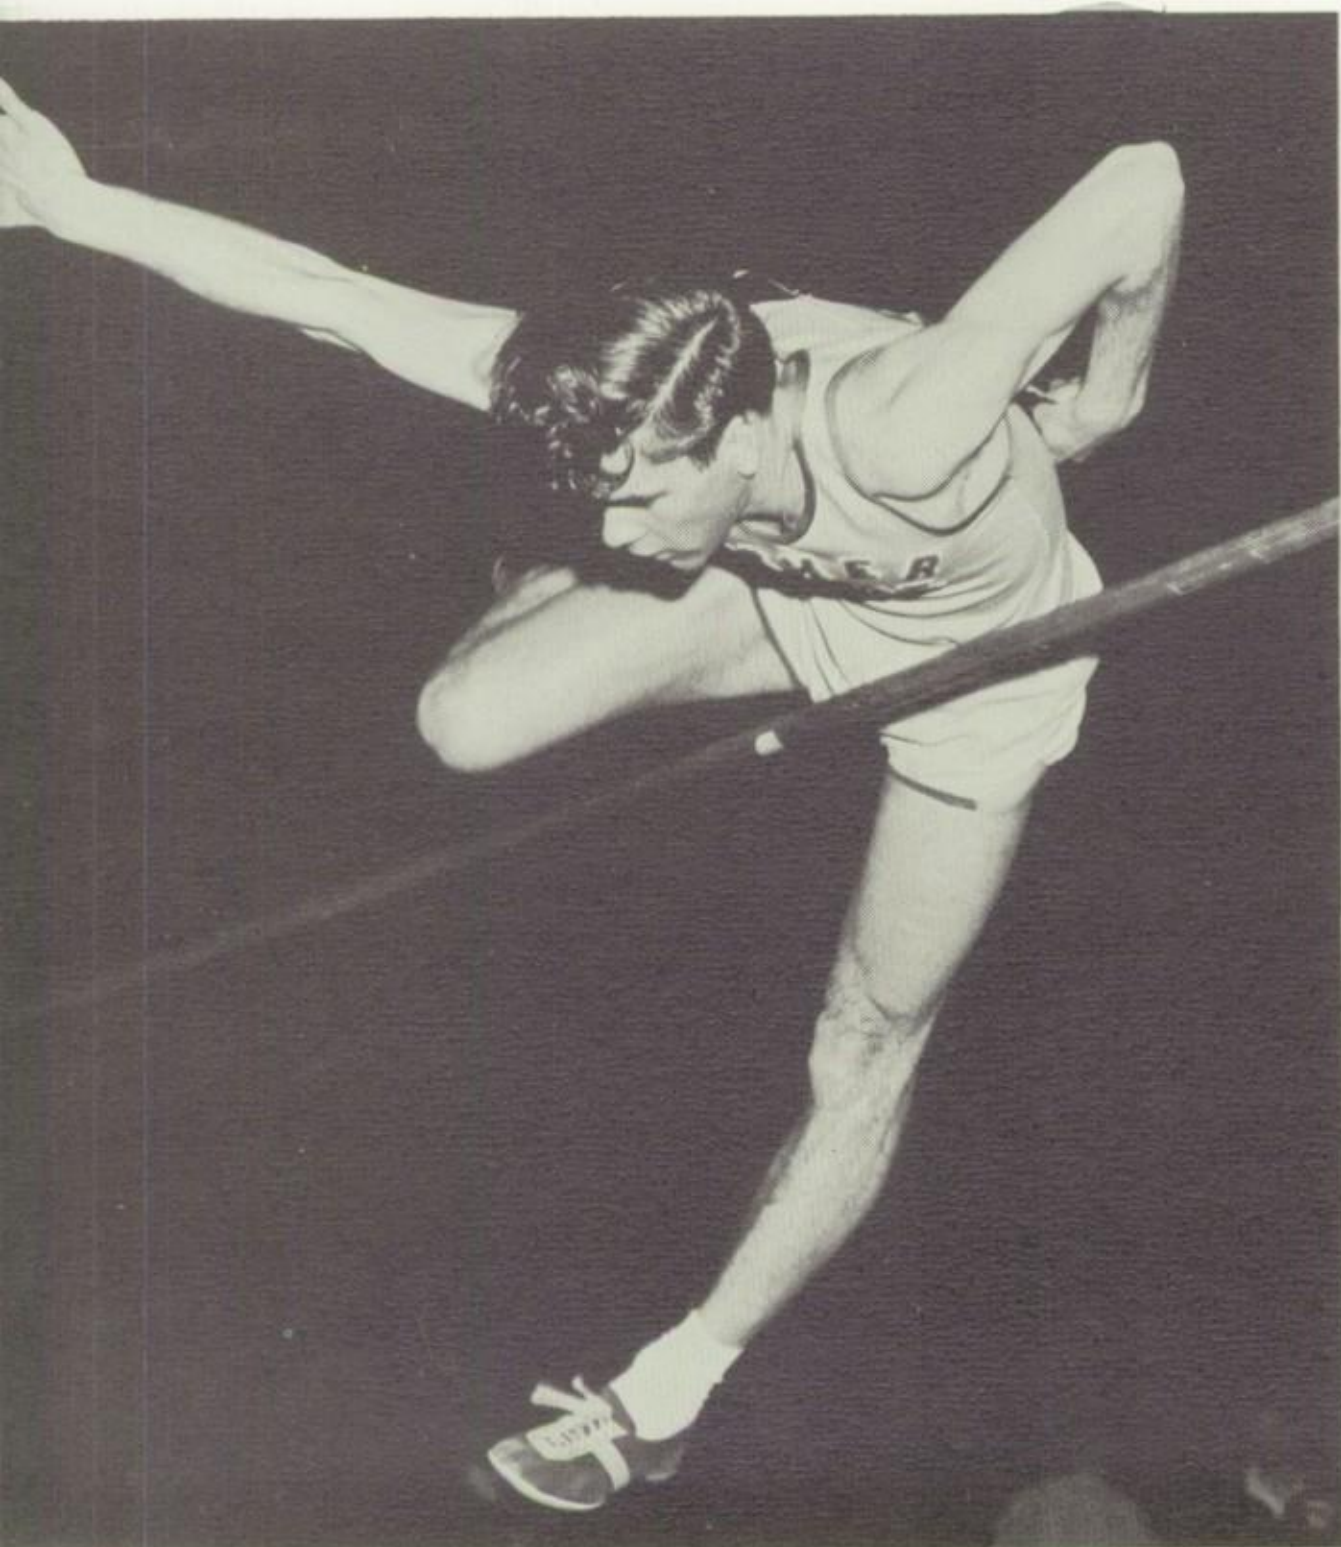

AFTER A WELL-TIMED APPROACH, Stan Bacanskows scrambles over the cross-bar 5'-6" above the foam rubber pit. Again and again the highjumper betters the mark until three misses send him to the showers.

manager, Clarence Zeoli. Posing for this picture provided the team with a chance to rest between alternate 220's scheduled by Father Cutter.

MOMENTARILY SUSPENDED in air is our star pole vaulter, Jerry Duzinski. Jerry consistently vaults eleven feet and often runs the low hurdles. He has been vaulting for Judge since Freshman year and he is now one of the best in the League.

baseball . . . runs, hits, errors

With the coming of spring all sports-minded persons anxiously anticipate the arrival of baseball season. The balmy spring days and the smell of freshly cut grass provide the perfect setting for the drama of the diamond. The familiar crack of the bat, the rhythmic beat of cleats digging into the dirt and the emphatic bellowing of the umpire are welcome sounds to any fan. Once again we are caught up in the electric excitement generated by a clutch home run or daring slide into home plate.

The attitudes and opinions carried from the field, however, are far more important than the victories. A spirit of teamwork, courage in defeat, and an unflinching will to win are the symbols of a true Crusader. Although the individual games may soon be forgotten, the lessons in sportsmanship and fair play will always remain with us.

WITH A LOOK of determination on his face Jack Delmar decides to go all the way while the Neuman third baseman looks forlornly for the ball far out in left field. Jack won his race against time, and we were once more on the road to victory.

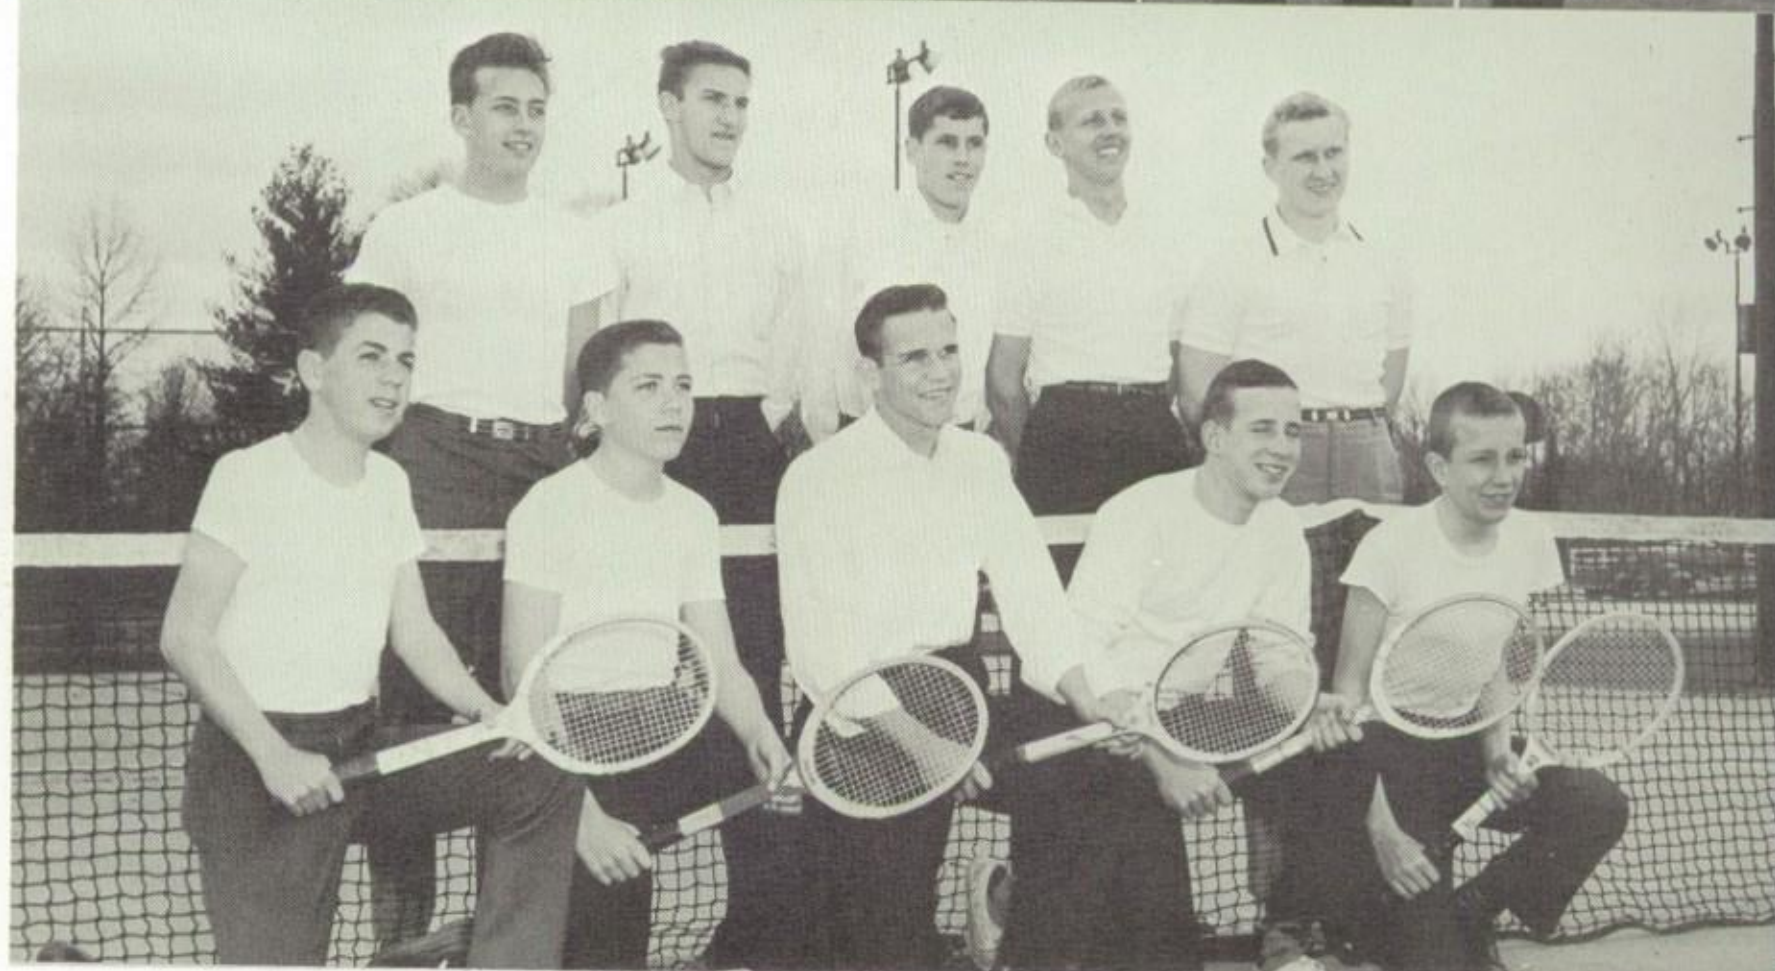

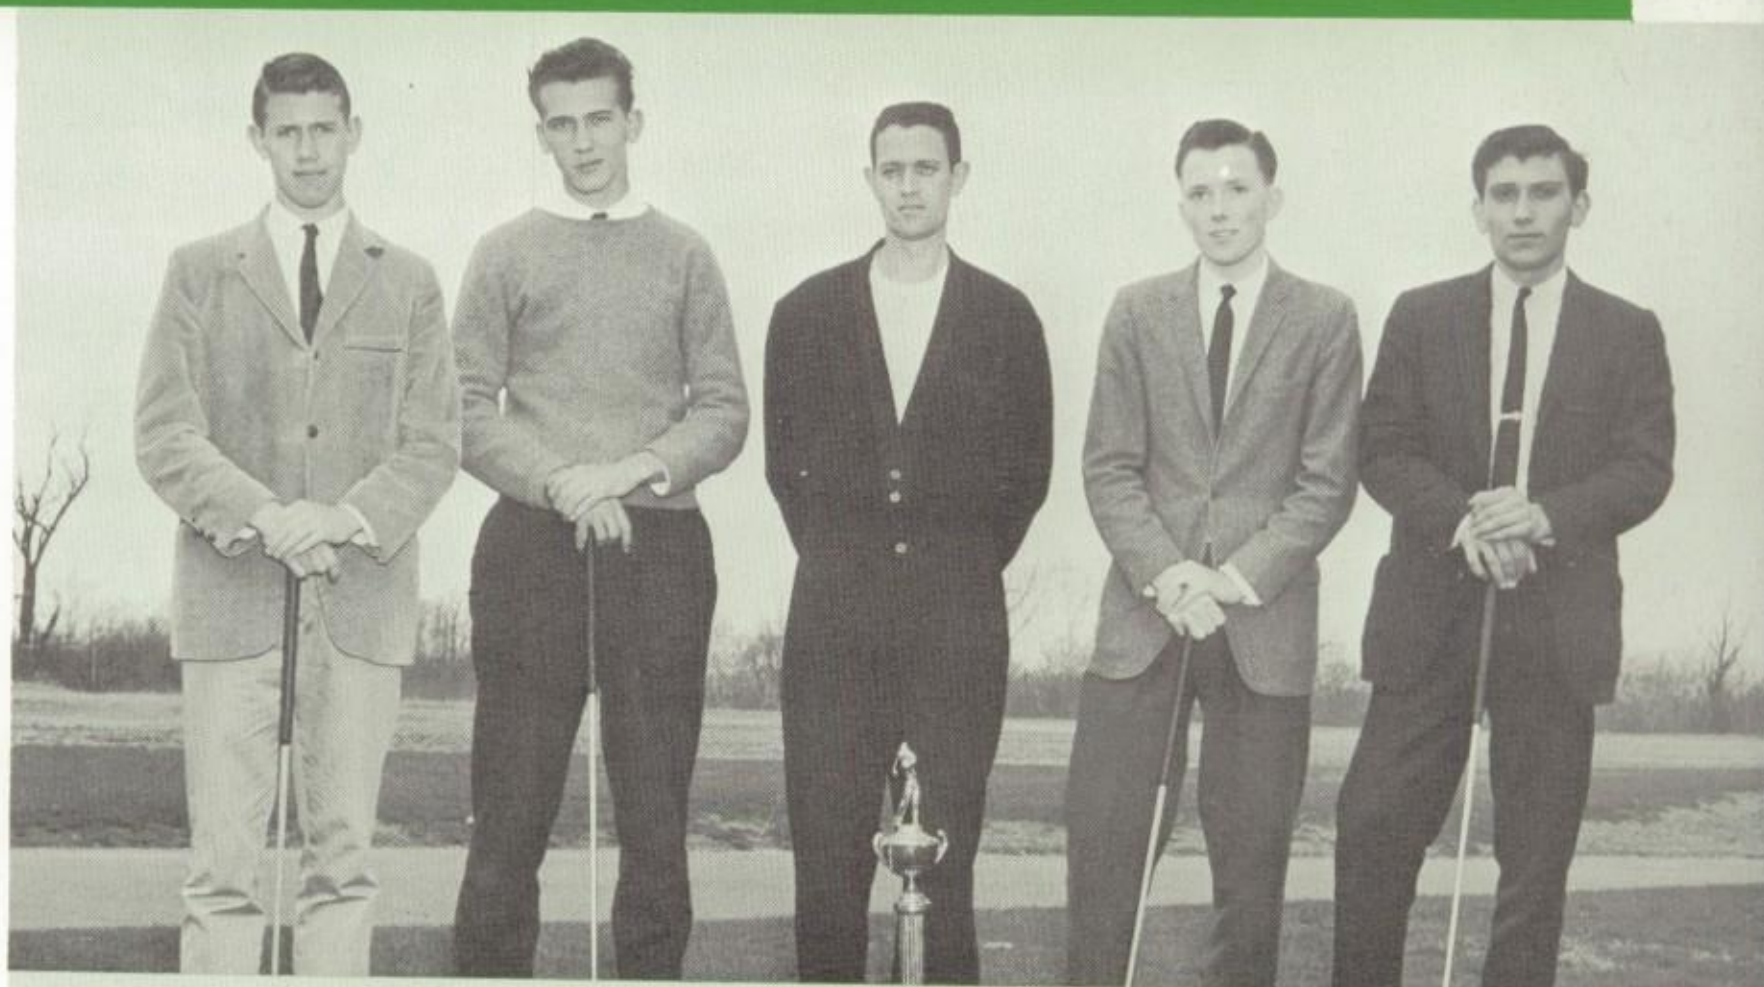

A FLYING LEAP into the air followed by the thump of the ball hitting leather and another would-be hitter bites the dust. Such fine plays make our defense one of the most respected in the league.

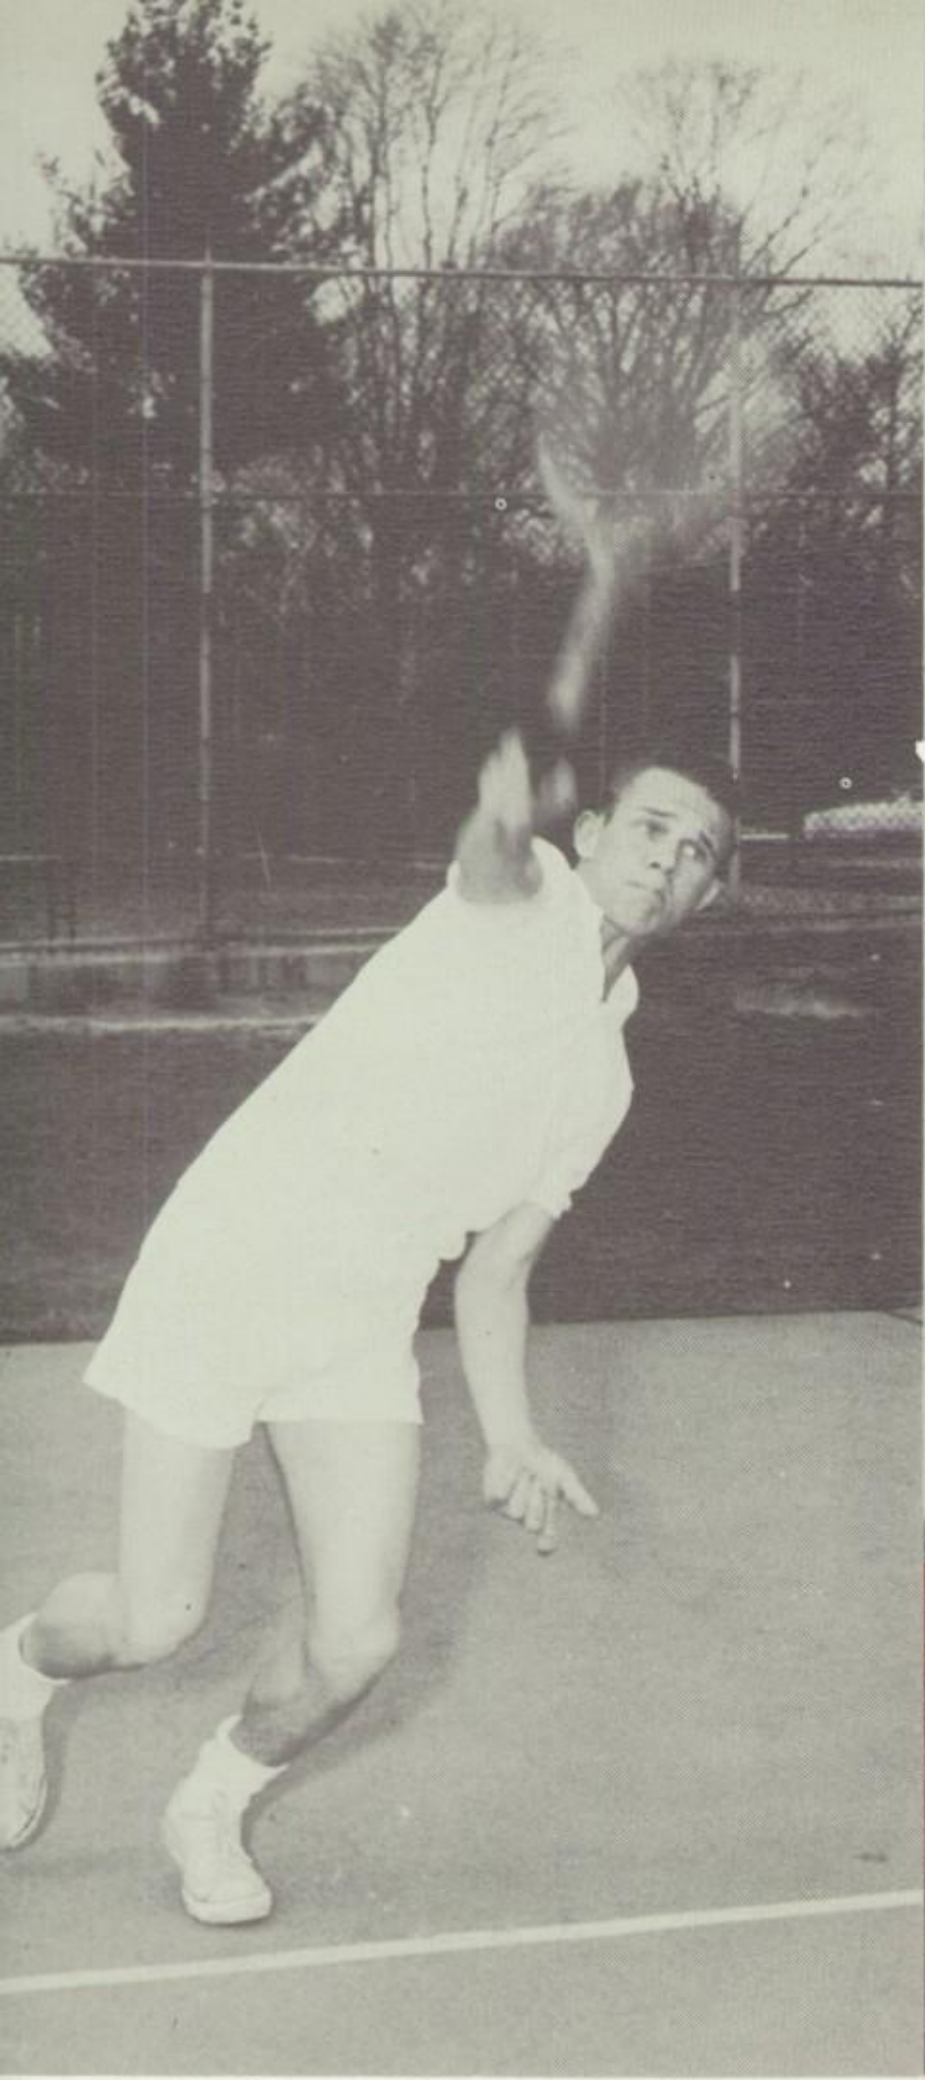

A MIGHTY SWING, a solid impact, and once more the fighting Crusaders have come through. The electrifying sound of bat meeting ball is a common occurrence with the Crusaders at the plate.

... up to par

Golf provides us with a clean and relaxing form of fun and exercise. It also helps us to acquire the attribute of patience.

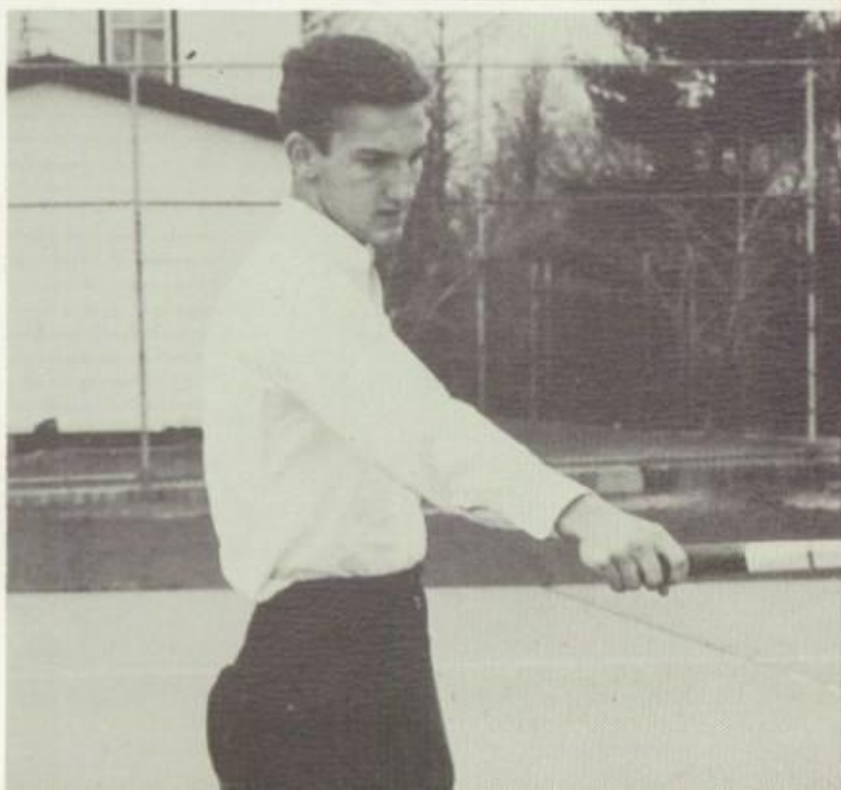

Tennis, a more rigorous game, is an asset in the building of our minds and bodies.

Whether driving a golf ball two hundred and fifty yards down the fairway or slashing a tennis ball over the net, one important lesson is learned from both—good sportsmanship.

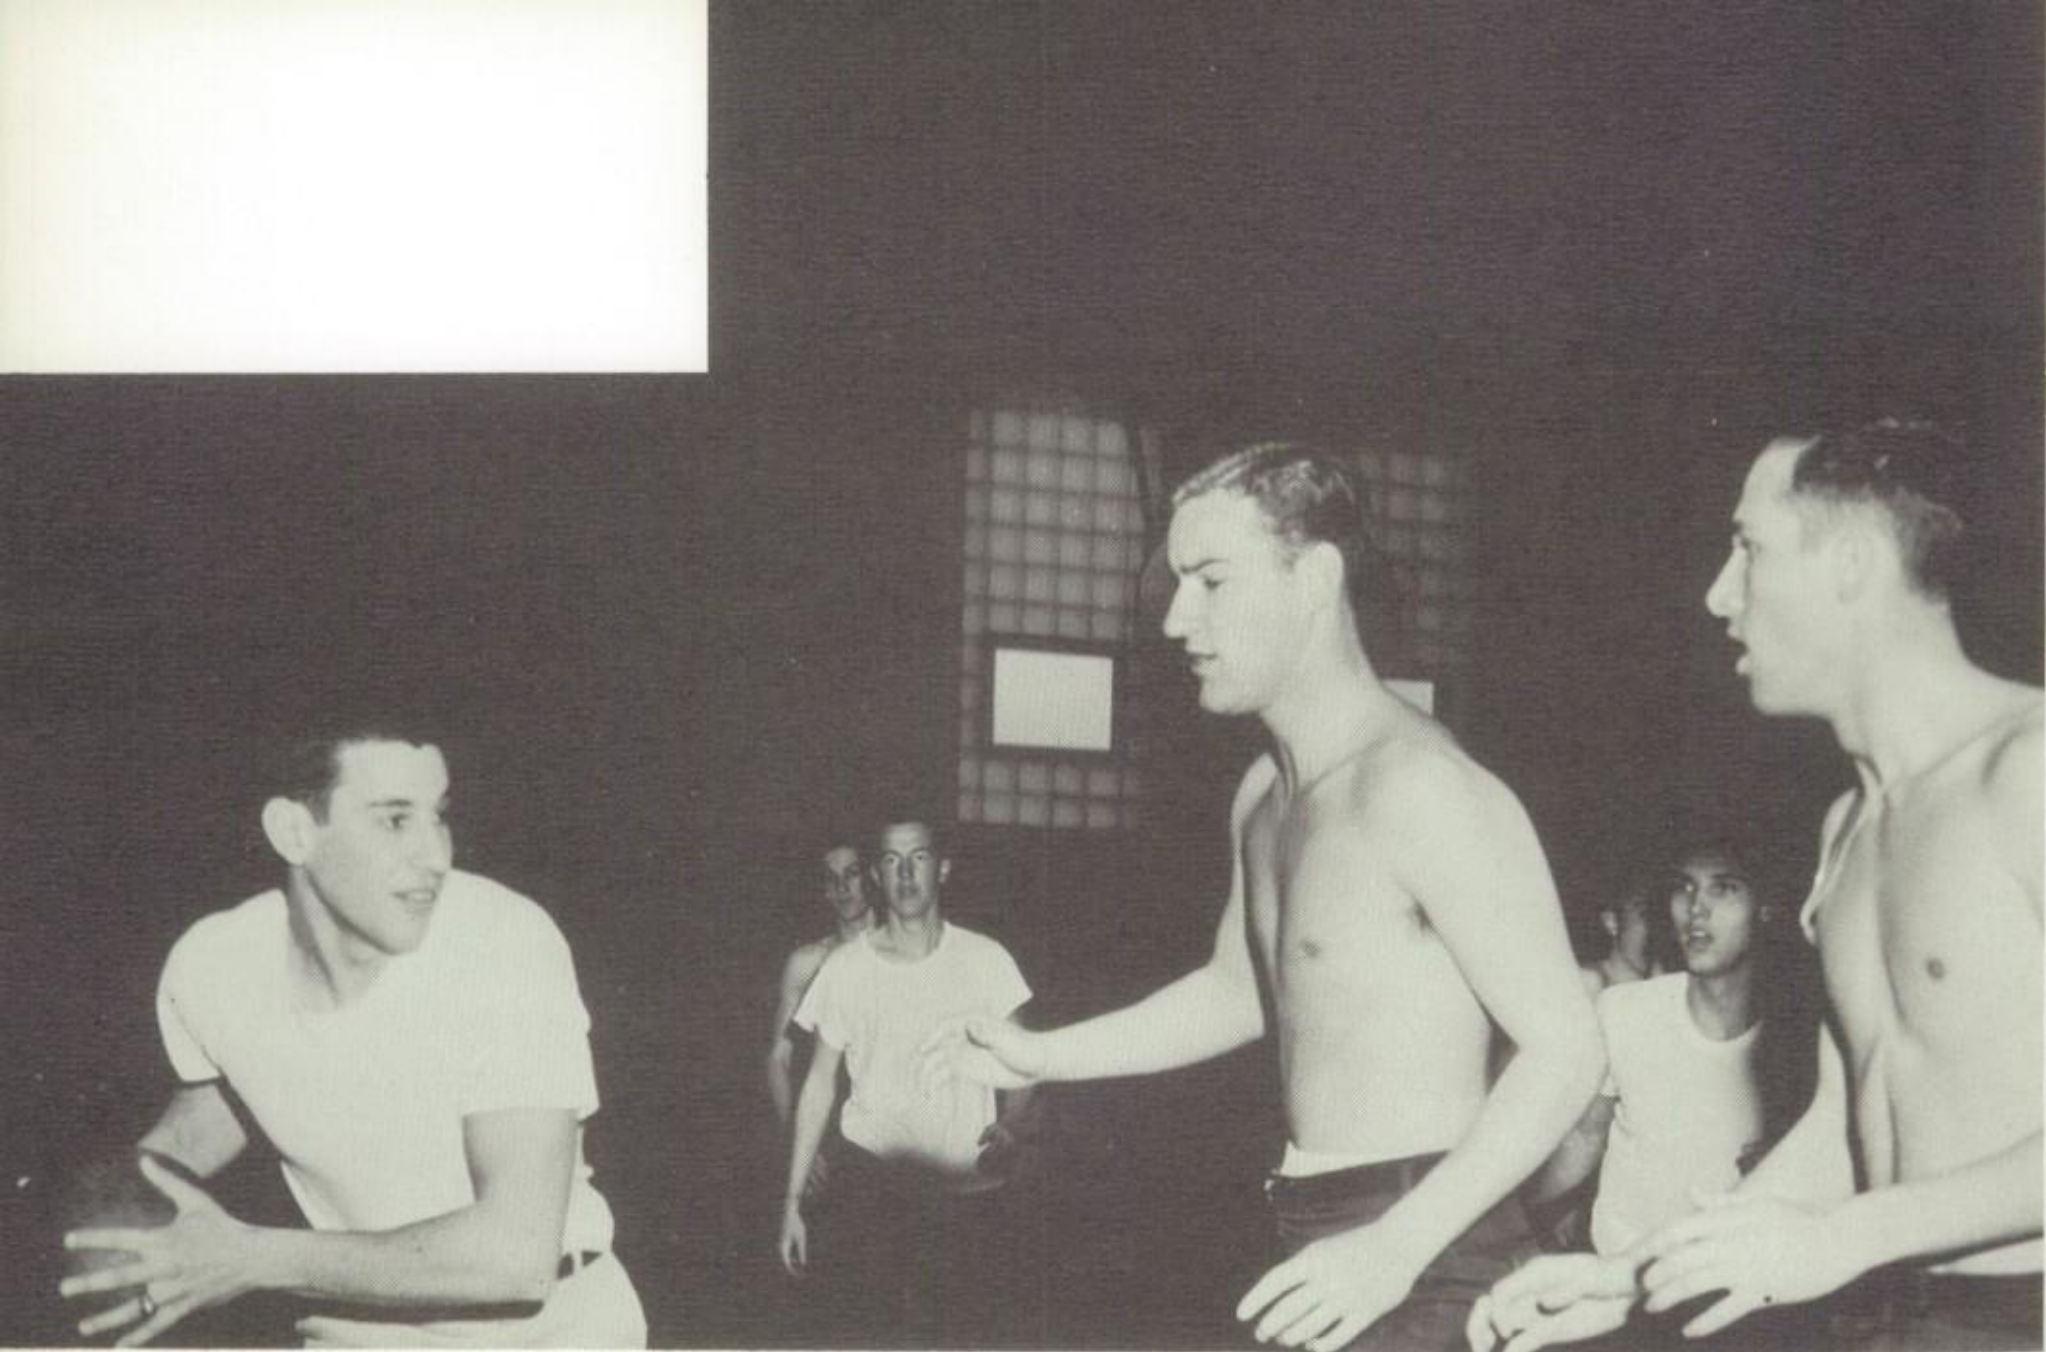

BILL (PANCHO) HINK SHOWS excellent form in demonstrating his powerful serve. Bill is noted for his fleetness of foot and his vicious returns. With tennis players like Bill, we can be assured of a great team in the league.

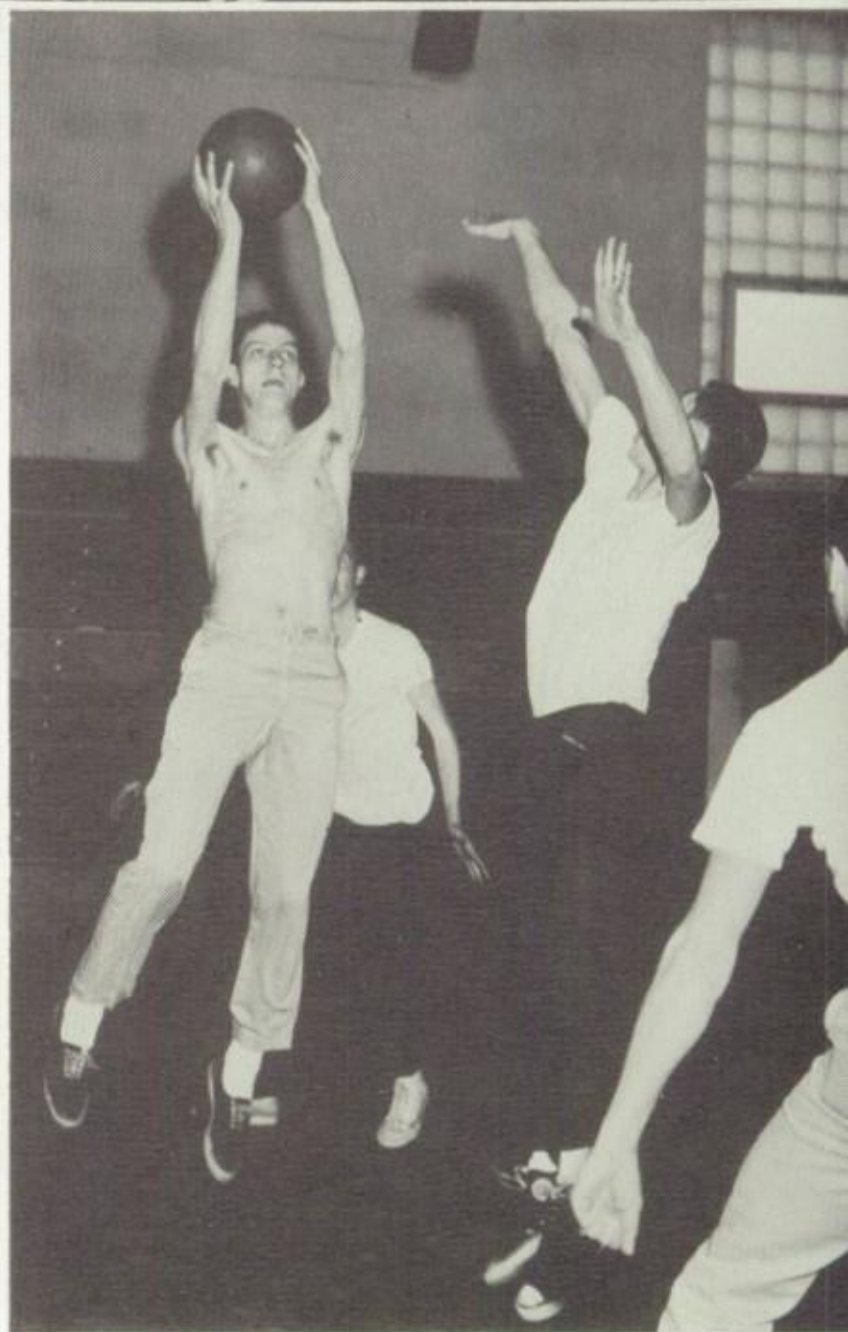

"NOW SLOWLY BEGIN to bring your club back" instructs Fr. Campbell as he shows Eric Dollenberg some fine points on driving.

"ALWAYS HAVE a smooth and clean follow-through," says Bill Keweshon as he demonstrates this point to fellow-player D. Tyson.

TED IACONE of Sr. Eleven tries to get out of trouble as Al Zerzecki and Joe Gerbar of Sr. One provide plenty of opposition. Even though he failed to score, his intramural team was victorious.

DON BRENNAN of Sr. One soars upward as George Ruoff of Sr. Eleven tries to thwart his attempt. Don's two points proved very needed as his spirited intramural team put up an excellent battle against an overwhelming Sr. Eleven team.

intramurals . . . friendly rivalry

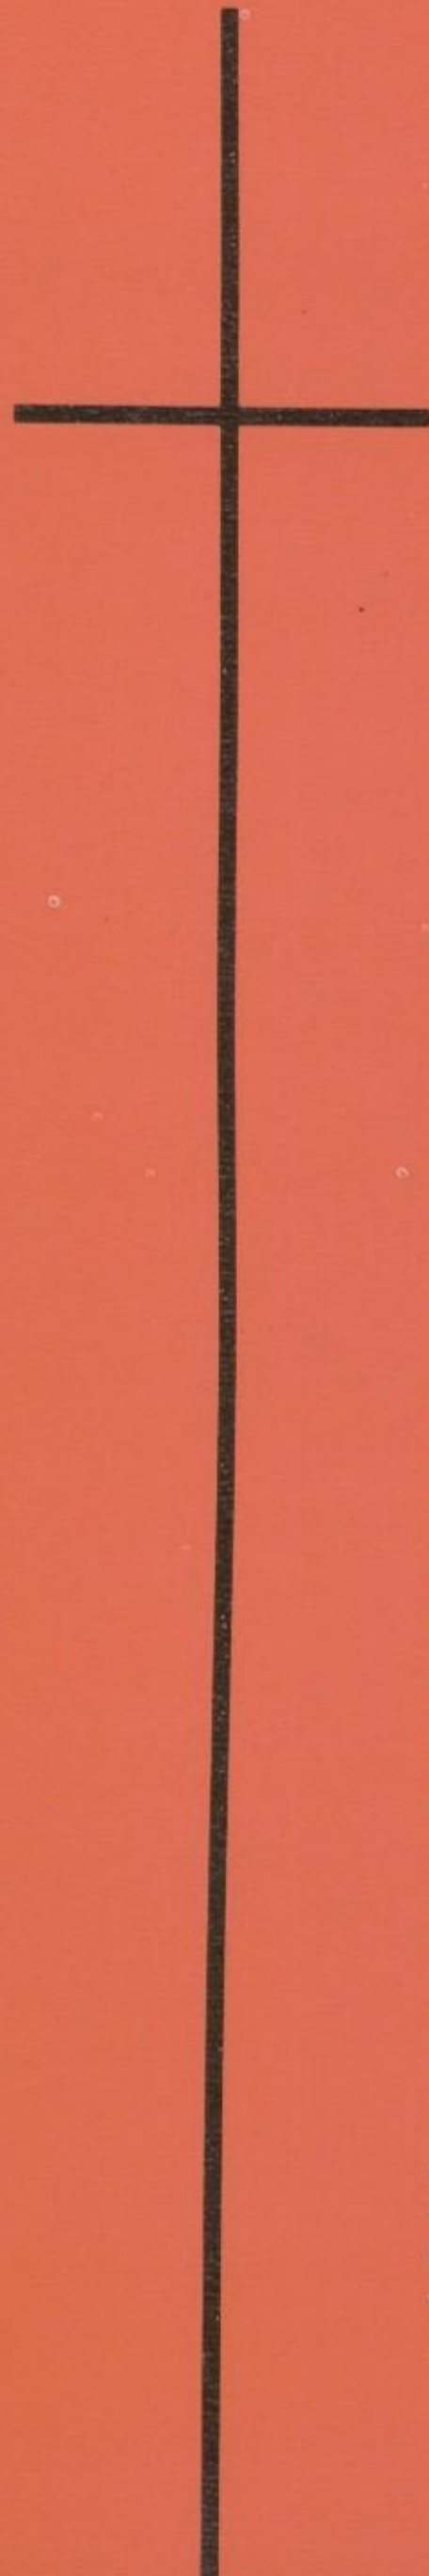

FRANCIS MULHERN of Soph Four displays his good form as his ball speeds straight for the pocket. This new intramural sport has been quickly accepted by the student body. The enthusiastic reception it received promises a great future for intramural bowling.

BOB GIBONNI of Sr. 8 displays his quarterbacking talents as Jim Ross and Rich Toner provide strong blocking against Sr. Seven. The defender managed to hold the line, however, and Bob hit his receiver as Sr. Eight romped to another touchdown. Almost any afternoon during the winter months opposing groups can be seen competing for the victory and honor of their sections. Intramural football is a growing tradition at Judge and is one of the symbols of our sportsmanship and fair play.

During the school year the various sections choose their champions and enter them in friendly rivalry with other classes. Many aspiring athletes who have not been able to qualify for our varsity or junior varsity have gained school acclaim through our well-formed intramural program. Father Kelly has done an excellent job of officiating and organizing our sectional sports' activities; football, basketball, and bowling are just a few of the sectional rivalries in which we vie for top honors. Besides being an excellent form of exercise, it also helps us develop good sportsmanship, self-discipline, and a competitive spirit.

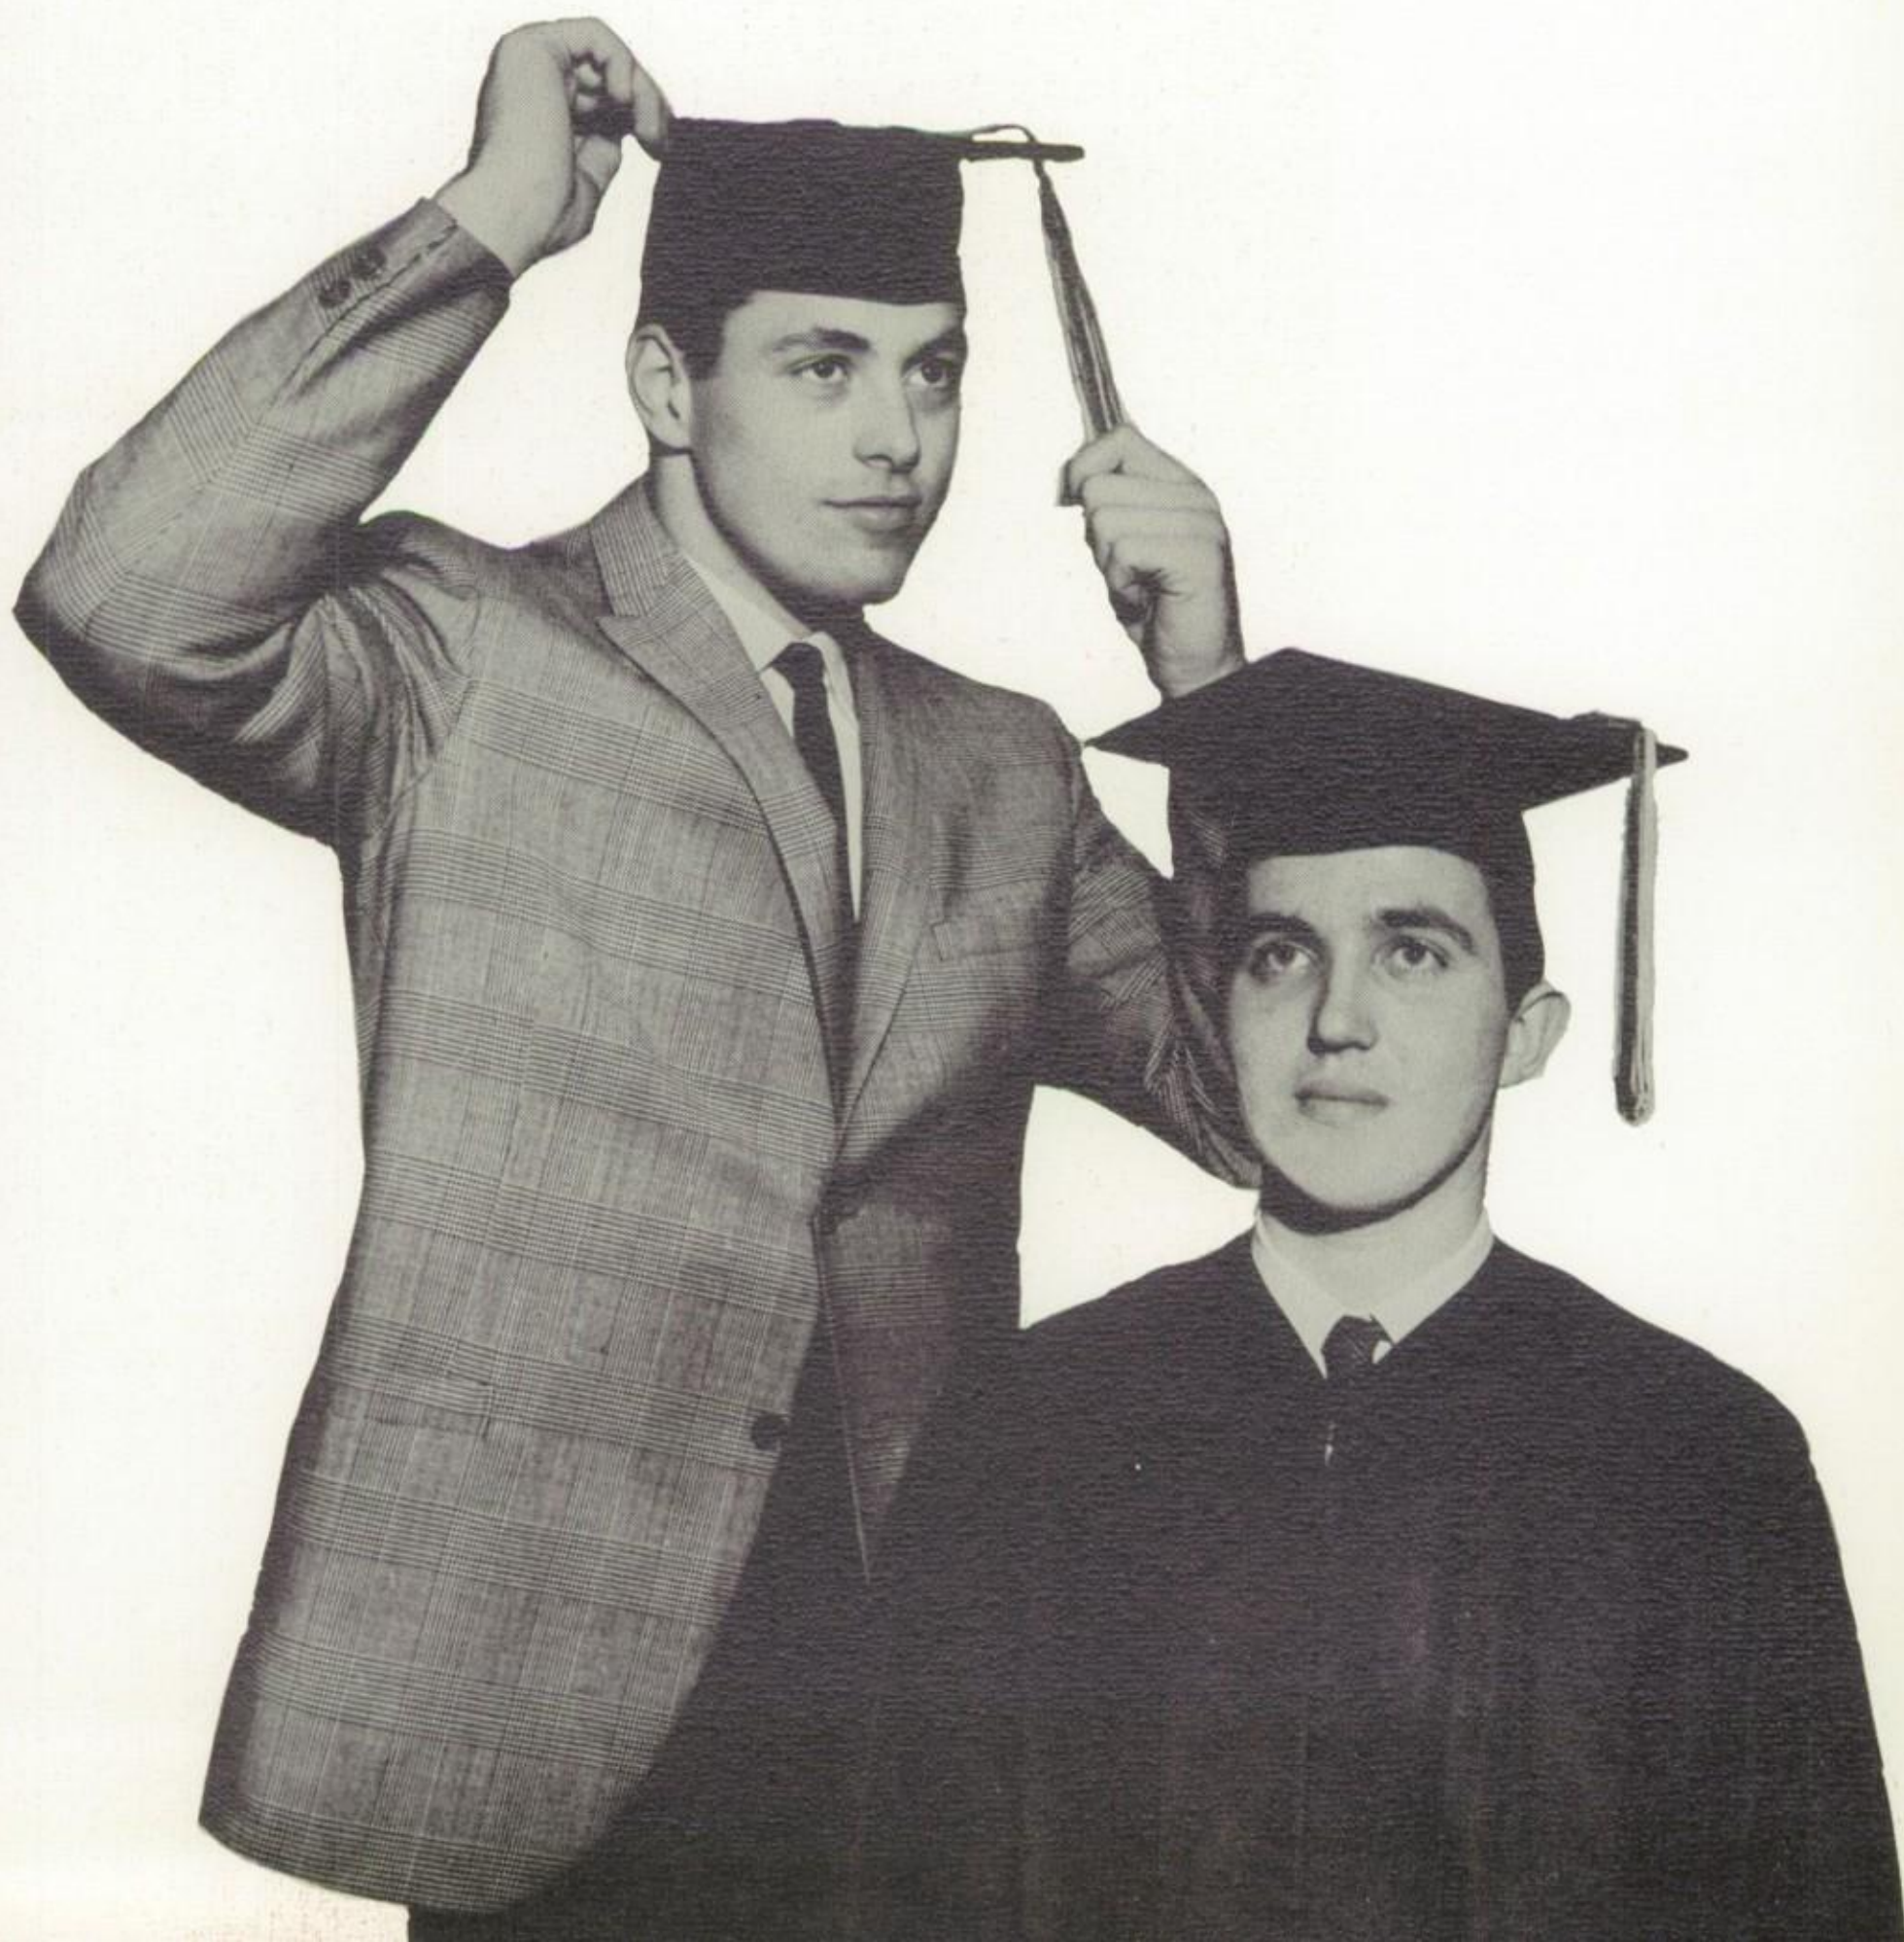

On the threshold of our graduation we, the modern Crusaders, have reached a wistful goal. Completing our four years of learning here, we have realized our personal crusade. Although this coveted goal of development has been achieved, we have yet to attain our crowning quest, complete Christian manhood. These rewarding years have served as building blocks toward the culmination of our final endeavor.

We have developed morally through the religious guidance of our Oblate teachers; intellectually, through our interesting subjects; physically, through our participation in sports; and socially, through our many convivial activities.

Our emblematic school rings serve not only as marks of accomplishment but also as reminders of the future. For many of us this final year marks the end of formal education. For others it is a milestone toward further education. But whatever venture we may embark upon or wherever our paths may lead, we shall be confident as to their outcome. Facing the unknown with its many salient instances, "We shall not falter." With a heartfelt and crusading desire, we will compass our quest as Christian men.

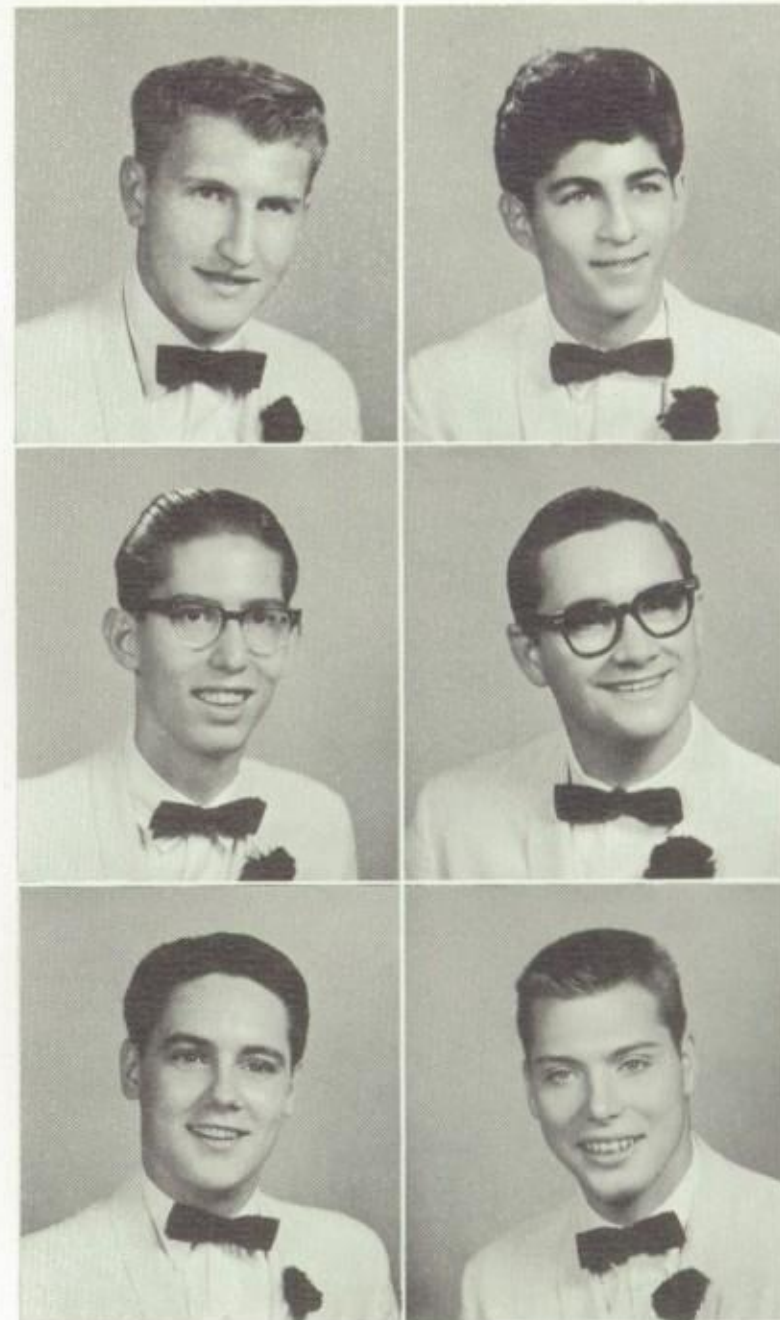

Our third step . . .

S E N I O R S

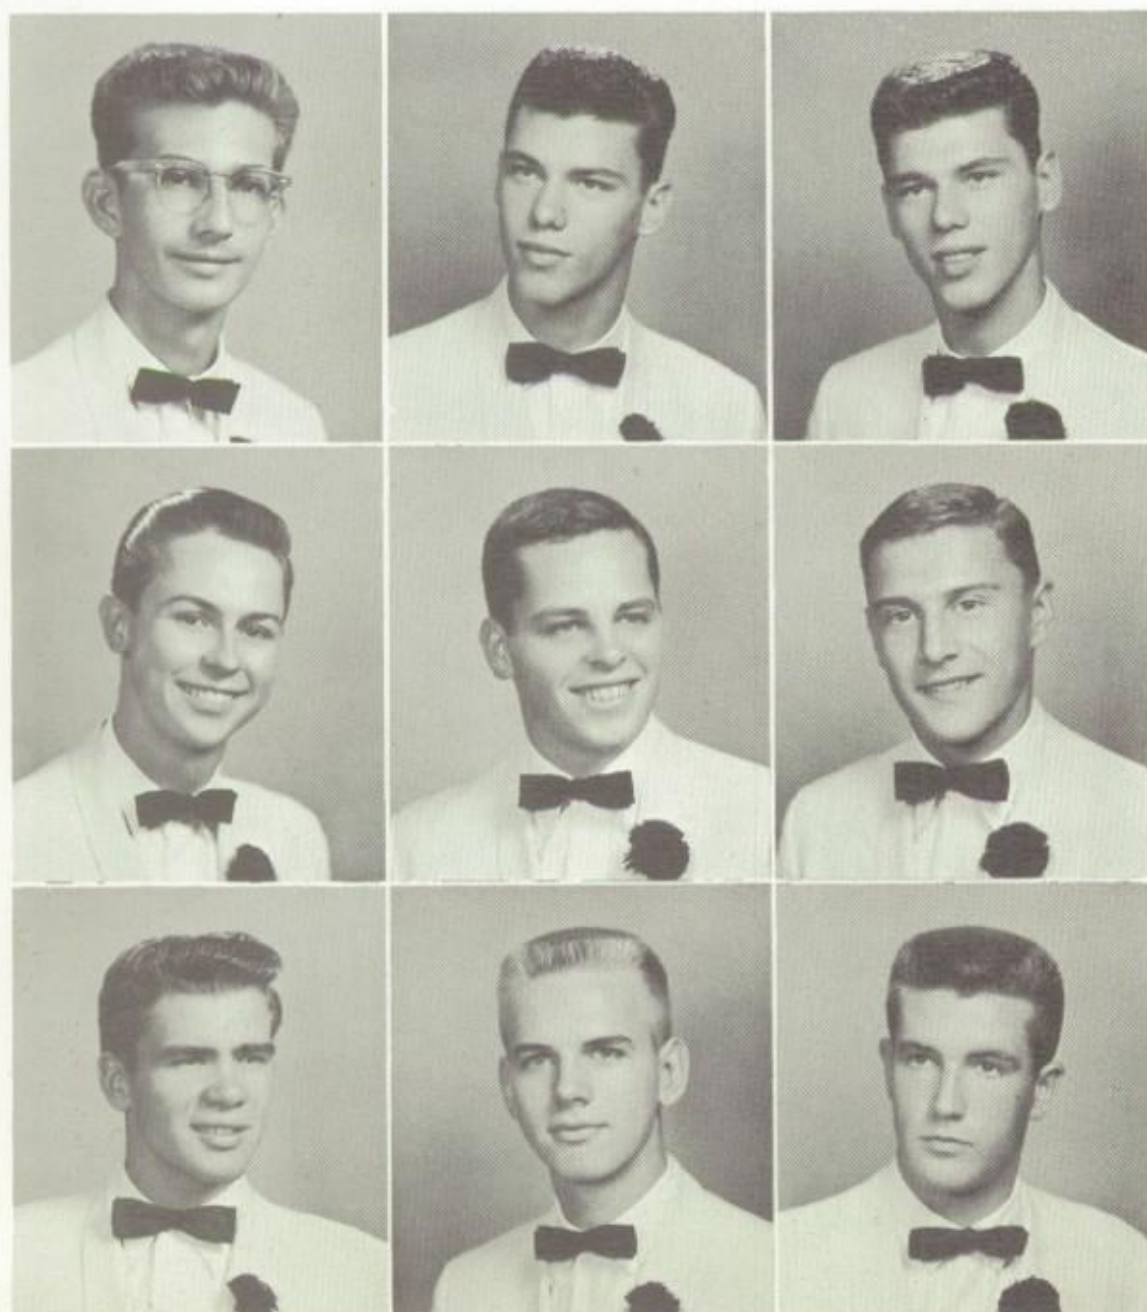

THE REVEREND THOMAS O'CONNELL, O.S.F.S., first principal of our school, gives us his last inspiring words before leaving his difficult office. Father's sparkling personality and keen sense of humor combined to make him one of the most likeable members of the faculty.

LONG AFTER our Principal, Father O'Neill, has blessed our new rings and long after the thrill has faded, our rings will constantly remind us of our duty to God, to our school, and to ourselves. Each of us will wear his ring with pride—yes, with reverence.

SEVEN SENIORS dominated our crew of ushers. Under the edirection of Father Matthew McVey, these Crusaders gave our audiences "service with a smile." Our ushers are Steve Bens, Ron Pappas, Al Volterano, Denny Dziena, Fred Buttari, John Black, John Funk, Joe Dina, Roddy Galster, Joe O'Donnell, Joe Argusa, and Joe Stelluto.

FATHER KEENAN and a group of seniors are discussing Father's favorite writer, William Shakespeare. Those after class chats with this well-liked, soft-spoken priest are always educational and inspiring.

WALT GRIMLEY attempts to block Mr. Schmidt's completed pass to Mr. Keashon, as the Messrs. Rosica and Kolisnyk stand vainly by. The Senior All Stars upset the faculty in this preliminary game 2 to 0 by scoring a touchback early in the game.

THE SENIOR RING DANCE on Hallowe'en was a smashing success. Recorded music and a top combo provided lively entertainment, which was greatly appreciated. It was, indeed, an enjoyable evening for all.

GUIDANCE FOR THE FUTURE—In his busy counseling office, Father McVey plays an important part in advising the intellectual leaders of our Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes. Father spends much of his time investigating opportunities for their future. Much of Father's labor will be appreciated not now, but later.

ON HALLOWE'EN, the night of the senior ring dance, we welcomed a strange guest. From the chem lab, a fitting habitat, came Fr. Wagner, our merry Martian.

IS IT TRUE that Harvey Miller is worrying? It's certainly possible considering the new crop of disc jockeys, headed by two of our Crusaders. Bob Gibboni and Joe Dina gave a creditable performance at our Ring Dance and other record hops. Their record selections and platter chatter will long be remembered.

"HAVE PUBLICITY, WILL PROSPER" is the motto of a new department this year. Exemplifying this motto are our public relations men, Ron Pappas and Joe Shanahan, who have given the school top billing in all its activities.

TIME OUT . . . at our Senior Ring Dance. Joe McSorley, Mike Devine, Tony Volpe, and their dates took advantage of a lull in the music to engage in friendly conversation. Hallowe'en, 1960, was a memorable occasion. Even while taking a break from dancing, everyone enjoyed himself at this sparkling Senior soiree.

The final bell does not punctuate the end of a school day. For many, it is the beginning of a new phase in school life. Many hard working students spend their time after classes to form our numerous and interesting activities. Through our various clubs, we get better acquainted with our fellow classmates and students from other schools. We also become closer connected to and extract a greater feeling of loyalty for our Alma Mater. These informal gatherings enrich us with moments of pleasure and relaxation. We develop our sense of cooperation.

Through our well-organized science clubs, we are provided with matter supplementary to that which is given in the classroom. In our dramatic activities, we mingle and socialize with the representatives of other schools. In our hobby clubs, we refresh ourselves with different viewpoints on daily topics. In our language clubs, we learn to further appreciate the cultural background of our foreign neighbors.

These rewarding sessions after school prove to be valuable assets in the crusading drive toward our Quest.

Our fourth step . . .

A C T I V I T I E S

FROM THE LOOK on her face, Ruth Ann Hall is greatly excited over this telephone call. Ginny Nordland seems anxious to share in the excitement of boy friend hunting.

YOU'LL DISGRACE the whole Gilbreth family in these things," gasps Mike Bromley. Looking on dumb-foundedly, Ginny Nordland shares the astonishment in this hilarious scene.

BOB McMENIMEN looks like "some kind of nut" as he passes from the grip of panic into a state of shock. This portrayal provided additional laughs to a very humorous play.

MIKE BROMLEY as Mr. Gilbreth inspects his children in "Cheaper By The Dozen." The "children" lined up are: Frank Schoen, Joe Gray, Dennis Brophy, Ginny Nordland, Frannie Gercke, Marie Nahill, Bill Eppiheimer, and Joe Pokorny.

Each year, our students and the girls from St. Hubert's combine to enact two major productions. This year's shows were "Cheaper By The Dozen" and "The Fourth Annual Crusaders Capers." We must extend sincere thanks to Father Hermley, our director, assisted by Fathers Toner and Campbell.

Behind the actual production are many workers never seen by an audience. These, of course, are the members of the stage crew and technical assistants. All of these workers on the stage and behind the scenes work hard to bring top performances to our stage.

crusaders' capers . . . smashing success

FEAR RADIATES from Connie Murphy's gaze as Dave Gonce and Judy Gaunt attack their helpless victim. Skits, such as this one, involve a great deal of work and practice by the students as they prepare our production of the Varsity Show to present before the appreciative public.

LAUGHING HEARTILY is Mike Bromley, Master of Ceremonies of the Crusaders' Capers. During the many weeks of rehearsals and the week of actual performances, Mike was the right-hand man of Father Hermley, our director. A great job by Mike, helped to make the show a smashing success.

CATHY STAMMER and Larry Dillon are just two of the many fascinating characters in the skits from our Variety Show. These comical sequences provided spots of bright humor during the Fourth Annual Crusaders's Capers. The skits covered all fields of life including werewolves, radio programs, marriage proposals, American history, and commercials. Such scenes as these kept the audience in laughter throughout the entire evening, as it marked its spot in our history of successful productions.

the band plays on

One of the primary spirit lifters of our school is the Music Department. Appearing at all our football games, our championship Marching Band immediately raised the spirit of the spectators by its lively music and precision marching. A touch of excellence is given by the recently-formed color guard, organized by Fr. Dunne and Mr. Rapp. Victory music in competition is not limited to our marching band. Our hard-working musicians enliven our dances with everything from "Harlem Nocturne" to the "Twist." Under the able direction of Mr. Zingrone and Fr. Clarke, our dance band placed second in the last year's competition and this year both marching and dance bands took first place trophies.

THE CHAOTIC ARRAY of our championship marching band is not at all characteristic of its trophy-winning form. This disorganized group seems to have forgotten all the training Mr. Zingrone and Fr. Clarke have given it, however, the band is probably overly-exuberant about leading its divisions in the marching band contest. However, when the fun is finished, the band will begin practicing again, so that our school will be worthily represented at other sports events.

ASSEMBLED HERE are the spirit-raisers of our music department. At all our football games, these "Benny Goodmans" play lively marches and arouse the enthusiasm of the spectators as they watch their precision drilling. Led by the color guard, a body composed of freshmen, the band had an appearance of excellence. In the center are the trophies won in the small marching band competition in which our school placed first.

CARRIED AWAY by Stan Kenton's theme, "Artistry Jump," our Dance Band demonstrates its, we hope, prize-winning talents during a pre-season showing before our Senior Assembly. Partially morale building and partially interest attracting, these showings took place during all the school assemblies and were staged through the efforts of Fr. Clarke and Mr. Zingrone. Mr. Zingrone and Fr. Clarke hope that these warm-ups will give the band the necessary self-confidence to carry it through the stiff competition it will encounter. Furthermore, we hope that our Dance Band receives the rewards it so richly deserves.

and all that JAZZ

One of our more recognized groups of musicians is the dance band. These very capable boys play at all our social functions, from the Hallowe'en Dance to the Carnival. But their recognition is not limited to the student body alone, a fact to which the judges of last year's dance band competition will testify. For, in this competition, we placed a very close second. The key to their success is practice and the strong desire to win. We are confident that they will once again live up to the school's expectations in this year's competition and come home with the first place trophy. "P.S. They did just that . . . Congratulations!"

Erasing Boards

There are three methods in wiping the slate clean and adorns school walls. I describe them to you.

First, I will introduce "Cobra," not as venomous celebrated reptile but in respects similar. He slinks board, weapons in hand and fully sets about his task. I the eraser glide here and he sways his body slowly rhythmically as in time to oriental snake charmer's movement. Any moment you expecterstwhile obliterator of marks to ascend, in fashion, to the ceiling before very eyes.

Then there's the "Whizzer er." He gets a death grip on eraser, summons all the energy is capable of, and with fiery mination waves it up and this way and that practically every possible angle it is a traverse. All the time, his at regular intervals are leaving ground, giving the impression a piston hard at work as he up and down. He usually up a noticeable sweat.

Then we have the fellow known as "Speed." They say this was the inspiration for motion photography. His action be compared to those of on a hot summer day, as the ly gripped eraser, held equally loose arm, mechanically attempts to rid the green of his yellow brother. A while he seems to be fighting an overwhelming desire to sleep a fly ever were to get between green board and the eraser would be an even bet that it emit a faintly audible laugh cause of the tickling sensation

BELOW: Tom Gradel, Dave Sejda, Rich McAdams and Ed Shoen cluster about Jim Reilly as the Editor-in-Chief explains to Tom the importance of an error-free page.

our journalists

LEFT: At Father Judge even Dave Gonce reads the Crusader. Our newspaper really gets around; it is the universal book cover of the school; it can be seen on buses, corridors and in classrooms. Our editors find the newspaper enjoyable . . . and let our student body in on the fun.

WRITING, consulting old yearbooks, checking seniors who do not exist, John Byrne, George White, Bob Vath, and Ed Canning seem to enjoy their work on our senior chronicle.

ATTENTIVELY listening to Father Toner's helpful hints are T. Gradel, J. Reilly, S. Clayton, R. Vath, J. Schular, A. Zarzecki, E. Shoen, D. Sejda, T. Brady and R. McAdams while Father Dougherty tries to think of some other writing aids.

PROOF READING, picture sorting and, annoying the office staff seem to be the favorite occupations of our Quest staff when not writing. Here, we have E. Moody, E. Fratelli, E. Mullin, G. White and A. Koszrek resting in the lull before the storm that is known as "Deadline Day."

THE QUESTS, 1957, 1958, 1959, and 1960, were winners all because of their outstanding layouts, copy, theme, approach and appealing artistry. This year, having broken from the traditional format, we still hope to continue a school tradition with our book, the 1961 Quest.

the 61' quest . . . book of the year

CAPTION BY CAPTION, page by page, our yearbook slowly started towards completion, picking up more and more speed the further it went. Setting and resetting deadlines, struggling through reams of paper, working after school and on holidays, our Quest staff has reached its goal.

Resting in our debris strewn office after the final, chaotic rush are Rich McAdams, Bob Fretelli, Ed Moody, John Byrne and Ed Canning. All are happy to be sure.

student government . . . democracy in action

AS A DEMOCRATIC FORM of government, our Student Council provides an opportunity for these junior-lawmakers to acquaint themselves with the processes of legislation. The president of each section represents his fellow students in this assembly under the moderation of Father Wetzel. For anything from Career Day to Field Day, the Student Council has its motto "Action for the students."

men of song & missionary minded

PETE LAMLEIN, Charlie Rycheick, Joe Pokorny, and Joe Stelluto, our own barber shop quartet minus the handlebar mustaches, brought back fond memories to the hearts of the old-timers who attended the Glee Club Concert.

FATHER ANDREW DUNNE, initiator of our first Glee Club, harmonizes these songsters as they run through the scales. First Row: E. Gontram, J. Lyons, J. Ott, R. Scannapieco, A. Ciliberti, C. Bock. Second Row: F. Andelfinger, J. Smith, J. Jones, J. Puchon. Third Row: J. Stelluto, J. Berger, J. Kress, S. Cerelli. Fourth Row: J. Pokorny, P. Lamline, B. Rycheick, J. Smyth. Constant practice plus Fr. Dunne's ear for music added up to a well-rounded choir that is surely destined for the Ed Sullivan show, that is, if Jack Paar doesn't nab them for $320.

MISSION CLUB MODERATOR, Fr. Eugene Rickert, Mike Olivere, John Ott, and Tony Kubacki repair small religious articles. These sacramentals will be shipped to the Oblate missionaries in South Africa, who will distribute them to the natives whom they have brought to the Faith.

"IT SAYS RIGHT HERE THAT . . .," argues Paul Vanderneut, as he attempts to convince Tom Honold and Vic Kopcznski. Many such debates arise out of our discussions as different interpretations of a famous author's words are presented.

the great books discussion club

OUR ALLEGED INTELLECTUALS gather around the discussion table to argue over a point of Plato's Republic. Many heated but friendly arguments arise out of our informal meeting, as an abundance of knowledge is amassed through reading the recognized great books. Seated are: Jim Reilly, Tom Whartenby, A. Cuzzo, Ron Ziolo, Don Spry, Ed Gallagher, Fr. Travers, the discussion's moderator, John Connolley, Dan Mehan, Al Newman, Bill Subick, and Dave Sejda.

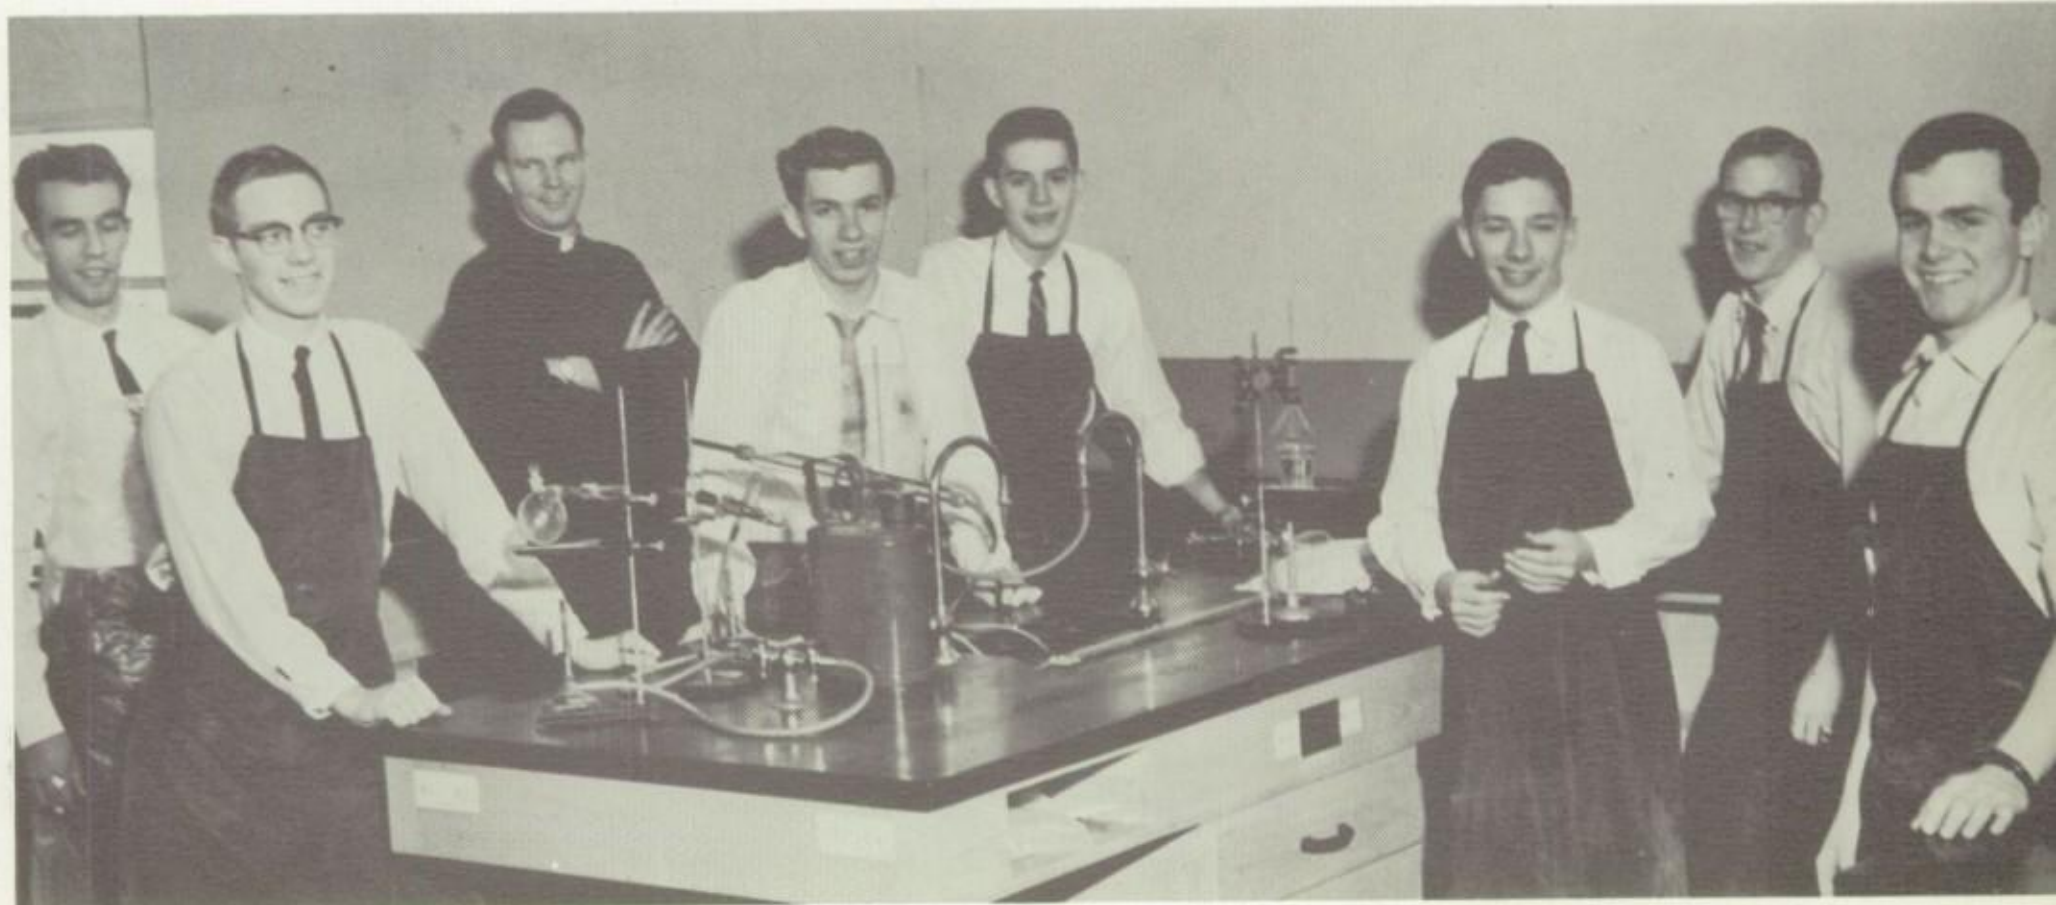

biology & chemistry clubs . . . science in action

UNDER THE CLOSE SUPERVISION of Fathers Shings and Kelly, the members of our Biology Club hold discussions on everything from the amoeba to the vertebrates. The object of the Club attained by having each amateur biologist present a report on his own project, is to further the general knowledge of each participant. Here, assembled for their weekly meeting are: J. Kwiatkowski, T. Smietana, G. Fennerty, R. Javers, R. Paperiello, P. Bless, T. Donnelly, E. Rubino, F. Kovack, S. Jesialowski, Father Schings, J. Ott, C. Pepler, J. Mount, J. Betz, J. Donahue, P. Glorioso, T. Boyer, W. Rumpf, and Fr. Kelly.

EACH MONDAY AFTERNOON and Thursday evening, our Chemistry lab is invaded by a group of strange mortals who have dubbed themselves the Chemistry Club. These future Lavoisiers and Priestleys, R. Hampel, J. Lyons, R. Peoples, R. Ziolo, J. Ott, J. Shaeffer, and S. Clayton are under the able direction of Fr. Murphy, as they prepare their own Fourth-of-July celebration. Actually, the students gain much practical knowledge through these experiments which will help them to further their scientific careers.

THE CHESS CLUB receives a few pointers from its moderator, Fr. Sarro. This group utilizes the back rooms of the library. With its expert playing, they have enhanced the school's prestige. Indeed, when other activities do not fare too well, the chess team stages a stunning victory to enliven everyone's spirits. Sitting: J. McCullough, R. DiErcole, M. Kubiak, D. Kenny, J. Wood, Fr. Sarro. Standing: T. McCabe, D. Sejda, J. Fennegan, P. Gumpka, R. Falicky, R. Bonner, P. Kaporch, R. Paperiello, J. Shannon, T. D'Anelo, U. Arata.

SHOULD THE UNITED NATIONS be significantly strengthened? Under the direction of Father John Dealy, our skilled debaters have successfully argued both the affirmative and negative of this timely question. These boys receive much of their forensic experience here in school. Sitting: J. Eagan, J. Schneider, J. Gallo, P. Gerhardt, J. Schuler, J. Reilly, Fr. Dealy, E. Schoen, V. Monte, J. Palm, G. Blair, T. Honold, J. Cipriano. Standing: T. Quinn, G. Kublinski, J. Kreimer, R. McDermot, E. Weklar, G. Overholt, A. Newman, D. Sweeney, W. McGinnis, J. Stobeman, W. Clarly, D. McGettigan, J. Jones, C. Alexander.

A NEW BUT GROWING activity, the Stamp and Coin Club, was organized by Father Schings so that those boys who are interested in philately and numismatics could meet and discuss and trade their collections. Furthermore, they supply each other with information concerning the best places to buy stamps and obtain periodicals which contain interesting information about their hobbies. The members are: T. Boyer, P. Bieg, W. Grimley, Fr. Schings, W. Kuhn, P. Bless, J. Betz and R. Paperiello.

spirit committee

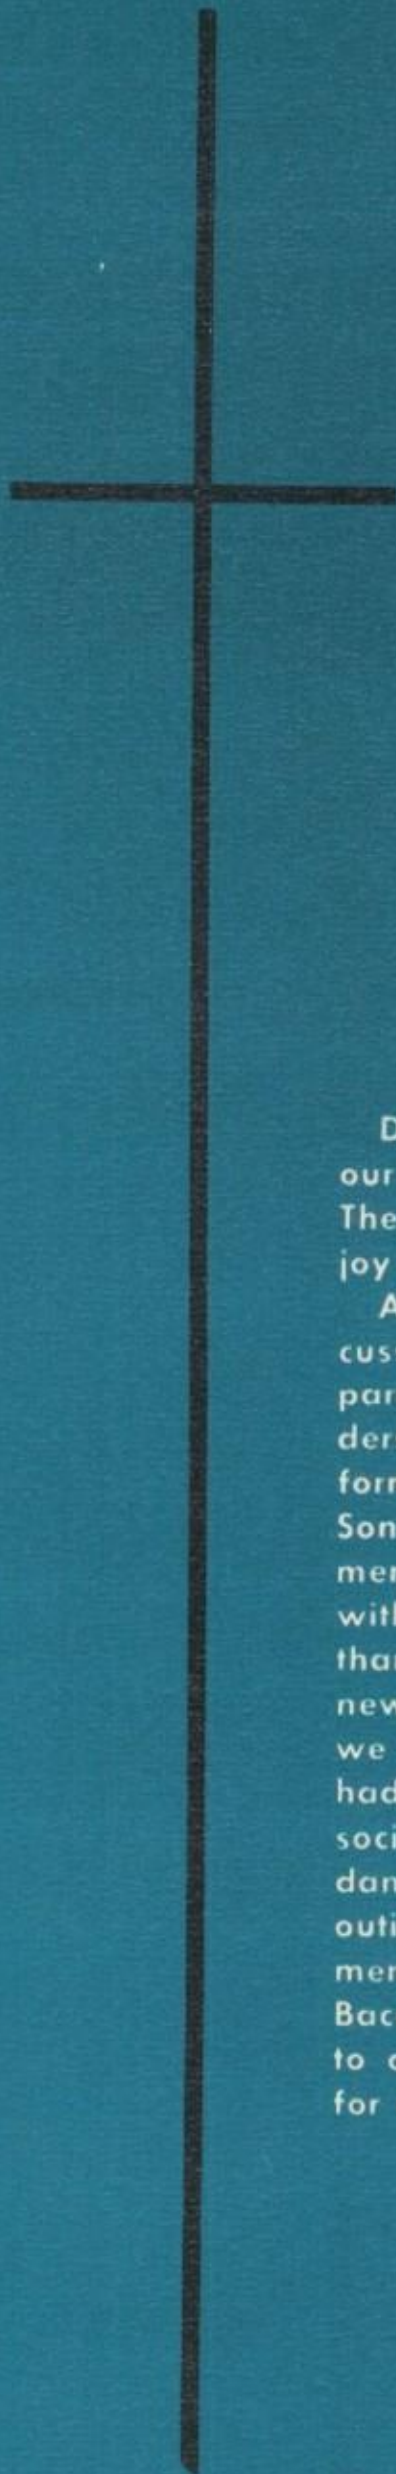

THE FATHER JUDGE Spirit Committee is one of our newer organizations. J. Lydon, E. Flaherty, J. Gallen, D. Gonce, B. Farina, I. Hergesheimer, J. Pokorney, C. Graf, G. Shaaf, E. Canning and J. Henrich have donated much of their spare time in a combined effort to stimulate school spirit.

SACRISTANS: John Sullivan, Joseph Duffy, and Anthony Kubacki prepare the altar and John Ott, James Kreiner, and James Lyons ready the credence table for the lunch period Masses. The untiring efforts of these and other sacristans in attending to the chapel and sacrificing a part of their lunch period to serve at Holy Mass keep the schedule running smoothly.

During this year certain events stand out in our minds and will forever remain with us. These occasions brought us mixed emotions of joy and sadness.

At the parent-teacher's meeting, we discussed our position on school affairs with our parents and teachers. Better relations and understanding were reached through these informative, friendly sessions. At the Father and Son Communion Breakfast, we offered a moment of respect and solemn prayer, as we knelt with our fathers, received communion, and gave thanks to God. At our dances, we made many new and lasting friendships. At the carnival, we rode the amusements, laughed gaily and had a wonderful time. At our Senior Prom, the social highlight of the year, we danced and danced till dawn with our charming dates. This outing will last forever in every graduate's memory as a "night to remember." At the Baccalaureate Mass we shall bid a sad farewell to our noble school and pray with our family for success in the future.

our prom . . . the most wonderful night of the year

LEARNING CAN BE FUN, especially when we have a pretty teacher, John Krumancer's date is about to show him the latest dance step. Although he may not care for the subject matter, we can be sure that teacher will hold his interest.

WITH ALL the preparations behind us the big night had finally come. Still bleary-eyed from our relatives' flashbulbs, we arrived at Constatters filled with a festive spirit. The early evening tenseness wore off quickly as we entered the ballroom and began to mingle among friends. Our Senior Prom at the Falcon House was an even bigger success.

A BRIEF INTERLUDE during a perfect Prom night provides an opportunity for some interesting tableside chatter. These pauses were especially appreciated by our dates who needed time to rest their sore feet. We talked and laughed about the many amusing incidents which almost always occur on Prom night. Such casual conversation provided one of the high points of our Prom.

THE DAILY ROUTINE of school life was briefly forgotten as we glided around the dance floor amid an atmosphere of flowers and swishing gowns. The pace varied from the soft strains of old stand-bys to the modern beat of the Prom's theme "Because They're Young." We danced on and on until all that remained was the memory of a wonderful evening.

father & son communion breakfast

The Holy Eucharist is the perfect uniter of wills and ideas. Therefore, at our Father and Son Communion Breakfast complete spiritual fusion between father, son, school and God was achieved. It is the duty of our parents, principally, to educate us, the school being an aid in this task. Our fathers demonstrated their gratitude to the school for its efforts by their participation in this religious and social function.

Father McGolddrick offered Holy Mass while we assisted in the auditorium, and then everyone retired to the gym for the delicious catered breakfast. It provided a wonderful opportunity for our dads to meet our classmates and their dads.

Radio personality Ed Harvey was toastmaster; and Villanova football coach, Joe Rogers, was guest speaker.

BIG APPETITES were satisfied with fruit cup, ham and eggs, potatoes, buns, and hot coffee. The reception of Holy Communion among fathers and sons and the delicious meal provided for a spiritually beneficial and entertaining Sunday morning.

THESE INNOCENT-LOOKING GUESTS of honor fractured a few ribs with their tall tales and jokes besides speaking on more serious topics.

THE BREAD OF LIFE is distributed by Father McGolddrick to Fathers and Sons kneeling side by side. In Holy Communion both as sons, receive their heavenly Father, food of eternity.

OFFICERS of the Fathers' Association Messrs. Owen Doyle, Secretary; Louis Farina, President; William Keweshan, Treasurer; and Francis Krebs, Vice-President did a wonderful job in organizing the highly successful breakfast.

"REMEMBER WHEN we danced at the Soph Hop here? That was in the good old days!" Many past, happy moments at gym dances were recalled to memory by the alumni and their girls who attended the "Welcome Sixty" dance on January 7.

MARK, FATHER GREENE, THE ALUMNI MODERATOR, AND BOB chat about the Association's successes and discuss plans for future activities. However, the grads' attendance at functions has not been one hundred percent as yet. Father and the officers hope it soon will be.

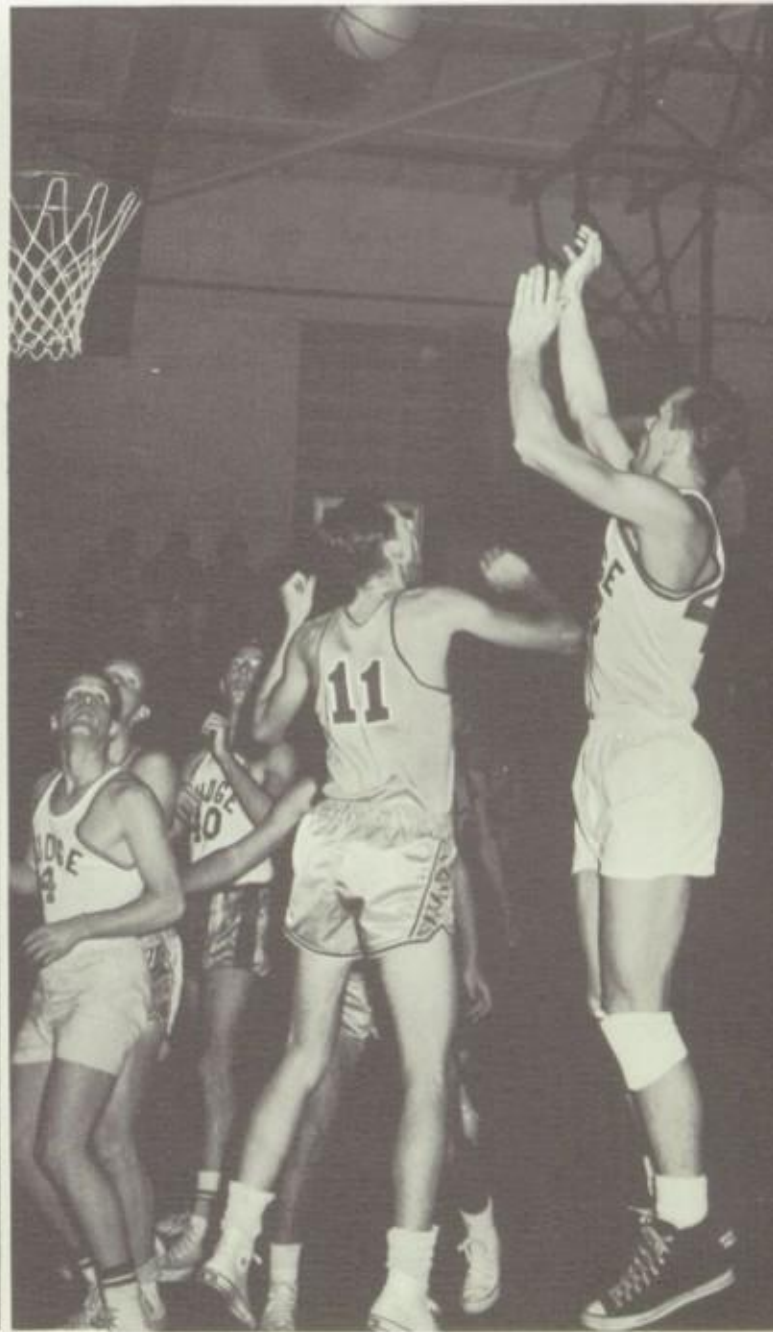

AN ALUMNUS and his date take advantage of the live music provided at the "Welcome Sixty" dance by a talented combo. They as well as the other seventy-five couples who attended, took advantage also of the cokes, pretzels, and potato chips.

alumni . . . our loyal graduates

There were two highlights in the Alumni Association's activities this year. First, a fine newspaper, appropriately titled "Conquest", was initially printed. This neat little publication will keep the 3139 members better informed of the young association's affairs. Second, a six-team Alumni Basketball League was formed and was enthusiastically received by all. This organization keeps all graduates in contact with one another and with the school, no matter how far or where we may wander.

THE PRESIDENT of the Alumni Association, Mark Igoe, and the chairman of the Class of '60 dance, Bob Walters on the left, warmly welcome new alumni John Gercke, Louis Falino, and Mike Carroll, all of '60 to the ranks of the victorious Crusaders.

JOHNNY HARTMAN can't block '58 grad Dan McKendry's jump shot this time, but the varsity went on to beat the Alumni.

carnival . . . spring spectacular

The Annual Father Judge Spring Carnival stands out as one of the highpoints of the year's social activities. The variety of activities at this gay affair provides fun for one and all. Whether we enjoy the soaring heights of the ferris wheel, the games of chance, or the Carnival Dance, the carnival provides enjoyment for young and old alike. The carnival reaches its climax on the final night when the winner of the grand prize is announced. And, then, like all good things, the carnival must come to an end . . . for another year.

WHERE SHE STOPS nobody knows . . . but women's intuition helps as the woman on the right can testify as she begins enjoying the spoils of victory.

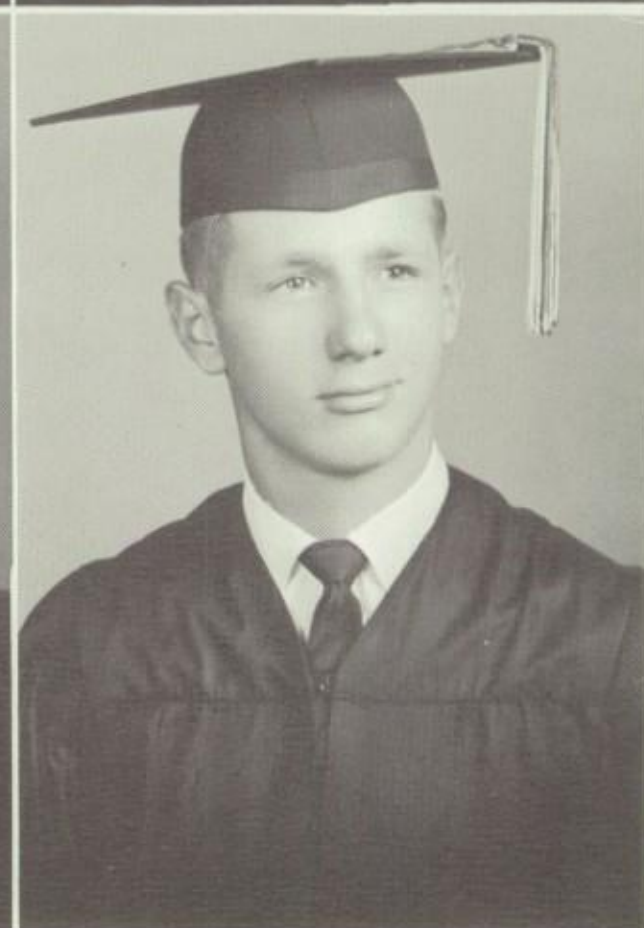

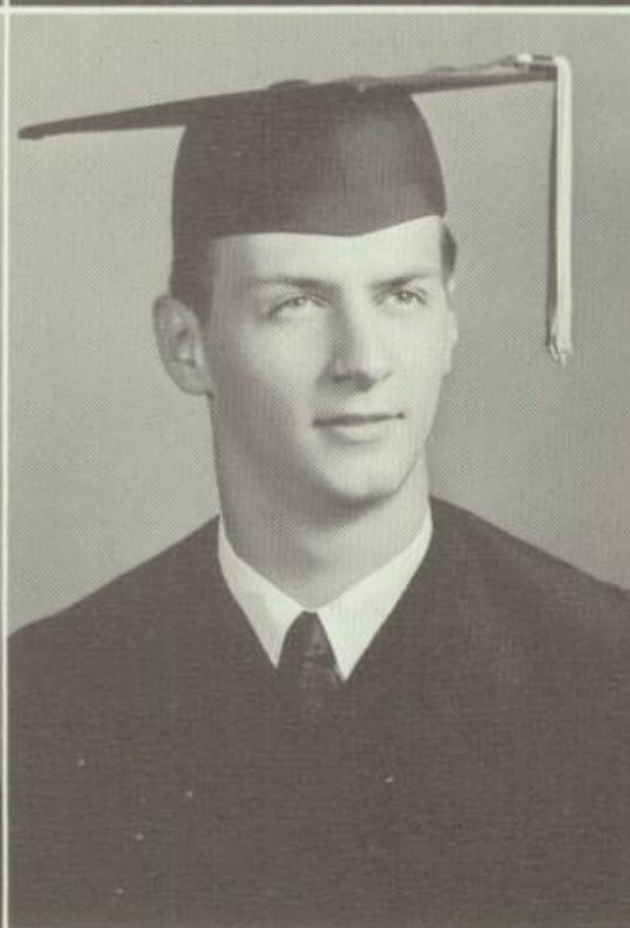

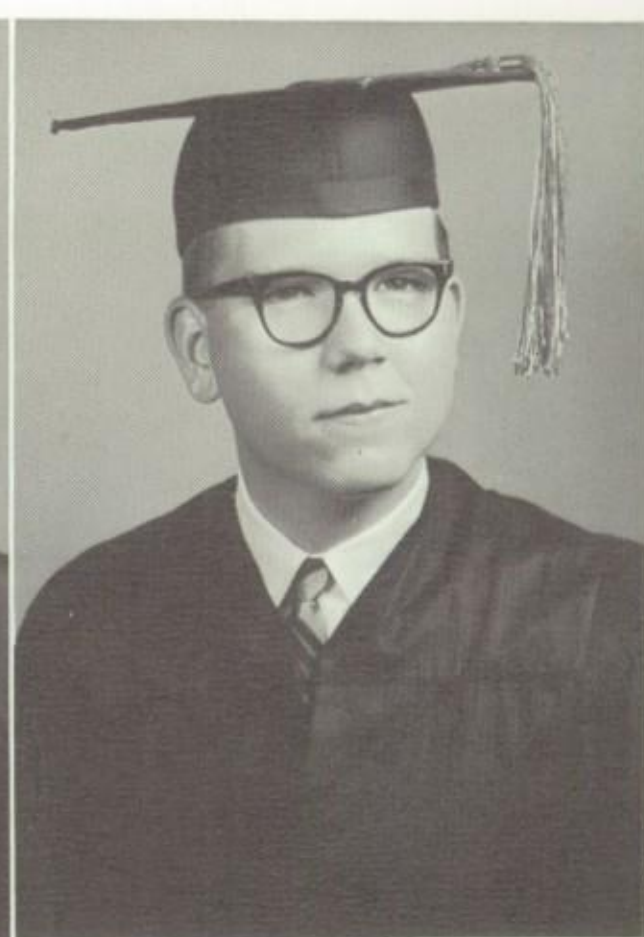

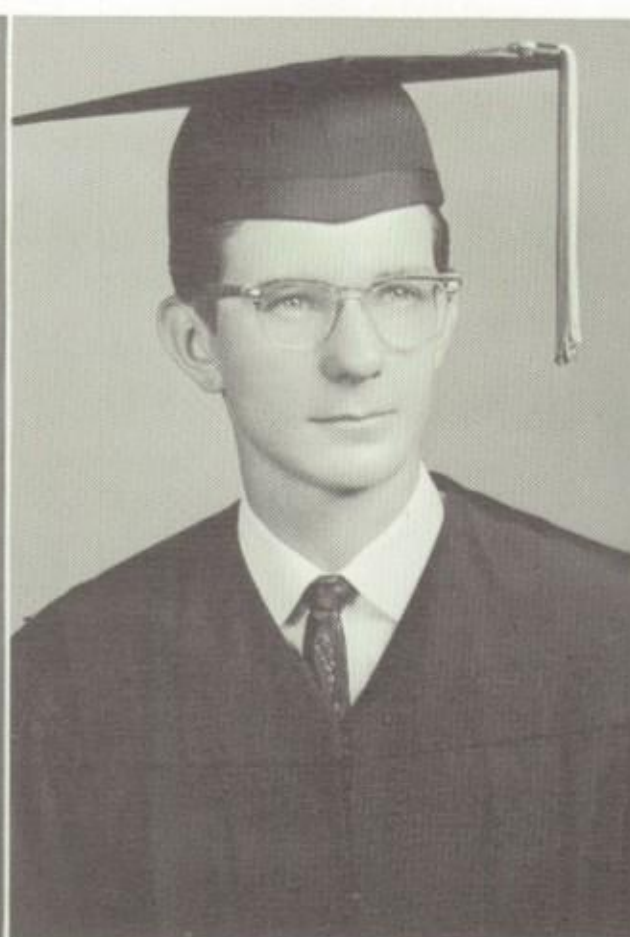

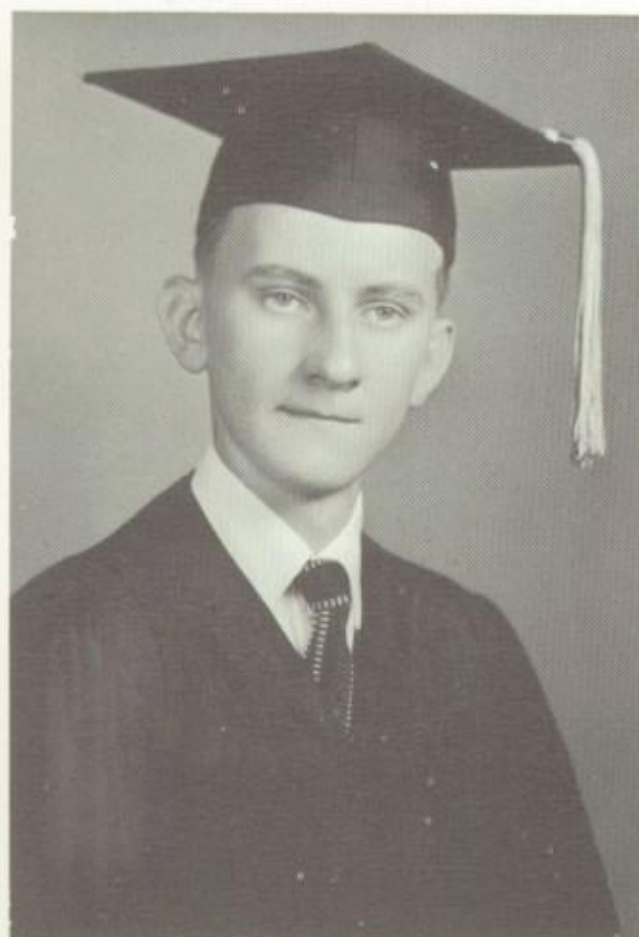

"LET'S GO ON AGAIN—it was fun up there." And, like many others they may ride the ferris-wheel many times before the night is over. The ticket booths are kept busy through the night by us loyal riders who were caught in the web of excitement.

HELP!! is the cry so often heard as it speeds on its merry journey. And, it seemed so gentle when we climbed aboard, too.

AMONG THE MANY amusements at any carnival, the ferris-wheel remains the perennial favorite. As we await our ride, we see the huge ring jauntily jousting with the stars. Little can match the great excitement as the gay wheel begins its majestic ascent, the surging, soaring feeling as we are lifted to the apex of the climb. But all too soon our ride is ended and the fleeting joy is over . . . till next time.

our honor men . . . summa cum laude

To the top honor men of 1961 we extend our heartiest congratulations. These twelve men have consistently personified the highest echelon in scholastic achievement. Their exemplary work of the past four years has won them the highest honors which our school can bestow. The billing sacrifices of long hours of study in their quest for knowledge epitomizes the highest ideals of a Judge Crusader. Soon they will depart to face new horizons and greater challenges of the adult world. Fortified with their hard-won knowledge and well-formed Christian principles, they are assured of success in their future endeavors.

men of the YEAR

SUCCESSFUL POLITICIAN Bob Farina is probably the best known and best liked graduate of 1961. His accomplishments during his four year tenure at Father Judge are a source of admiration to students and faculty alike. Bob was chosen by the senior class as President of the class in November and it can never be said that he failed in his election promise of faithful service. It was Bob's cool head and hot hand that guided our basketball team to a new record for us in league competition. We'll be looking for great things from you, Bob.

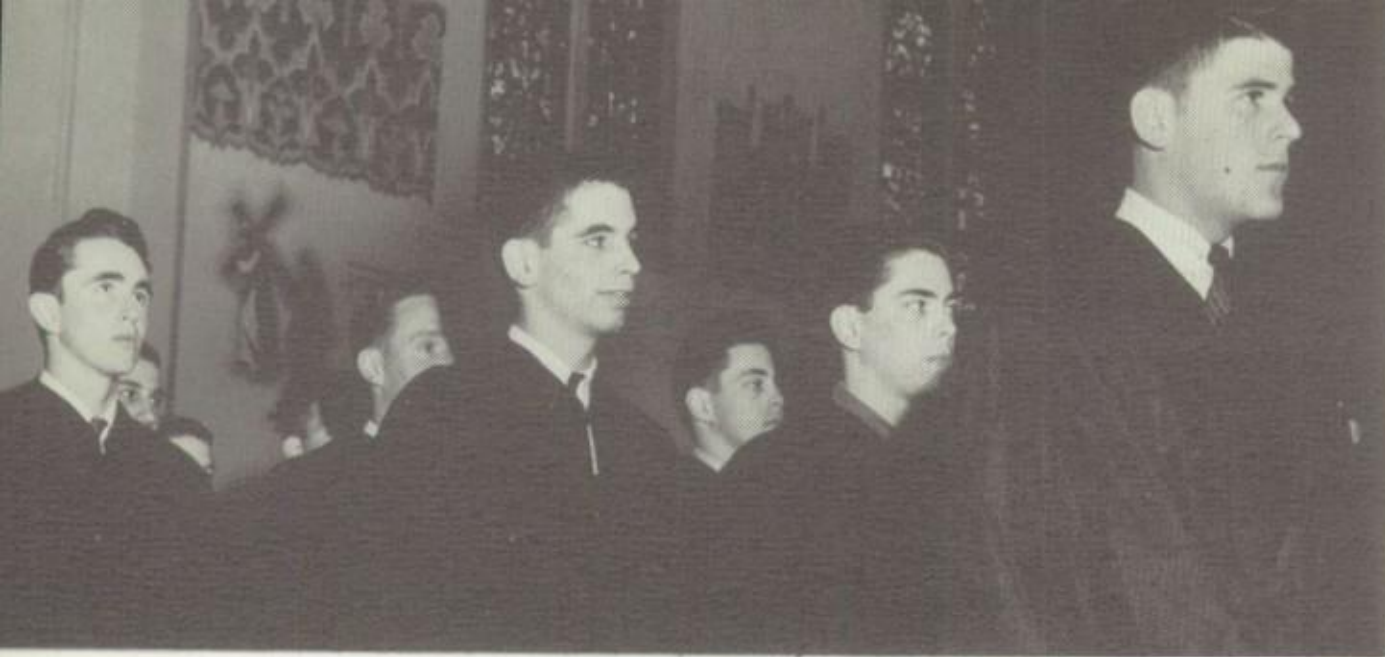

ATHLETE AND STUDENT Jake Gaffney will be remembered by us all as one who has combined studies and sports as they were meant to be combined. A good student and a real gentleman, Jake has been a member of the varsity basketball team and has compiled the best record of any baseball pitcher in the history of our school. God bless you, Jake.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER AND DAVE IS POWERFUL. Dave Sejda has distinguished himself as a scholar and loyal Judgeite. As scholar he qualifies as a Merit Scholarship finalist; as loyal Judgeite we find him almost any day after school this year writing for the Quest or editing the Crusader. Nice going, Dave—we're proud of you.

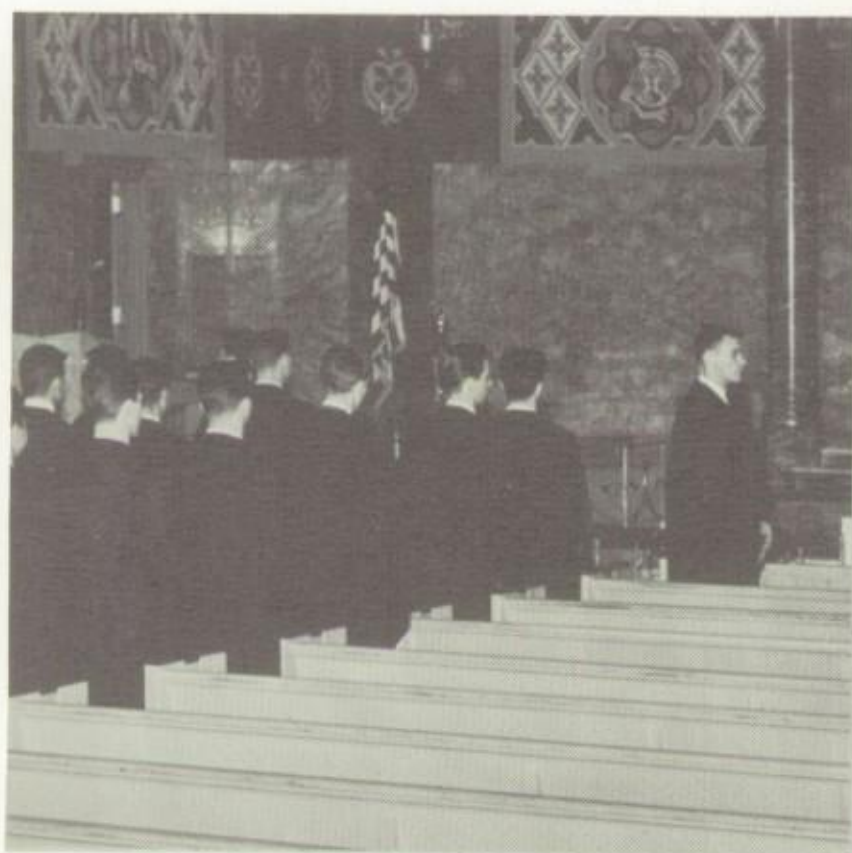

QUIET AND UNASSUMING Joe Gallen, president of the class of '61 in his freshman, sophomore and junior years, president of the Student Council in his senior year, varsity footballer and spark plug of the spirit committee. These are some of the accomplishments of our "most elected graduate of '61." Truly a Man of the Year. Congratulations, Joe.

THE BACCALAUREATE MASS at Resurrection on June 9th marked the beginning of our final day as students at Father Judge. Before mass began we were suddenly faced with the awareness that an important and unforgettable portion of our lives was quickly drawing to a close.

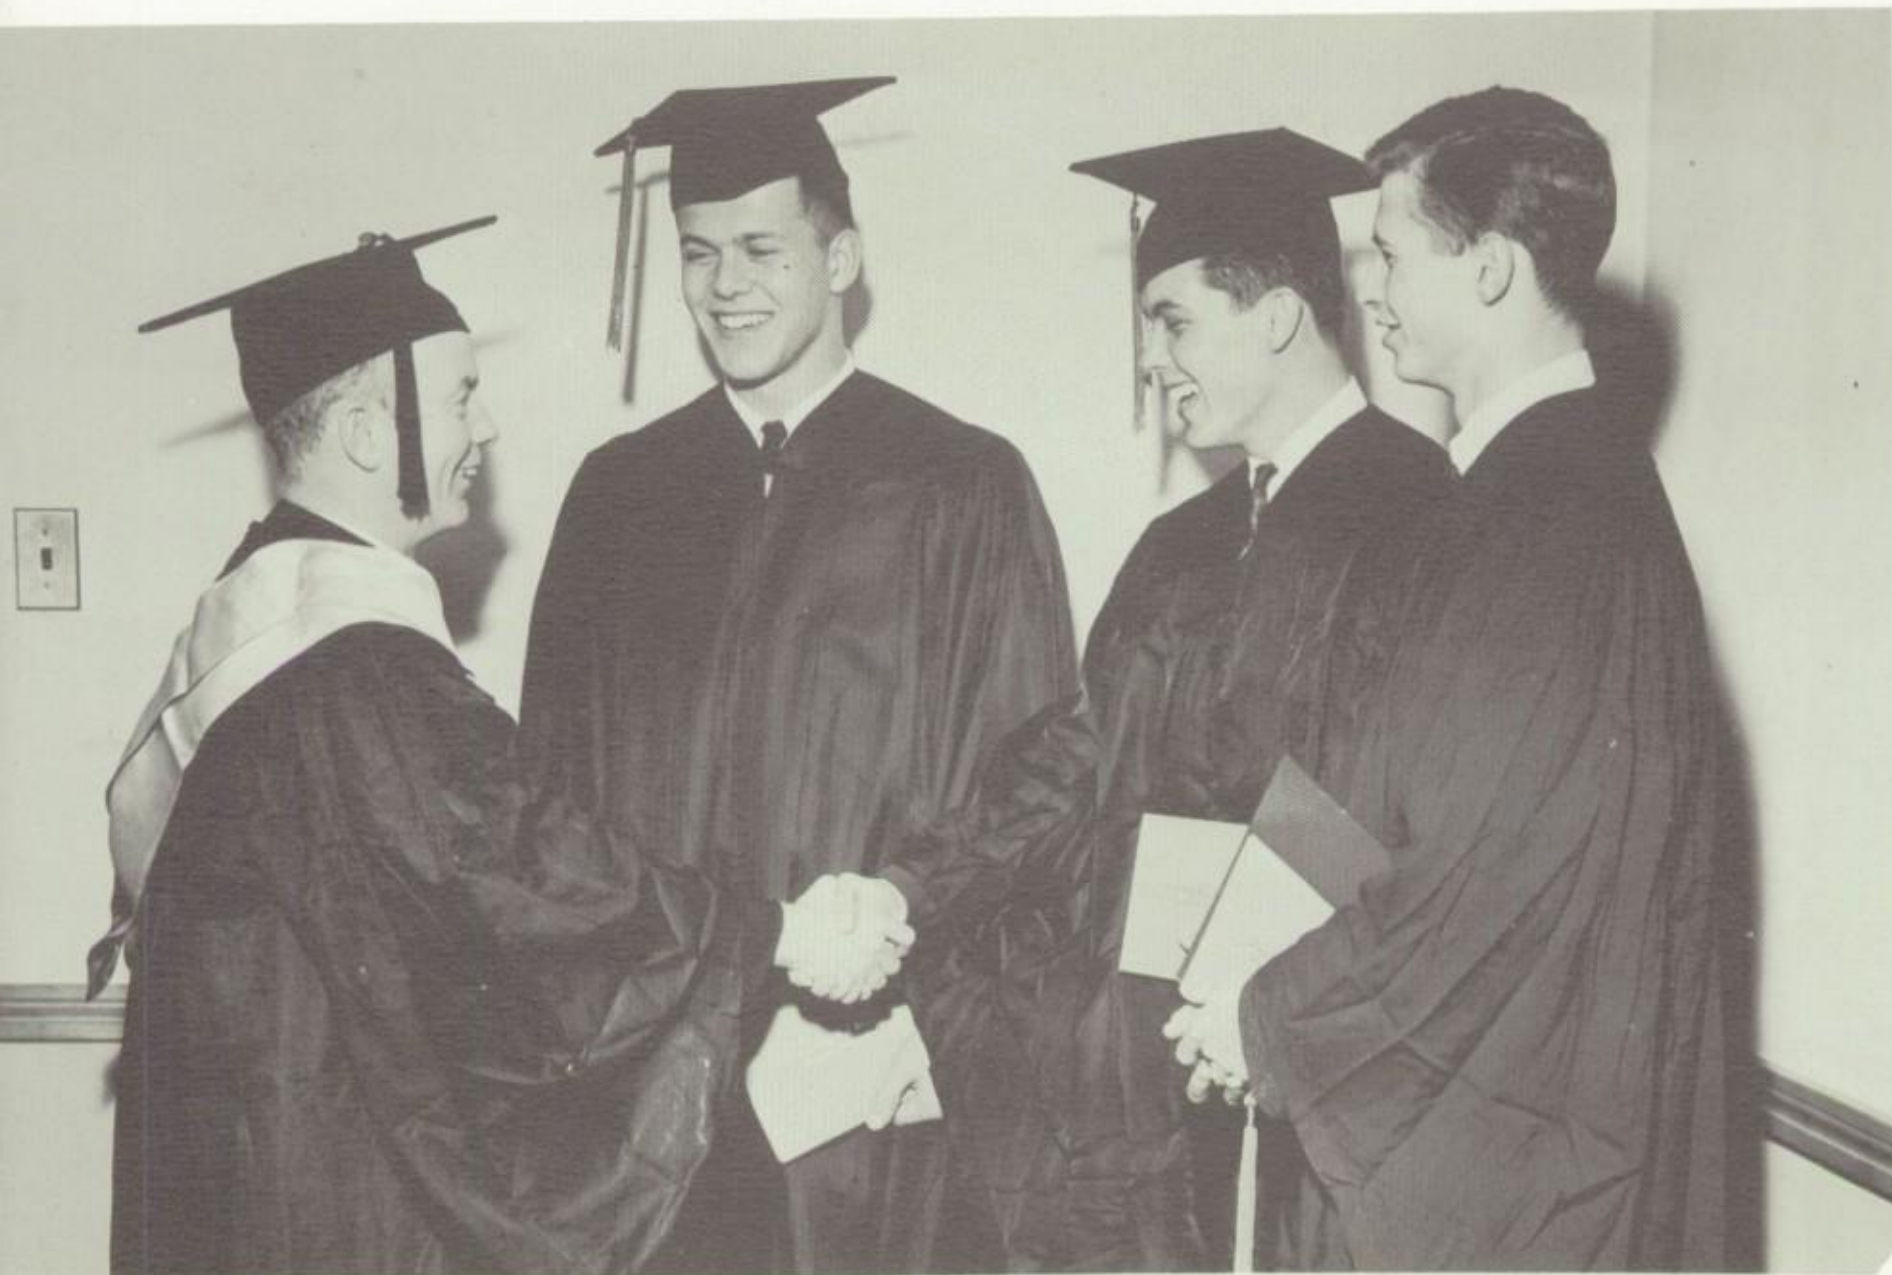

WHAT MORE APPROPRIATE way could there be to end twelve years of Catholic training and to begin our new lives as Catholic laymen than assisting at Mass and Communion? Although some knowledge may fade with time, our Oblate training will remain an integral part of our lives.

THE TREASURED MEMORIES of good times and old friends flashed momentarily across our minds as we slowly entered the church for our last religious exercise as the class of '61. We would soon pursue our separate paths, forever united by our common heritage of sound Christian training.

the final fulfillment

FATHER McVEY, OUR SENIOR MODERATOR, congratulates Charles Brown as Daniel Fahy and Ronald Kochanowicz stand by glowing with justifiable pride in a job well done. In this scene Father McVey displays a touch of humor on our graduation night. It is a perfect example of the balanced blend of informal comradeship which has always been considered an important part of our development. Occasions such as this constitute many of the fond memories which we will take with us.

graduation . . . attaining our goal

THE PROVERBIAL last mile has been covered and we are beckoned by the challenges of the future. We stand ready to enter the world of tomorrow fortified by our hard won Christian virtues and guided by our firm dedication to high moral principles. We have attained our goal.

Having reached a climax in our journey toward Christian manhood, we now arrive at a most important phase in our lives. Our graduation marks the end of many friendships that were made during these four years, but only the beginning of many more. It also marks the acquisition of a new link in the chain of life. We are forced with many decisions. Trustful and prayerful we meet the challenging unknown. We are confident in regard to the outcome of these decisions and our future. We are prepared. "We shall not falter."
